Alfalfa, field peas and hogs are a success in this big country. Who cares whether the aluminum mines pay big profits or not?

The railroad committee continues busy and it is hoped definite arrangements may be perfected soon whereby Burns will know just what railroad development may be expected in this immediate vicinity.

The timber on the north of this valley has much value that will bring transportation in the immediate future even though Burns should simply wait, but that isn't the program—Burns is not going to wait for anything except the most feasible place to bring that line from the road now building into the Valley at Crane Creek Gap. When this is determined we're going to get busy. Burns is going to be the terminus for a time at least.

When profitable crops are grown on dry land in the Harney Valley in a season as void of moisture as the past one has been, it's a cinch it will make a farming country that will hold its own under any possible circumstances. What if every acre in this big Valley were producing as the small portion does that is under cultivation? The Times-Herald hesitates to give the figures, but it would keep Mr. Farrell's Strahorn's Hills and then some more railroads busy. That's what it is coming to.

C. B. McConnell's success in securing capital to finance the big irrigation project is hailed with much satisfaction by those interested in the development of the country. It will be a strong factor in inducing railroad building to this city besides make the surrounding country the most productive portion of the entire Central Oregon. There is no question of the feasibility of this enterprise and the water is there—in fact has been a menace to the lands that were overflooded for many years—and people are going to welcome a project that will take care of the flood and give this land an opportunity to produce as it should. The Times-Herald hopes the adjudication proceedings may go forward as rapidly as possible in order to clear the way for active work on this project.

Telegrams Being Sent

Manager James Weston of the Juntura-Burns Telephone & Telegraph Co. has made the connections whereby telegrams may be sent and received right here in Burns and the first message passed over the wire on Wednesday. This convenience is one that has long been a need and the excellence of the equipment and secrecy together with the insurance of no mistake will bring much business to this concern.

This company has direct connections with the Western Union Telegraph Co. and with attractive tariff rates it has excellent facilities for such business. Mr. Weston has been notified by the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. that they are extending their line to a connection with the Juntura-Burns line at Vale.

Nitrate Deposits Near

This City Inspected
 J. G. Richardson of the Oregon corporation department, has recently made an inspection of the aluminum and nitrate deposits its in this vicinity and finds a large area covered but he is not prepared to say whether there is sufficient to justify getting it out or not.

This is the report he made upon his return from this city a short time ago. So far as he is concerned in his official capacity it is not necessary that he should know whether it is in paying quantities or not, however. The deposits are found over a great area of this country there have been several investigations the possibilities of mining it and developing it. So far there has been no definite arrangements made with any concern big enough to handle it those interested are confined with the advent of the railroad that the field will be developed.

Foot Ball Boys Defeated.

The football game last Saturday played between the Harney County High School boys and the John Day eleven resulted in a score of 43 to 0 in favor of the local team. The Burns boys, however, gave evidence of the proper metal and although they realized that they were outclassed with weight they fought their way to the end with sportsmanlike determination and they received the compliments of the crowd that witnessed the game. They were a bunch of gentlemen—

A fair sized crowd witnessed the game, although the early morning weather conditions were foreboding. Despite the score the game was well contested. In the evening the boys from Burns were entertained at a banquet and they returned home the following day. The line-up was as follows:

Harney Co. Bennett	Position	John Day
L. G. R.	Riplay
L. T. R. F.	Belshaw
L. E. R.	Timms
C.	Mallory

Girl Shoots Persistent Suitor.

Frank McBurney, a homesteader in the Catlow Valley, was shot four or five times by Miss Kate Pick last Friday morning. Dr. Geary was called to minister to the wounded man and reports he has one wound in the leg and was shot at least three times and possibly four in the abdomen but it is evident no intestines were severed as the man is reported improving.

According to report the man went to the home of the girl during the absence of her father and persisted in his suit to such an extent that the girl resented it and shot him with a .32-caliber revolver, emptying the five chambers and reloaded it and fired another.

The wounded man walked some distance to another neighbor before he could get any aid or send for a physician. McBurney is a man between 45 and 50 years old. We do not know the age of Miss Pick. McBurney is in this vicinity for a time, we are informed, and worked for Sheriff Goodman. The girl was taken in custody and brought here. So far no preliminary has been held and The Times-Herald does not feel it the proper time to make any further comment.

Austin J. Cummings and Miss Beasie Waddell were married at Drewsey on Wednesday of last week by Rev. Heathcote. Mr. Cummings is a farmer in the Buchanan section. The Times-Herald wishes them a happy life.

Benefits of Railroad to Central Oregon Detailed

What the construction of railroads into the vast interior empire of Oregon will mean to the state and to business is outlined in an official statement by George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, published in the Journal. Mr. Hardy says:

"In the minds of many Oregonians no more opportune time could have been framed by destiny for the submission of the project to build the Oregon, California & Eastern railway through central Oregon.

