James Hayercraft and Alva Woodruff made a trip to Juntura during the week looking after the telephone lines and attending to some business for the company in that territory.

Notice—James McKee has taken over all the property of Cecil McKee and all persons holding accounts against Cecil McKee are requested to present the same to the undersigned at Diamond, Oregon.

John Beatty came up from the family home near Denio yesterday for a visit with his school friends in this city. He and his brother were both in high school until the influenza ban was placed on and they then went home.

40 acre ranch 3 miles from Castle Rock, Wash. 4 acre cleared 14 acre tillable all fine soil 4 room house good spring and running stream. Plenty of wood. A good little ranch for any purpose. Price $1400. Will trade for Harney Valley land. Address Geo. W. Fenton, Camp 7-E, Newport, Ore.

William Bryam and George Marsden, stockmen of Grant County, arrived with cattle shipments Sunday and, finding the local market overloaded, sent their stock to Seattle. Emmett Cochran, director of the bank at Heppner and who is also a stockman, brought a car of cattle to Portland yesterday. All three were registered at the Imperial.—Oregonian.

C. B. McConnell arrived home the fore part of this week from a business trip to Vale and Boise. Mr. McConnell states that Vale is picking up because of the starting work on the Warm Springs irrigation projects. He states that the contractors are getting ready and work will be prosecuted during the winter with the hope that the dam may be in readiness for the coming season. However, this will make the work cost more as work cannot be prosecuted to an advantage during the winter months.

Mrs. I. Foster is over from her Silver Creek home today. She reports that her son Frank is still at the Benson school in Portland, having recently had a slight attack of influenza. He expected to begin his preparatory to being mustered out. Frank was given an opportunity to enlist in the army for a period but he declined because of not wanting to devote his time to that branch during peace. He feels he should be looking after his private affairs rather than serving in the army when there isn't any fighting in sight.

The writer inspected the new stone building of the Burns Garage the other day and found it most conveniently situated with modern equipment being installed and big, light shop space where repair work is to be taken care of. The big building is a credit to the concern and will be a convenience to the auto travel with big storage space that is frost proof. The dirt floor, which is of the same material as the grade on the streets on this city, is packing nicely and will soon be as good as a cement floor. The front of the building is not quite completed so far as the finishing is concerned, as it is to be a cement front with a map of the state showing the auto roads leading out in every direction from Burns.

For Sale—40 acres adjoining Burns. See J. J. Donegan.

Tom Allen was in town again Monday.

Born—Tuesday, Dec. 3, to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McGuire, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Link Hutton are in town today from their home near Wagontire.

Fred Smyth and Clifford Pugsley were among our out of town visitors during the week.

Lost—Between the Lawren store and my home, a ladies open face gold watch. Initials M. I. on back. $15.00 reward.—M. Hand Catterton.

The Baptist Ladies Aid will hold their annual Christmas sale in the rooms formerly occupied by G. W. Clevenger in the Bramett Reed Building.

The Times-Herald is informed that a daughter of Joe Street died recently from the effects of influenza at the family home near Buck Mountain.

"Teddy" had to break out again the other day because the President was going over to take part in the peace negotiations. He continues to be just as much of a "pest" as he can be. President Wilson will be criticized by "Teddy" regardless of what he does or doesn't so he just as well not lose any sleep about it.

Harry Danley left here last Sunday with Mrs. Wiseman and Mrs. Donovan for the Denio section where it was reported there were many cases of influenza and lack of nurses. The Red Cross nurse from Seattle was reported ill and the local Chapter considered it best to send some help down. Upon their arrival they found two additional Red Cross nurses had just arrived from the outside therefore the local nurses were not needed. Mr. Danley started back with the ladies but on the road found a family with influenza and Mrs. Wiseman remained to care for them.

Judge Levens and Commissioner Hass expect to go to Portland the fore part of next week to meet with the State Judges and Commissioners Association. This is an annual gathering of county officers and this session will be of particular interest as the State Highway Commission will hold a session at the same time and thus give the county officers an opportunity to confer with them on the road building program for the coming year. This is one of the important things to come up during the next season and our county officers are interested in knowing what is to be done with the highway from here to Crane.

"YOUR HOME INSTITUTION"

Born—Sunday, Dec. 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Carey Thornburg, a son.

S. M. Bolton is up from Crane today. He states they have several cases of influenza in his town but all the patients are getting along well.

Fred Allen arrived home last week from Portland. He has been staying in town since while his mother is engaged in taking care of influenza patients.

Thos. Hutton is in town from his home. Mrs. Hutton has been ill with influenza for a few days but did not have a severe attack and is improving rapidly. She contracted it by assisting to nurse in the emergency hospital in this city.

Sunday's Oregonian has a picture of Dr. E. Benson, former pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city. A notation is made under it that Dr. Benson had recently taken the bar examination and will practice law. He has two sons who are lawyers, another a teacher while another is a preacher. Two of them were across helping to win the war during our recent struggle. Dr. Benson is most favorably remembered by the people of this city who wish him success in his new field of labor.

C. H. McPheeters is in a serious condition at the Chas. King hospital suffering from the effects of a fall which he stated had occurred several days previous. Mr. McPheeters claims he fell out of his barn loft and was injured but did not report it until found in a semi-conscious condition Thursday. He has been entirely unconscious since Thursday evening and little hopes are entertained for his recovery. Cal McPheeters is one of the pioneers of this section and is widely known.

NEEDLESS FOREBODING

Numerous gentlemen who make a living writing things for other people—who work for a living—to read, are now viewing with alarm, and pointing the warning finger, and hoisting the red lantern of danger right across the national highway because they see 'steep million returning soldiers, and war workers, and shipbuilders, and munition workers suddenly dumped upon the country with no place to go but out, and no place to come but back.

These are doubtless the same excitable persons who yelled "Wake Up America" for months after we were in the war, and who had editorial night sweats because the country wouldn't know there was a war until it was over and Washington was annexed to Berlin.

Of course, all the time, the country was awake, and doing its work, and making no fuss about it; in all of which respects it materially differed from the editorial alarmists and exhorters.

There will be no reconstruction problems that this nation will not solve with credit to itself, and without greatly injuring either worker, returning soldier or employer.

The problems of reconstruction are simply compared to the war problems we have solved these last 18 months, and about all of us need to do is to quit fussing and go to work.

To work at the thing that is right at hand, and that will be undone unless we do it.

Which reminds us, that it is about time for us to shake down the furnace, feed the chickens, split the kindling, and sort half a barrel of apples down cellar.
