TRIED AND PROVEN

For almost twelve years our institution has stood the exacting test of public approval. During this time it has always protected the interests of its patrons, regardless of local or general financial conditions. The volume of business transacted through our institution, and the number of our patrons, continues to grow—conclusive evidence that our efficient service is appreciated and that our conservative policy is approved by the banking public.

Died—At the home of her son on Soldier Creek between here and Harney, Sunday, June 7, Mrs. Angeline Cherry, aged 70 years. Deceased had not been enjoying good health for some time but her death was not expected at the time, in fact she ate a reasonably hearty supper and played with one of her little grand children an hour before her death. She was the mother of James Kennedy and had been making her home with her son for a time. Heart disease was the cause of death, although in a younger person it would not have proven fatal, her age being too advanced to withstand a weakened heart action.
