

LARGE GATHERING AT EXPERIMENT STATION

The Farmers and Town People Spend a Profitable and Interesting Afternoon Viewing Experimental Crops. Address by Prof. Hyslop of O. A. C. The Crops in Field Inspected

In the neighborhood of 150 people visited the Experiment Station last Sunday afternoon and the time was profitably spent. Prof. Scudder could not come out from Corvallis on account of poor health so Prof. Geo. Hyslop, his able assistant, came instead.

After the crowd had gathered, many of those present being from this city and some farmers from a long distance, Prof. Hyslop assembled the people in front of the residence where he took some pictures. Supt. Breithaupt then outlined the program of the afternoon and was followed by an instructive address by Prof. Hyslop.

The trip over the farm in which the crowd was divided into three squads with Breithaupt, Hyslop and Shattuck in charge, was a most interesting one as each plot was inspected in passing and the men in charge of each squad gave instructive talks on the particular variety of crop on each together with suggestions, such as when to seed, how to cultivate etc. The crops at the Station are looking well with a few exceptions and those who inspected were well repaid. Many interesting things may be seen on the farm and with explanations the information gathered is of great value to the farmer.

Perhaps the most interesting crops on the Station are the field peas and alfalfa, as these are the most profitable and surest that are grown. These crops have proven very successful on the station and there are at least five varieties of peas and two of alfalfa that are particularly adapted to this section and are sure to prove an entire success under almost any weather conditions as they have been given a very thorough test. The Times-Herald did not learn the particular varieties of peas, but the Baltic and Grim varieties of alfalfa have shown marked superiority in resisting frost and drought.

MEASURES TO GO ON BALLOT IN NOVEMBER

Legislature Refers 11 Questions for the Voters. Prohibition and Abolishment of Senate, Party Conventions, Provision for Unemployed on the List. Not so Many as Last Time

A recent press dispatch from Salem, says: The electorate of Oregon will have the privilege of voting upon 29 general measures at the election in November. This is nine less than at the last general election.

Eleven of the general measures were referred by the last Legislature. In addition to the general measures there are three local ones. There were seven at the last election.

Probably the most important amendment to be voted upon provides for state-wide prohibition. It prohibits the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors in the state. John H. Albert, a banker of Salem, and others initiated it.

Another important amendment abolishes the State Senate. It was initiated by the officers of the Oregon State Grange, Oregon State Federation of Labor, People's Power League, Farmers' Union, Farmers' Society of Equity and Proportional Representation Bureau.

An amendment for proportional representation, initiated by the same organizations as the one to abolish the State Senate, provides that every voter may vote for any one aspirant for Representative in the Legislative assembly and no more.

The voter may write or stick on the ballot the name of the person he votes for. The 60 aspirants who receive the greatest number of votes throughout the state shall be declared elected.

Completed petitions were filed for measures designed to put an end to single tax agitation, and restore in part the assembly. They were initiated by David M. Dunne, of Portland. The first measure provides that the Legislative Assembly or the people shall pass a law for uniform and equal rates of assessment and taxation of real and personal property within the state, excepting municipal, educational, liter-

PLEASANT CELEBRATION IN THIS CITY

Larger Crowd Than Expected Participated. Fine Oration Delivered by Dr. Benson. Married Men Defeat Singles at Base Ball. Street Sports And Other Entertainment Good

The several celebrations throughout the county on the 4th were a success in every particular. In Burns there was a larger crowd than had been expected and those present enjoyed the program in its entirety. There were horse races at the fair grounds on Friday afternoon, also an auto race that proved quite exciting.

The forenoon exercises at Tonawama were of a character that appealed to those who attended. The parade didn't come up to former efforts of the kind as there were but few decorated autos in line. The committee offered very liberal prizes for decorated cars but the auto owners were too busy or lazy. The parade was a quite interesting, especially one float drawn by two burros that represented a Ford car and in which three pretty little girls were placed. It attracted much attention. The band music was thoroughly enjoyed and the boys should keep together and give the people some music during the summer months.

M. A. Biggs acted as president of the day and presided at the exercises at the hall. Rev. Lauree of the Baptist church offered an invocation, the orchestra of little violin players under the leadership of Mrs. Dodge was a pleasing feature and the chorus choir rendered two National airs. The oration by Rev. Dr. Benson was one of the finest heard in this city for many years. He did not follow the usual style of such occasions but gave a most inspiring talk on present conditions, giving credit to those who deserve it without any partisan color and in fact made a most favorable impression upon the large audience that listened to him. At the conclusion of the oration Capt. A. W. Gowan, who acted as marshal and lead the parade, proposed three cheers which were given by all present.

The base ball game in the afternoon became tiresome before the nine innings were completed. It proved very amusing if not exciting, although there were a few good plays. The married men were up against it in the first inning as their pitcher proved an easy mark for the boys who batted him all over the pasture but they got Hans Nelson and he turned the tables on the boys and had he been able to finish in the box it is quite evident the score would have been kept down to a very respectable figure, but as he gave out the single fellows again made several runs the final footings being 16 to 15 in favor of the married men.

The sports on the street at 7 o'clock were spoke of as the best ever pulled off in Burns. The committee had arranged for a large number of contests but the ball game kept the crowd at the grounds until such a late hour that the street sports had to be postponed until after the supper hour, thus it was too late to give the entire program. There were several foot races for the younger people, a relay race between the high school boys and the Indians in which the school boys won; a foot race for men in which Brecount won with Frank Clark second. Billy Foren started in this race but he quit with the remark that he was too fat.

A Good Investment.

W. D. Magli, a well known merchant of Whitewood, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. For sale by all dealers.

Water Permits Issued.

During the quarter ending June 30, 1914, State Engineer John H. Lewis issued 147 permits to appropriate public waters. The construction cost of the proposed works is approximately $11,200,000. The proposed ditches and pipe lines aggregate 202 miles in length and provide for the irrigation of 21,587 acres of land; the development of 1,715 horsepower and for the municipal water supply of 6 towns. Fourteen of the above permits were for the construction of reservoirs.

The following permits have been issued for the appropriation of water in Harney County during the past quarter:

H. Sherburn of Denio, for the irrigation of 80 acres, diverting water from Cottonwood Creek in Sec 32, T. 40 S., R. 36 E. W. H. Street of Fife, for the irrigation of 5 acres, diverting water from Buck Creek in Sec. 28, T. 21 S., R. 23 E. A. S. Southworth of Seneca for the irrigation of 143 acres, diverting water from Jimmie Creek in Tp. 16 S., R. 31 E.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble.
When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.
