An East Indian Prince Who Did Not known English writer, tells the follow-

Pure Logic. Liberty commands the highest price of all known things. Its price is so high that nobody can pay it.

Proof. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Eternal vigilance is to be ever on the job. To be ever on the job is to have no leisure or vacation. To siave. To be a slave is not to have tiberty. Therefore in order to be free we must enslave ourselves, which is absurd. Q. E. D.-Judge

BRAWNY NORWEGIANS.

They Are the Longest Lived People In

The fine stature and unique physical qualities of the athletic Norsemen are thus described by Price Collier in an article on "Norway and the Norweglaus, From an American Point of View," in Scribner's Magazine:

"The so called bonder, or agricultural peasantry, form the very backbone of the nation in Norway. Each is proprietor of his own farm, and they occupy the country from the shore of the sea to the foot of the bills and up every gien or valley as far as corn will grow. They are, as a rule, fine looking, athletic men, as their properties are not so large as to exempt them from work, but large enough to supply them and the old days they built their own houses, made their own furniture, plows, carts, harness, ironwork, woodwork and basketwork. Probably there are no communities anywhere else in the world so self efficient, so independent and no comparishing.

ent and so comfortable.
"Indeed, their size and wholesome aspect prove this, for they are the fairest livet people in the world today,

"In the streets of the towns, at the farms, on the roads, one seldom sees a fat man or one who looks unwieldy. They are sturdily, sometimes beavily, built, but they are lean in the flank, broad of shoulder and thick through, and, though they do not always carry themselves lightly or gracefully, they look to have plenty of room for the working machinery of living, for heart and lungs and digestive apparatus, Wherever you go in Norway, from Christiansand to the North cape, you cannot go far without going up and ould have been blown up with dynalife, but that would have meant the

The Origin of "Hurrah."

The word "hurrah" is pure Slavo-plan and is commonly heard from the coast of Dalmatia to Bering strait when any of the population living within these limits is called on to give proof of courage and valor. The oritive idea that every man that dies heroically for his country goes straight to heaven-Huray, to paradise and in the shock and order at battle the combatants after that cry, as the ing himself by the certitude of imme-diate recompense to forget earth and

How Indiana Purified Water. The Indians had a way of purifying water from a pond or swamp by digdown about six inches below the ievel a few feet from the pond. After it was filled with water they bailed it out quickly, repeating the balling proess about three times. After the third balling the hole would be filled with filtered water. Try it.-Hoy Scout