"Oregonians need the employment that will result from its construction.

"Oregon business needs the stimulant that will come from the expenditure of $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 during the next few months.

"With 50 per cent of all labor employed by manufacturing in Oregon dependent on the lumber industry, and with that tremendous force largely at work on short time, and with idle men drifting to Oregon from every direction, it is apparent that a revival of business is to be expected only from providing labor for willing hands.

"In the construction of the Oregon, California & Eastern railway materials will be used that are largely home products. If the sum of $1,500,000 asked of Oregon in financing the project is put up, the money will come right back where it was secured. It will be like transferring $1,500,000 from pocket to pocket in the same pair of trousers. The raising of that sum of money is necessary to show Oregon's faith in an empire that will produce $150,000,000 annually. The prompt raising of that sum will make it possible to secure the balance of $4,500,000 from eastern sources. And probably from 65 to 75 per cent of the eastern money will remain in this state.

"These advantages are, however, only temporary ones. Permanent benefits will be realized when the railroad is in full operation and the great quantities of local products grown east of the Cascade mountains begin to move to market. Portland will be the gateway for outgoing shipments, and at the same time a splendid market will be opened in central southeastern Oregon for those articles of commerce that are handled by Portland merchants. "Eighty-five per cent of the goods now consumed in southeastern Oregon are shipped in from Boise and Salt Lake.

"A splendid committee from the Chamber of Commerce has been selected to aid Robert E. Strahorn in financing the Oregon end of the scheme. It consists of A. L. Mills, president First National bank; J. C. Ainsworth, president United States National Bank; W. M. Ladd, president Ladd & Tilton bank; Nathan Strauss, manager Fleisher Mayer company; Franklin T. Griffith, president Portland Railway, Light & Power company; C. C. Colt, president of the Union Meat company.

"During the past week a delegation of business men from Burns, Or. has been in the city to confer with the promoters of the road in hopes of having their district given service by the Oregon, California & Eastern railway. They were entertained at dinner Monday evening by Frank E. Smith, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The Burns men present were Geo. Fry, Sam Mothershead, Judge H. C. Levens, J. L. Gault, Leon M. Brown, C. H. Leonard and Bob McKinnon."

DAVID MILLER.

The tragic end of an old and respected pioneer brings grief to many of the people of this section where Mr. Miller was so well and favorably known. His death occurred in the fire destroyed the Cummins hospital just after midnight yesterday morning. He had undergone an operation for cataract a few days before and was recovering from it most satisfactorily. It is quite evident he was overcome by heat and smoke that prevented his getting out and the charred remains were found in the ruins of the building, a short time after the fire had subsided sufficient to search.

David Miller was born in this state in what was then Wasco county August 12, 1851. He spent the early part of his life in the Willamette Valley returning to Prineville in 1881 and moving to this county in 1884.

He held several responsible positions in this section, being an employe of the P. L. S. Co. for a time later taking a position with a mercantile firm in Drewsey and finally became a part owner of the business. A few years ago he moved to a farm in company with his brother R. A. Miller, where he had resided since.

Mr. Miller was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends throughout this country. He was a most conscientious man who met his obligations promptly. He is survived by his brother, County Treasurer Miller, there being no other close relatives living.

Arrangements Considered For Indian School Here

Chas. S. Heinline, an attaché of the Indian service, arrived here from his headquarters at Roseburg last Sunday evening to take up the proposition of a day school for the local Piute Indians mention of which has been made in these columns. Mr. Heinline found local business men ready to give him any assistance in respect to this proposition with the result that it is practically settled that a school will be opened in this city in the immediate future.

Mr. Heinline has taken an option the C. E. McPheeters place adjoining the river, a very desirable location with a seven-room house and one acre of ground suitable for a play ground and a garden. It is the intention to have an instructor and his wife come who will take entire charge of the Indian children as to their cleanliness, clothing, etc. The local business men have volunteered to furnish what ever furniture necessary in the way of tables, benches, etc. to start the school and the children are also to receive their noon day meal at the school where they will be taught to prepare it and also given other industrial training.

Mr. Heinline has made a detailed report of the situation to the Department and expects to have the school in readiness to open by the first of December. The gentleman will give out a considerable quantity of blankets and tents to the indigent Indians next Monday, he having had 24 pair of woolen blankets and 14 large tents shipped in for that purpose.

When Baby Has the Croup.

When a Mother is awakened from a sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. For sale by all dealers.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps us Strong and Healthy
 All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—which vary widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

Mrs. George Bell, Washington St., Klamath Falls, Ore., says: "I have suffered from pains in my back, due to disordered kidneys. The kidney secretions were also unnatural, causing me annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me."

Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bell had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
