Hailed Before the Recorder.

Thursday morning the manager of this great religious weekly received a call from Marshall Haines with the request that he report to the city recorder. Upon reaching his office the newspaper man announced that he was under arrest and asked what the damage would be when Van said "Cut your weeds." That's all there was to it and later inquiry found that at least two of the city councilmen had received similar instructions as well as some 20 or more citizens. Mr. Haines published notice a couple of weeks ago to property owners to cut the weeds on and adjacent to their property, otherwise means would be taken to see that they were cut. This was alright and if the city could provide cutters and necessary tools most of the property owners would be willing to pay for it. The weeds are not only a menace in the way of fire risk, but are unsightly and give the town a very unattractive appearance. Since a majority of 12 have said they are not in favor of bonding for water works it is right that we should use every available means to lessen the fire risk and those who are financially able should at once install a ceptic tank and otherwise provide for the health and safety of their families and property.

There isn't sufficient interest and pride taken by the people of this town in the matter of conveniences and appearances. The business men should be more closely united upon matters of civic interest and thus bring about more desirable results. There was really no reason why the bond election should have been lost as there wasn't any argument of any consequence brought to bear against it, but the indifference of those who did favor it is responsible for its defeat. Several who favored it failed to go and vote.

While on the subject of improvement The Times-Herald wishes to call attention to one place in a cross walk in the residence portion of town that has been in a deplorable condition for at least two months to the certain knowledge of the writer. He has seen two ladies get hard falls there and no doubt there have been others. This should have been fixed long ago. The authorities may be ignorant of this but there is no excuse for it.

Another matter is the bad condition of many side walks in town that are a danger to human bones at night. The Times-Herald man has always had his attention called to any little knot hole in the walks adjoining his place and generally has repairs made without delay but others either are not so prompt or their attention is not called to it. Again, some time ago, in fact three or four years ago, there was an ordinance passed compelling all gates to swing in instead of out on the walks. Wednesday evening of this week the writer was in company with some ladies returning home from the skating rink when one of them received quite a severe shock by coming in contact with a gate that was breaking the law by standing partially ajar on the walk and could not be seen in the darkness.

The Times-Herald offers these suggestions merely to bring attention to the general trend of affairs. The authorities might have them looked after but it would be less personal trouble to them to place street lights that people may pick their way over broken walks and avoid colliding with unlawful gates.

Will Ask to Establish Indian School in Burns

C. S. Heinline, representing the Roseburg Indian Agency, has been in this vicinity for the past week. The gentleman succeeds Mr. Garber who used to come in to look after the Piute Indians of this section.

A Times-Herald reporter yesterday sought an interview with Mr. Heinline regarding his work here and the outlook for bettering the condition of our Piute Indians living all around us, and we are much interested to learn he is making a most diligent inquiry into the actual conditions surrounding these people.

Mr. Heinline said: "The Commissioner of Indian Affairs was most desirous of placing the Indian in a home of his own. The funds to be taken from his bank account, which was received from the sale of his allotment. In order to accomplish this the consent and co-operation of the Indian is necessary. After careful inspection of their methods of living and the fact that they are of a roving disposition, it appears they do not care for permanent places of abode; rather remain within the tepee and feel free to change camp in search of game and fire wood."

When asked regarding the establishment of a school here he said, "That he would strongly urge the erection of a school building in charge of a competent teacher and matron. That they should be instructed in sewing, making garden and caring for their health, thus making useful citizens of the coming boys and girls."

"In the establishment of the school the question of treating Trachoma, now ravishing the entire band, can most successfully be combated. The children could be treated daily until the disease was at least arrested."

The reporter was told the reports from other Indian schools showed this disease and most general troubles had been speedily checked once the boys and girls are carefully instructed in hygiene and the necessity for personal cleanliness.

Regarding the earnest efforts of the Indian office to stop the sale of all intoxicating liquor to all Indians, the Commissioner, in a recent address to the Supervisors assembled in Washington D. C., said:

"I believe the greatest menace to the American Indian is whiskey. It does more to destroy his constitution and invite the ravages of disease than anything else; it does more to make him an easy prey to the unscrupulous than everything else combined. If I say nothing more to you tonight that leaves an impression, let it be this one thought, 'Let us save the American Indian from the curse of whiskey.'"

"There appears to be little direct traffic with the Indian," said Mr. Heinline, "and I am sure all those with whom the Indian comes in close personal contact will certainly agree with the Commissioner that he is a much better neighbor sober and partly industrious than when under the influence of whiskey."

"I want to take this opportunity to thank the gentlemen with whom I have talked over these various matters that so closely affect your community, for the keen interest all have shown and the many courtesies I have received. All have promised their hearty co-operation and support in doing something to better the conditions now existing."

Warrant Call.

Notice is hereby given that there is money on hand to pay all general fund warrants registered prior to October 1, 1914. Interest ceases July 26, 1915. R. A. MILLER, County Treasurer.

Gilcrest Shows Some Grit.

Supt. John Gilcrest, of the P. L. S. Co., met with a very serious and painful accident last Saturday. The accident occurred in Silveia Valley where he was in company with some friends on his way home from a tour of the company ranches over in Malheur county. They had their lunch with them and had stopped for purpose of eating it. Mr. Gilcrest, who had but recently recovered from a severe operation and was still weak, was leading the way from car to the shade by a stream and was in a stooping position going under some brush when he caught his toe under a projecting root and to recover himself he threw his weight heavily upon his left foot with the result that he dislocated his hip and also broke his leg near the hip.

