Miss Mae Barnhart was in from her homestead Wednesday to make proof. The young lady reports an excellent crop of grain this season and will help with the threshing instead of taking a vacation during the hot weather.

Mrs. E. Murray, who recently turned from an extended visit to the East and Canada, came from Drewsey the first of the week. She was a guest at the bland home for a short time and her many friends were delighted to see her.

Chas. S. Johnson, for many years a resident of this county at now of Ontario, has been visiting with his many old time friends in this section this week.

Mr. Johnson now owns a nice acreage home in the suburbs of Ontario and each of his two sons now have tracts, all in a high state of cultivation. Chas. says they are troubled quite a little in his neighborhood with grasshoppers just now but they have rigged up a machine to catch them and are quite successful. They should have asked for a county.

Wonder if the weather of the past several weeks is a forerunner of what will happen in Oregon in November when the vote is taken on prohibition. It's been dry enough for anybody during a good portion of this summer—and hot too.

Hon. R. A. Booth came back from his tour of Malheur county on Wednesday evening and remained in this city until after the arrival of the mail Thursday evening before going on over into Lake county. He was accompanied from here by Mrs. Earl Conser, who has been visiting at the Gault home for several weeks. She and her little daughter go as far as Paisley, their home.

Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie, Ronald McKenzie and Walter Gifford were in the city Tuesday, having made the trip across the mountains from Portland in an auto for a tour of Central Oregon. Dr. McKenzie is one of the best known physicians of the west and has contributed much to the science of medicine both as a practitioner and through papers written for medical journals, the Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals. Dr. McKenzie was a close friend of the late Dr. Marsden of this city. He stated to The Times-Herald that he was out to see the country and get some first-hand information respecting the possibilities of the big territory in here and particularly to observe the highways. The party came over the McKenzie route and expect to return over the Barlow. Mr. Gifford is a writer in charge of the automobile department of the Oregonian and stated he had gotten a better idea of this big country by this trip than he could have ever gotten in a life time by hearsay. The party continued their journey on over to the John Day section.

A Woman's Check The housewife who wants to practice true economy must have a checking account in a sound Bank. If she pays by check she saves the unnecessary disbursement of small sums of money entailing a "mixed up condition" that tries patience, temper, and brings about needless loss of valuable time. This bank extends a courteous, helpful checking service to women. Small accounts are as welcome as large ones. A woman's check is her indisputable receipt for money spent and bills paid.
