

First National Bank Burns, Oregon

To my friends and Patrons of the First National Bank:

With the close of the present month, the writer, after twelve and one-half years service as cashier of this bank, retires from its active management to assume responsibilities elsewhere.

During these years the bank has grown and prospered, developing from its childhood, so to speak, into a strong, solid financial institution, commanding respect and attention far beyond the geographical lines of south-eastern Oregon, whose interests it has aided and helped to develop, and whose patrons it has so effectively served.

* To my many friends who have assisted by their patronage and kindly word of commendation in the upbuilding of this institution, I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation. While distance may separate us, my interest in this section and its people will continue, and my mind will frequently dwell upon your problems, and my energies will be extended in your behalf whenever they may be required.

With the acceptance of my resignation, our Board of Directors advanced Mr. Welcome to the vice presidency, thus bestowing a fitting recognition to an efficient and palatable official, who has served the bank faithfully since its first conception, now over sixteen years. It was a gracious tribute, merited and deserved.

As cashier, the directors elected Mr. E. H. Conser, who was personally recommended by the writer, and whom I have known for over twenty years. Mr. Conser, both by training and experience, is well qualified for the position. His previous connection with Portland banking houses and with financial institutions in the stock sections of central Oregon particularly fit him for this new responsibility.

With two such bankers as Mr. Welcome and Mr. Conser at the helm, and the co-operation of an efficient and courteous office force, backed by the same conservative board of directors, the public is assured of the same treatment as has been accorded it in the past. I shall retain my stockholdings in this bank, so shall consequently have a direct personal interest in it, and shall therefore keep a watchful eye upon its affairs. I hope to frequently visit Burns, so as to keep more closely in touch with your affairs, and to learn of your conditions and possible needs.

In conclusion, I earnestly urge my many friends to extend to the new management the same consideration and courtesy they manifested in me during the years I have lived and labored among them.

Very sincerely yours,
J. L. GAULT.

B. A. Ralston, late principal of the Harney County High School, left Tuesday morning to report to his local board at Portland for army duty. Mr. Ralston hopes to get into an officers' training camp in the immediate future, but if he fails to get his desire in this respect, since that branch has been closed temporarily, he then wants to get over to France just as quickly as possible.

H. M. Horton and Earl H. Conser were passengers out on the Wray stage Monday morning, the former bound for his place of business at Bend and the latter for Prineville where he went to arrange his affairs that he might return at once and take up his duties as cashier of the First National Bank of this city. Mr. Conser was formerly an assistant in the First National at Prineville with Tom Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Welcome entertained some friends at their beautiful home last Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gault being the honor guests. A very enjoyable evening was spent with a congenial company who had known the Gaults for many years. Cards were played and the table honors went to Mrs. Ernest Music and Chas. M. Faulkner. Mr. and Mrs. Gault each received an appropriate token of the occasion to take with them to their new home in Spokane. Mrs. Homer Mace was joint hostess with Mrs. Welcome in this enjoyable affair.

Married—Last Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. J. E. Sizemore in this city, W. E. Crowder and Mrs. Daisy Carter were married, Justice J. J. Patterson performing the ceremony. Both are well known people of this vicinity, the bride being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, of Lawen. She has resided in this county for several years. Mr. Crowder is the owner of the Five Mile Ranch east of this city. The newly married couple have gone to Caldwell, Idaho for the winter where Mr. Crowder had arranged to feed his stock, later they will return to the farm near here to make their home.

J. L. Gault and family took their departure today for Spokane where they will make their home in future. Mr. Gault having accepted a responsible position with a big banking institution in that city. The Gaults will be missed by the people of this vicinity where they have been active in the affairs for so many years. Mr. Gault was a man to consult in business affairs while Mrs. Gault was active in musical work. She will be missed from her Red Cross work where she was always ready with her energy. She was also always ready with her musical talents on all patriotic occasions or in social, church or other work. She gave unstintingly of her time and was a gracious lady in her intercourse along the line of charitable or war work. Her admirers regret her departure and congratulate the neighborhood in Spokane where the Gaults may take up their residence.

WAR SLOGAN VIGOROUS

"Hell, Heaven or Hoboken Christmas," is the slogan "there" reported by Dr. T. D. Be with, former O. A. C. bacteriologist. The new war cry was originated at the big push against the Hun and been well speeded up.

Does Pershing
Speak for You?

"The German army can be beaten;
the German army will be beaten;
the German army must be beaten."

Pershing counted on every man, woman and child in America to back him up when he said that—back him up with their souls, their flesh, their pocketbooks—to the last drop of blood, to the last dollar.

Our young men are backing him with their blood. Every one of us at home must back him with our dollars—our last dollars—our future dollars.
