

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS—FROM GERMANY INTO BELGIUM.

Germany is living up to armistice agreement on the repatriated clause, and here is shown one of the brightest spots of the war. It shows a Belgian consular agent being allowed to come back to his homeland — after four years of exile and wandering in Germany. This picture is new from the Belgian German border.

Red Cross Sends Relief Ships for Allied Soldiers and Civilians in Starving Russia.

A relief ship was recently sent from this country to Archangel by the American Red Cross with 4,000 tons of drugs, food, soap and other supplies for the use of the Allied soldiers and needy civilians in that part of Russia. The vessel's cargo was valued at $1,511,233.

Later, another ship was dispatched carrying 200 tons of similar supplies furnished by the American Red Cross, the total expenditure for the two shipments amounting to over $2,000,000.

Major C. T. Williams of Baltimore is in charge of the party of thirteen which accompanied the shipment from this country. He was formerly a member of the Red Cross Commission for Romania. Major Kirkpatrick, at one time a member of the latter commission, but recently attached to the Army Medical Corps, heads the medical end of the Archangel expedition. Dr. J. W. Geary, who has been in Russia and general hospital supplies constituted the greater part of the cargo sent from America.

While the chief concern of the expedition was providing comforts for the American and Allied fighting men in that part of the world, all efforts were made to get relief to the Russian soldiers who were returned from German prison camps at the rate of about 1000 a week. The condition of these men was pitiable. It has been estimated that 90 per cent. of them were bereaved.

In addition to drugs and food, almost every imaginable article on the list of supplies sent over was for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the Allied soldiers. Just a few of these articles were playing cards, razor blades, jews' harps, mandolins, accordions, ukuleles, phonographs, cameras, skates, wigs, whiskers, nose paints, footballs, snowshoes, rappers, hockey outfits, indoor baseballs, moving picture outfits, Bibles, paper books, boxing gloves, games, maps, books, cigarettes, candy and dried fruits.

The need of prompt relief for the inhabitants of towns along the coast of the White Sea and on the Kola peninsula, many of whom were facing starvation, was found to be imperative. Scoury had broken out among the people at these places, adding to the general distress.

The towns to which the relief expedition was sent are virtually isolated from the outside world because of the treacherous coast line, shifting sand bars and uncharted waters. An unusually early frost, even for that part of the world, ruined the harvests, which were expected to improve conditions. Statements, printed in Russian, explaining the work of the Red Cross, were distributed among the inhabitants.

WHY QUIT? The total production of the war-gardens was so enormous that it was hardly credible. It represented the effort of amateur farmers—backyard agriculturists who never did anything of the kind before and probably never will again. But why shouldn't they? If we are capable of producing so gigantic a surplus of foodstuffs, why don't we go on producing it, or something equally necessary? The same applies to all our wartime efforts. With similar standards of production and achievement maintained everybody in the country would have an automobile, a steam yacht and a summer home.
