MAKING
Both Ends Meet
Depends Largely Upon
Where You Trade!

This store makes a point of serving you both economically and well. It keeps the goods that you want, of the quality and serviceability that you require, but sells them at a margin of profit so close that the prices are automatically reduced below those of other stores.

Hence "making both ends meet" in these days of sky-rocket prices is not such a difficult matter when you buy from us.

Some houses make low prices on SOME things but we keep the price down on EVERYTHING. That is the difference.
