

1919 THE NEW YEAR 1919

With the World at peace and our Nation victorious, this should be a Very Happy New Year for us all.

Peace has its problems as well as war.

We must adjust ourselves to new conditions with as little disturbance as possible.

Conservation of resources is still highly essential. Self denial and Thrift should continue for Our Country needs our help in these respects

This is no time for Speculation, but is the time for Production. It is a time for honest, hard work along the lines of creating new wealth in the country and we might bend our efforts in that direction.

With these ideals before us, we endeavor to shape our course so as to be of the greatest possible assistance to our patrons in carrying on their business in a safe and satisfactory manner.

Possibly you are already a patron of this bank. If not, it might be well to start with the new year. A trial may prove mutually profitable.

D. R. Thorn was over from Silver Creek yesterday.

E. B. Hill was up from the Denjo country this week on business.

Roe Buchanan has resumed his position as deputy county clerk since his return from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McGowan are over from Crane on a visit with relatives and friends in this city.

C. B. McConnell expects to leave Tuesday for Portland to attend the meeting of the irrigation congress. Others from this vicinity are expected to be present also.

FOR SALE: Registered Herford Bulls, March On and Disturber strains. Also 150 head yearling & two year old Heifers.—E. E. Bain & Co., Glemus Ferry, Idaho.

Born—Tuesday, Dec. 31, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Byrd, twin boys. One little soldier didn't live but about three hours, the other and the mother are doing well at the Fire-oved hospital.

Malted Milk, hot or cold, is recommended by your physician as a beneficial nourishment to build up your strength and weight following the "flu." Page's Sweet Shop is serving this as well as other hot and cold drinks.

W. B. Johnson was in this week and came through with the usual contribution to have this great religious weekly continued to his address for 1919. Mr. Johnson has been a subscriber to this family journal for some 30 years or so.

Rev. J. F. Mobley and family arrived here recently from Winlock, Washington. Mr. Mobley comes to take up his duties as pastor of the Baptist church. The family is comfortably domiciled in the parsonage, where Rev. Mobley will be pleased to meet his members and friends.

Chelsea N. Howland, a soldier who had been on duty with the Local Board in this city for the past few months, assisting Clerk Randall, received instructions the fore part of this week to report to Camp Lewis for demobilization, therefore he took his departure Thursday evening via Crane.

Marshal McDonald was in the other day and said things on the influenza line were still foremost in his duties. Incidentally he said that donations of cats and such things would always be appreciated at the home where the volunteer nurses are housed and where food is prepared for patients.

T. G. Howser is in town today. He came over from Ontario recently on account of the ill health of his aged father at Harney and has since been at the parental home. He reports his father slightly improved today. The old gentleman has hardening of the arteries and his extreme age causes concern among his family.

E. N. Nelson arrived home from Portland the fore part of this week. His son Hans remained there as he has a good position. Mr. Nelson was a caller at this office Wednesday and asked The Times-Herald to publicly express his thanks and deep appreciation of the many kind expressions of sympathy of the many friends of his late wife.

A marriage license was issued by the county clerk on Jan. 2 to Samuel O. Slater and Miss Blanche Heinz. Mr. Slater was one of the boys called in the draft during the last summer and was recently mustered out, having gotten only to the training camp. Miss Heinz is a daughter of J. J. Heinz and has resided in this county all her life. The Times-Herald has not been informed whether the marriage ceremony has been performed yet or not but extends its best wishes just the same.

The Times-Herald took occasion last week to communicate with people who could give definite information as to government assistance in eradicating the rabbit pest. We are sure this is a matter of economy to use this method rather than a bounty as it is not only much less expense but also more equitable and fair to all concerned. By this method we will not be imposed upon and take care of our own county without paying for pests in other counties or states. Just as soon as this information as received it will be placed before the people most interested and discussed. The Times-Herald feels confident aid can be secured from the county in the matter just as it was with the grasshoppers. It is also confident the same method will prove successful in fighting the sage rats and we might take up the entire situation at once during this winter and be ready to do the work most effectively. The rabbits must be taken care of without delay and this can be done by each community doing its part.

A light cutter for sale cheap. Farmers Exchange.

Hugh Allen, the Ontario shoe man, is going to be here next week with a line of shoes and hosiery. See his ad elsewhere.

Dr. Saurman operated on Clarence Luckey yesterday for hernia of long standing. The patient is reported getting along fine today.

Miss Helen Purington expects to take her departure tomorrow for Eugene where she will again take up her work in the University after spending the holidays with home folks.

Ed. Goodman decided to return to Corvallis and take up a regular course of study. He was formerly enrolled in the students training corps and when that was discharged after the signing of the armistice, he came home for a few days. Yesterday he started back to the school.

Rev. B. S. Hughes of the Presbyterian church has been doing some special missionary work. Since the flu ban prevents his Sunday school children coming to church he has been distributing the supplies around to the different homes, which includes the lesson leaves, cards, papers, etc. The school responded with volunteer offerings to the amount of $3 the last week to aid in keeping up the supplies. Rev. Hughes will continue this work until the regular services are permitted.

is the result of giving satisfaction.

We started twelve years ago with forty-four depositors. Now we have more than 1400. We shall have more.

This is a Bank of good service that makes good friends, and good business.

Accounts cordially invited.