His friends made him as comfortable as possible and he insisted upon the party eating lunch first and then plan a way of getting him into the car and on to town. The trip was finally accomplished but he suffered very much from his injuries. His physicians did not at first discover the broken bone but when the dislocated hip would not stay in place an X-Ray-plate disclosed it. Mr. Gilcrest is now lying on his back with his feet higher than his head, the injured leg packed in sand bags with a heavy weight to his leg. He is very cheerful under the circumstances considering he will have to remain in that position for several weeks.

Mr. Gilcrest had tendered his resignation as superintendent of the P. L. S. Co. to take effect the early part of next month and was making a last tour of the ranches to give final instructions and to meet personally many of the men who had been under him for so many years. He had expected to leave for his home in California next week but now he is forced to remain until his condition will permit his removal.

Making a Long

Tour in Automobiles

The Times-Herald representative met a couple of ladies in one of the drug stores of this city the other day, who, in company with other members of their families, were on a long tour in automobiles. One lady, Mrs. Charles Marey, stated they had left their home in Canaan, Ohio, on June 5 and had covered the entire distance to San Francisco in their car, toured California after seeing all the interesting points en route from the east and were now on their return trip through this portion of Oregon. The other lady, Mrs. R. R. Pattison, resides at Hutchinson, Kas, and had joined the Marey party on the long tour.

They went from here to Boise and their homeward journey will take them through the Yellow Stone Park and other such scenic sections will also be visited.

An Interesting Demonstration.

A news item, that should prove of more than ordinary interest to the ladies of this county, has just reached this office. Mr. W. L. Van De Water, representing Allen & Lewis, wholesale grocers of Portland, will be in Burns Saturday, Aug. 7th, for the purpose of demonstrating the Preferred Stock brand of highest grade groceries and canned goods. Mr. I. Schwartz, at whose store the demonstration will take place, has stated to the writer, that he does not know just what the nature of the demonstration will be; but he is confident that no one who is interested in domestic economy and domestic sense, can afford to miss it. So a cordial invitation is extended to every one to be present at the demonstration, Saturday, Aug. 7th at the store of I. Schwartz.

Cured of Indigestion.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done. For sale by all dealers."

I hereby give notice that I will not be responsible for any debts or obligated by any transactions made by John A. Oard. Mary A. Oard. Bundles for the Steam Laundry can be left at the Capital and Star barber shops.

Purington Saw Mill Has 1,000,000 Feet Lumber

The Times-Herald family had a most pleasant day at the Purington saw mill last Sunday where they enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Purington for the day. This is a beautiful spot in which to spend a hot day with some of the finest cold spring water ever tasted. The writer was conducted over the big plant and through the yard where an exceptionally fine lot of lumber is piled ready for trade. Mr. Purington has already cut over 1,000,000 feet this season and is getting in logs for more. The mill proper will be closed down today, however, for a short time while some of the men put up the hay on the meadow close by and others will run the planing mill to capacity until a sufficient class of surface lumber has been put through.

A tramp through the timber adjacent to the mill disclosed a fine body that will supply the plant for several years. This is an ideal location for such a manufacturing enterprise with adequate facilities and machinery of a modern pattern. The buildings are scattered about at convenient distances and so located as to reduce the fire risk, with water piped from big springs to elevations above the main buildings and machinery that a gravity water system of considerable importance has been completed.

The drive is pleasant up the mountain by way of Harney and an auto can be driven up over a good road. The return trip is most enjoyable as on the way one reaches an elevation of 7,500 feet, bringing one high above the valley and giving an excellent view while coasting down the mountain.

U. S. Agricultural Department Man Here

C. R. Ball, a representative of the U. S. Agricultural Department, arrived in this city the fore part of this week and has spent some time inspecting the Experiment Station. Mr. Ball has the northwest states as his field of action and makes regular inspections of the several experiment stations within his territory. The Times-Herald has had no opportunity to interview Mr. Ball but he is reported by Supt. Breithaupt as being quite good natured; however, he has made no particular comment upon conditions as he has found them.

Mr. Ball is accompanied by D. E. Stephens who has charge of the experiment station at Moro. Mr. Breithaupt has taken the gentleman on a tour of the Valley and they have had an opportunity of observing what is being done by the farmers.

Agricultural Meeting Are Held Over The County

Obil Shattuck, County Agriculturist. The meetings held by Profs. H. D. Scudder and R. E. Reynolds at Sunset, Beckley and Lawen were well attended, considering the busy season of the year. The meeting at Sunset was especially successful and the amount of interest displayed by those present was very gratifying. Profs. Scudder and Reynolds were kept busy answering questions fully thirty minutes after the meeting was dismissed. Several farmers requested the County Agriculturist to call and ro over their farms with them.

Mr. Henny, the Sunset demonstrator, has made a splendid showing on extremely sandy land, with alfalfa, field peas and potatoes. He also has a very fair stand of cereals and stock beets. Call and see Mr. Henny and he will give you his idea of dry-farming on summer fallowed land. The meetings scheduled for Harney City and Drewsey were not held, due to lack of interest displayed by the residents of these sections. However Mr. and Mrs. James Piere and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis were on hand at Harney.

Better Than Life Insurance.
