

HAVE MANY GOOD REMEDIES

Chinese Physicians by No Means All Ignorant of Fine Points of Their Profession.

Writing of a recent decree of the Chinese government, permitting an opinion on the human body, Millard's Review (Shanghai) says that it is only lately that Chinese doctors discovered that the bodies of Orientals had the same internal arrangement as those of Occidentals. They had been taught that the organs were arranged much in the manner of a modern office building with the elevator shaft as the connecting medium. But it adds: "It must be admitted, however, that the Chinese practitioners, through long experience and through the custom of handing down medical secrets from one generation to another, do have many excellent native remedies. One Chinese medical treatise indicates no less than 98 different types of pulse, and another form of treatment is that of puncturing the body with a needle. A chart of the human body contains 700 spots which are indicated as the places where it is safe to insert a needle without injuring a vital organ. Quinine as a medicine has long been known in China. Belief in the efficacy of the human body in relation to future life has up to the last few years prevented the use and development of surgery."

Play at Something.

Are you one of those who laugh at those who ride hobbies? Did you ever notice that a man doesn't amount to much who isn't a little batty over something outside of the way he makes a living.

Look around at the unusual men and women you know and see if all of them haven't sidelines in the way of work. These queries are due to a story of a big man who "clears his mind" every evening by driving a motorcar through the worst traffic in the world. He could just as well take easier routes, hire an expert chauffeur or not drive at all, but the trip makes him forget such little things as money deals and big operations.

Use every day some portions of your body other than those with which you make a living, either mind or muscle. Just because you're grown is no reason why you should not play.—Toledo Blade.

MOVIES MUST DRIP GLOOM

Picture Dramas That Have Happy Endings Can Never Attain Popularity in Russia.

Four and five-act movie dramas of the highly emotional and sentimental kind are popular in Russia. Cowboy activities, murders and burglaries do not appeal to these audiences. Rough comedy is wasted even on the cheapest Russian audience. They do not understand it.

American pictures, as a rule, do not appeal to the Russian taste. They want a drama woven usually around the "eternal triangle"; the men must be ardent lovers, and the women weak but noble.

A weeping mother or the deathbed of a beloved father is always very impressive. There must be a death in the drama, preferably the suicide of hero or heroine, with the other one going into the cloister at the end. The ideal picture play for Russian popular audiences must not, under any circumstances, have a happy ending.

The Russians use a great deal of descriptive and explanatory material on the films in showing their own dramas. They depend upon it largely for the "action." They do not care nearly so much for action in the pictures as for postures indicating emotions. Amatory and deathbed scenes should always be photographed to the last detail, but nearly everything else may be written and read.

IN DAYS OF PONY EXPRESS

Service, of Course, Would Be Laughed at Now, But Was Really Remarkable Then.

The pony express, a romantic feature of the West of that day, was part of a mail line from New York to San Francisco. Between St. Joseph, Mo., the western terminus of the railway, and Sacramento, the distance was traversed by horsemen mounted on swift and durable ponies, each of which traveled sixty miles, and then turned over his mail bags to another. The weight carried was not to exceed ten pounds, and the charge was $5 in gold for each quarter of an ounce.

A letter or parcel weighing an ounce, now carried for 3 cents, cost $20 in the days of the pony express. By the aid of the pony carriers the distance between New York and San Francisco was covered in 14 days, a truly remarkable performance, considering the vast distance and the character of the country traversed by the brave riders. The horsemen were in constant danger in many sections of the route from hostile Indians, but they were well paid, their salary being $1,200 a month. The pony express lasted two years, being abandoned when the telegraph line across the continent was completed.

How Do Men Break Down?

Be assured that there is no chance of your breaking down—although there will be times when you will try to fool yourself with this idea. This thought of breaking down indeed is one of the illusions of mediocrity. It is the excuse which every lazy man presents to himself. It is moral astigmatism. The great fact is that men do not break down from overwork so much as is commonly supposed. As they go upward in the scale of increased activity, increased responsibility only acts upon them as a natural stimulant and carries them along. If hard work and worry killed men so easily, most of the successful business men of America would be dead already. No! What kills men is due more to what they take into their stomachs rather than what they take into their minds.—Physical Culture.

First American Legislature.

The first colonial assembly to enjoy the right of initiating legislation was the Maryland assembly, which convened in 1635 and was composed of representatives of the whole people—a purely democratic legislature. In the beginning every adult male citizen was permitted to sit in the assembly, but with the increase in population it was found necessary to limit the number although there was still no legal restriction on the number of delegates the people might send.

Under the charter Lord Baltimore had the power of enacting all necessary laws for the colony, "with the advice, consent and approbation of the freemen of the province." The assembly demanded the right of initiating legislation, however, and this was granted by Lord Baltimore in 1638 and the following year the assembly met and enacted the first statutes of Maryland. In their law-making the pioneer Marylanders were entirely independent of the British parliament and enjoyed a greater degree of autonomy than any other English colony.

COOPER TO PROVE FAMOUS THEORIES

His Remarkable Medicine Accomplishing Wonderful Results in Leading Cities

Referring to the visit to Portland and other western cities of Mr. L. T. Cooper, the millionaire philanthropist and lecturer, who has commanded such wide spread interest in the East with his health theories and celebrated medicine, Tanlac, E. C. Harris, his representative recently said in Portland:

"Thousands of the most prominent people of Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, Salt Lake City, Detroit, Louisville, Dallas, Atlanta, Memphis, and other cities, where his celebrated medicine has been accomplished even more enthusiastically over Tanlac than Mr. Cooper himself."

"As previously stated, Mr. Cooper contends that nine tenths of the diseases and ill-health of the average person is due to a catarrhal condition, which produces faulty digestion and improper assimilation of the food."

"In a recent interview, Mr. Cooper was asked if Tanlac would relieve kidney trouble, liver complaint, rheumatism, and a dozen other ailments, and in this connection, said:

"As I have repeatedly said; my medicine acts directly upon the mucous membrane, stomach and blood, expelling from them the impurities and toxic poisons, and rendering to them a strong, healthy condition. I am convinced that the stomach regulates the condition of the blood, and is the fountain head of health or disease, as the case may be. My medicine is intended primarily for the regulation of the stomach and catarrhal inflammation, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used it to come to me and explain that it has relieved them of rheumatism and many other ailments, not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach trouble."

"The ingredients or medicinal elements which make Tanlac, come from many remote sections of the earth—the Alps, the Pyrenees, Russian Asia, West Indies, mountain states near the Rocky Mountains, Mexico, and Peru are among the points from which the principal parts of the preparation are obtained. In cency shown by the uniform preparation—Tanic." Tanlac is now sold in Burns by Reed Bros.

Russia is going through the successive stages of unsuccessful war. Famine dog the footsteps of war, and pestilence follows famine.

The eagle of victory does not seem to care particularly for perching on the Hun banner. Perhaps the dove of peace will be more obliging.
