Garfield is the man who took the wind out of Congress. And Congress is now retaliating with the measure to break down the administration. All of the I. W. W. are not in overalls. Congress has its share. Congress is no place for a pin-head politician with his peanut politics. The work of congress should be limited to passing appropriation bills. That is about as far as their authority should go. They have been investigating "red tape" for months and then when Garfield cuts it without consulting them they are grieved. We need men of action, not men of words. If the people of the nation need words they can get a good supply in the dictionary and they do not have to depend on congress.—Blue Mt. Eagle.

He is the same jolly fellow and greets his old friends with the same smile and hearty handshake.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS IN FRANCE

Raymond Anderson, Dist. 28 We think much of our gallant soldier boys Over in "Sunny France". They'll make it hot for the Germans, They'll make the Kaiser dance.

Our soldier boys from Harney County, The land of the coyote, snake, and cat.— They went to France to whip the Germans, And did not go there just to spat.

The Germans shot a few of them, And though their flag was reft, The Stars and Stripes shall ne'er go down, While there's a soldier left.

The Germans shot a few of them, And thought their flag was struck. But for every soldier in his grave A thousand are springing up!

Our soldier boys in kahki Led the Kaiser a merry dance. And very soon the Germans Will be vacating France.

When the clouds of war rose black, O'er our country of the brush, Our soldiers chased the Germans For victory has its flush.

Our soldier lads from Harney county, Where the coyotes yell at dawn, Where there's a nickle rabbit bounty They went swiftly striding on.

We send our lads, the best we have As they go o'er dale and hill, And if its war they're looking for, They'll surely get their fill.

Then despair not, O soldier boy Fighting for Uncle Sam We're sending you beans and bacon And a good old home-cured ham.

Very Few People

Read an ordinary advertisement entirely through. If I were able to write a fifty word ad. that would catch and hold the attention of ninety per cent of the readers who glanced at it, I would not be trying to make a living in the garage business.

If you have gotten this far you may as well finish. Your car may only need some slight adjustments or it may need a thorough overhauling. At any rate, you can save time and money by having it done NOW, while you, as well as ourselves, are not very busy; also we can afford to do it much cheaper than later when we are rushed with spring work.
