No one is authorized to collect for either fares or freight for the Bend-Burns Auto & Truck Company, except Dell Dibble, Frank Dibble, John Collins or Jay Salzman.—Frank Dibble.

A good way to let the other fellow get a start is to just sit around and let him without giving our own affairs the attention they deserve. This is the case with the business men of Burns who are not making an effort to get together.

Although the season has been very dry with no rain for a long period, stockmen report that the range in the mountains and in fact the entire summer range districts, have held out well and water holes have so far provided water for stock. This is rather remarkable considering the shortage of water in the streams.

A Portland man has suggested that "If we can bring together the idle lands of Oregon, the idle man and the idle money, the problem of unemployed will solve itself." He's right but how's he going to do it? There's lots of idle land throughout this section but the idle man without some means cannot bring about a change in conditions. The Portland man may yet solve the problem.

What is the use of wailing about things that can't be helped? We are going to have a dry state after the first of January and spelling about personal freedom and such is not going to help matters in the least. "Booze" is a back number and we're going to see what an effect it is going to have. The young fellow that shot Marshal Haines would not be facing a penitentiary if he hadn't had booze.

Hank Felton says the Thursday evening skating for beginners and children at Tonawana has proven popular with the ladies. He will continue Thursday night of each week for beginners and children until further notice. Ladies only on Thursday nights.

The Canyon City correspondent to the Baker Herald says that Vic Cozad and friends were over in this county last week shooting ducks. That was a bad slip to give the district attorney away for he knows the duck season is yet closed. District Attorney Sizemore of this county will make an investigation of the matter and have Vic over before the grand jury that meets next week.

Married—Thursday, in this city, by Rev. A. K. MacRae of the Baptist church, Charles Waid and Miss Dora Curtis. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Haines and has resided all her life in the vicinity of the lake. Mr. Waid has been in the employ of the Hanley company for some time. They left the following day for a motor tour to the fair at San Francisco accompanied by Geo. Cawfield and wife. The Times-Herald wishes them a happy life.

Mrs. E. E. Purington and Mrs. A. C. Welcome arrived last Sunday evening from San Francisco where they had been to see the fair. The former was accompanied down by her daughter, Miss Helen, who later came back to Eugene where she again took up her studies in the University for the coming year. Mrs. Welcome was only absent three weeks and she reports having had a fine time but didn't get to see as much of the fair as she desired. Both are enjoying good health.

Married—Monday at the farm home of the bride near this city, Bert Penington and Mrs. Sarah E. McLaren, Rev. A. K. MacRae of the Baptist church performing the ceremony. Both are well known in this vicinity and their many friends extend best wishes.

James Hicks and wife arrived home Wednesday from a motor tour of California and other point of interest. They were absent several weeks, visiting Fresno, Sacramento and other California towns besides taking in the fair at San Francisco. They met with an accident in Sacramento by colliding with the curb to prevent running into two other machines on the street. Their car was badly smashed and Mrs. Hicks received some severe cuts on the face.

Several autos containing the pupils of Mrs. M. V. Dodge, the violin teacher, and some of their parents and friends left this morning for Canyon City where the little violinists are going to give a concert tonight. The affair was suggested by music lovers in Canyon and the proceeds are donated to the churches over there after the actual expenses are deducted. The Times-Herald is proud of talent developed by Mrs. Dodge and is sure our neighbor town will appreciate the program rendered.

The Burns post office handles more parcel post than any other office in the United States of the same class. This statement was made last week by an inspector who was here. This gives one an idea of the immense volume of business transacted through this office and the importance of this place as a distributing point. The statement further should show the department that it is foolish to expect a reasonable bid under the advertised change in the delivery of the mail as a contractor must equip to handle an immense quantity of parcel post and further knows that it will be only a matter of less than a year when he will have his contract annulled as the completion of the railroad into Harney Valley will necessitate a practical change in the routing.

Married—Wednesday, Sept. 22, Jerry Dillon Jr. and Miss Ella Johnson, Justice of the Peace A. H. Curry of Harriman, performing the ceremony. Both are well known people of the Lawen neighborhood where the bride has resided all her life. She is an accomplished young lady, a graduate of the Harney county high school and spent some time in Portland taking a course as a trained nurse. Mr. Dillon is a young man who is highly respected by his wide acquaintance and has held positions of trust. They will make their home in that section. The Times-Herald joins their many friends in extending congratulations.

There is considerable change being made in the Masonic building, besides the enlargement of the lodge room on the second floor the roof is being raised and the ventilation improved.

Bids are advertised for the sale of 37 different tracts of Indian lands in this section. The bids are to be opened on Nov. 15. Those interested may secure descriptions of the tracts, together with other information by application to the Roseburg Indian office or by seeing Wm. Farre at the U. S. land office in this city. Some of this land is of the best in the Valley and the appraisal is reasonable.

Clyde Embree was up from his Sunset farm the fore part of this week with a load of Harney Valley grown watermelons. The force at this office invested in three and found them very lucious and of particular fine flavor. We were lucky for only a short time after Clyde had left the office his team took a notion to run away and they did the thing up proper, scattering melons along the street for some distance and finally were stopped by butting into a high board fence at the Horton lumber yard which ends on a blind street.

The report comes from Portland that a consultation of leading physician had diagnosed a case of big jaw was the trouble with Nicholas Robinson. Nick had what was considered an abscess on the face when he came in from the ranch after vacation and later went to Portland in company with his brother Dewey where they are attending school this winter. A physician was called to treat Nick and he was somewhat puzzled and asked other medical men in to consult with him. This is a disease not uncommon among cattle throughout the range section, but the writer had never heard of a human being afflicted before.
