

FATE OF THE RESOLUTE.

British Economy and the End of Franklin's Exploring Ship. The story of how the brave little exploring ship the Resolute was found by an American vessel in Davis strait after a thousand mile cruise from Melville island without a soul on board is the story of arctic exploration.

A TRAP FOR MARINERS.

Saladina Bank, Off Colombia's Coast, is a Perilous Shoal. One of the most dangerous places for navigation is the Saladina bank, which lies just outside the harbor of Cartagena, Colombia.

Penalties for Sabbath Breaking.

Sabbath breaking in Dundee was an expensive business in former times, to judge by the table of fines, etc., drawn up by the local Guild of Bonnetmakers in 1605.

China's Millions.

Any figures for the population of China must necessarily be more or less unreliable, inasmuch as the census man is not much in evidence in the land of the Celestials.

As She is Spoke in Lancashire.

First Lancashire schoolboy from the top of a passing tramcar to a school friend.

Easy to Remember.

"Bee pardon, sir," observed the tough looking water suggestively.

The Cranky Stage.

"What is the difference between sickness and convalescence, pa?"

Honors come by diligence.

richer springs from economy.—John Francis Davis.

Matched.

Knickers—They seem a well mated pair. Bocker—Oh, yes, botanically. She is a society bud, and he is a blooming idiot.—Twa's Topp.

Not Ideal.

"You and your wife never argue?" "Never," replied Mr. Meekton.

Something Like That.

"Herr Schmidt is so fat that he can't get near enough to his counter to sell goods."

Might and Mane.

Tom Hood, the punster, once described the meeting of a man and a lion, and in doing so he said, "The man ran off with all his might and the lion with all his mane."

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

The Old Time Custom of "Plowing at the Horse's Tail." Animals seem to have no idea of exercising to know where they just turn their backs to the wind and crouch, but perhaps if one had only a limited amount of fuel it would be better just to keep a spark alive till the sun was over than to burn it all out in a few hours.

This custom consisted in lashing the plow team to the horse's tail with a set of ropes and then when one man held the plow, another walked backward before the animal, guiding it with blows of a stick. It seems as though this plan must have coked the plow so high into the air that the point would take no hold on the soil.

JOHN LEGG'S PLAIN TALK.

Made in an Advertisement He Put in the Paper in 1837. Advertising in the Sun three-quarters of a century ago was worded more picturesquely than it is now in some respects. No big type was used, but the advertisements hit the mark without its aid.

The Fog Peril.

One of the great conquests of science for human safety will be the discovery of some effectual means of disclosing to every ship at sea the approach and position of any other vessel which may come near in a fog.

Real Thrift in Derbyshire.

An admirable thrift prevails at a certain Sunday school in Derbyshire, and this is effectually demonstrated at the annual tea party. The needless expense of printing new tickets for this festivity is avoided, says the Manchester Guardian, by the simple expedient of using the same year after year.

Symbolism in Japan.

When a child is born in Japan the parents put up outside the house the sign of a fish or a doll, according as it is a boy or a girl. The fish represents a being who has to swim against the stream and make his way in the world.

When and why did James G. Blaine get his sobriquet, the Plumed Knight?

asked the Boston Globe man, who needn't think everybody has forgotten that Blaine was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1876 and that Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll in placing his name before the national convention launched the sobriquet thus: "Like an armed warrior, like a plumed knight, James G. Blaine marched down the halls of the American congress and threw his shining lance full and fair against the brazen forehead of every defamer of this country and maligner of its honor."

Wees of an Old Time Writer.

High among unconventional writers stands William Pryne, a London journalist in the days when there were no journals, days when a bulky pamphlet took the place of a letter to one's favorite newspaper.
