

A Morning Scene for Germans on the Rhine

This is the picture that greeted Germans as they looked from their windows on recent mornings when Yank victors "with colors flying" marched up to the Rhine. This color bearing group is from the Fifth Artillery of the First America Division—taken as they came up to the famous stream to rule German soil until the terms of peace are made—when Germany will then start to PAY.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Will Cummins has moved into the old Cal Geer residence on the corner back of Voegtly's hardware store.

Mrs. Hugh Allen is here from Ontario with a display of shoes from the Allen Shoe Store. She is at the Levens.

Dan Rosenfeld is here on his annual visit. He is the hat man who has been making this territory for many years.

Tom Allen came in yesterday because of the illness of Mrs. Allen. He stated this morning she had passed a good night.

The Times-Herald is informed that there were at one time seven cases of influenza at the Sod House Ranch. Some of them have recovered.

Died—Thursday, Jan. 9, at the Sod House ranch, Lawrence McClure, a son of the late Harry McClure. The Times-Herald did not learn the young man's age. He was a victim of the influenza. The remains were taken to Crane for burial.

Van Embree and Frank Blackmer are up from Sunset today. They report lack of snow in their neighborhood, too. Mr. Embree informs us his mother recently left him and went to Dallas to remain for a time.

Alex Eggleston and family left this morning for Bend where they will again take up their residence. They had been living over there but came to Burns at the time of the death of Mr. Eggleston's father.

Wm. Farre, Leon M. Brown and Mrs. Triska, who left here the fore part of this week for Portland, are expected home this evening. They will be accompanied home by Nathan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brown, who has been in a southern training camp for several months. The young man came up from San Francisco for a visit with home folks.

Johnnie Weaver is in town greeting his many old time friends.

Chas. Moore and family have returned from Bend where they had been for the past several months. Chas. was working in the mills but one has closed and another was preparing to close down for the winter so he thought he'd come home before the roads got too bad. He was in yesterday and told us to send this great religious to him at Diamond again. D. H. Smyth was in with him. The latter reports a slight fall of snow in his neighborhood but not sufficient to do much good. Rye says we are going to have a big snow in February. That suits us if we don't get it sooner.

L. R. Breithaupt, for several years superintendent of the Experiment Station in this Valley, was a visitor to our city the fore part of this week and gave his friends a most agreeable surprise. Mr. Breithaupt is now located on an irrigated farm between Payette and Weiser, but on the Oregon side of the Snake River, therefore is still a resident of this state. He came over to look after some business for his brother, who has a farm in the Weaver Springs neighborhood. While here Mr. Breithaupt took occasion to visit the Experiment Station and also to discuss things in general. He was interested in the rabbit bounty proposition and said that the poisoning method had proven most effective by the government specialists and was beyond question the cheapest method of getting rid of them. He was also interested in the movement toward irrigation and stated that we must have water to make the land of this section produce as it should. He remarked that he failed to see why some seemed to oppose it when one can and does cut more hay from 100 acres out where he is located under proper irrigation methods than is cut off 1000 here, yes, even 10,000 during the last season.

Mrs. B. F. Smith, who was recently called to Portland because of the death of her mother, is expected home this evening.

Page's Sweet Shop has a supply lettuce, sweet potatoes and cranberries on hand at all times. Fresh fish every Friday.

The Times-Herald had a letter this morning from Claude Schug written from Coleridge, Nebraska, where he is visiting with his mother.

Harney county people have become accustomed to looking for the home news of interest in The Times-Herald and it never disappoints them as each week testifies. That's why it is more widely circulated than any other newspaper in this county.

SOLVES IRRIGATION PROBLEM FOR HIMSELF

Yesterday Albert Wood was shown the writer some snap shot pictures of a well which he sunk at his farm 12 miles southeast of this city last fall. This well was sunk to a depth of 50 feet and he has attached a four-inch centrifugal pump. At a trial with a steam engine to run the pump full capacity he drew up 500 gallons of water a minute for 14 hours and didn't succeed in pumping it out.

Mr. Wood already has in some alfalfa and is preparing to seed more in the spring. This well will give him a big quantity of water and he is going to make a success of irrigating his farm through this method. This is one way of solving the irrigation question and one that will not involve one with his neighbor as to whether he is entitled to it or otherwise. The matter of cheap fuel is one that will bring about a great change in the dry portions of Harney Valley as water may be had at a shallow depth and with cheap fuel this sagebrush land can be made to produce big. That's where the oil wells are going to help. If even they will furnish gas it will do for home consumption.

It is all right for any nation to seek "A place in the sun," but no one nation should attempt to corner all the sunlight.

It is evident the peace of 1918 was not the piece the military machine of Potsdam had been looking for but it might have been worse although it is hard to pound logic through a hitching post.

It is sometimes difficult to determine whether a man lives in comfort or luxury. But just now there is an unfulfilling test which may be applied. You have only to ascertain whether he eats eggs for breakfast.

SUBSTITUTING HIGH BRED FOR HYBRID.

In a campaign to retire scrub bulls from the herds of the State, seven Wisconsin counties have made plans to follow the example of Fond du Lac County, which in one month placed 43 pure-bred sires on farms, 38 going to herds that never before had had pure-bred sires. The drive against scrub sires was started at the December conference of Wisconsin county agents, and is in charge of a "steering committee" representing the extension service, the State college of agriculture, leading stockmen, and officials of farmers' organizations. Breeders believe that the elimination of the scrub and grande sire will greatly improve their markets, and appreciate that out-of-State buyers visiting Wisconsin for dairy cows insist on stock sired by pure-bred bulls.

FORMER HARNEY COUNTY MAN DIES.

The following is clipped from a recent issue of the Polk County Itemizer, of Dallas:

Mack C. Huffman was born in Iowa, October 16, 1862, and died at Dallas, Oregon, December 5, 1918. He moved with his parents when about 6 years of age from Iowa to Stockton, Mo., where he grew to manhood. In 1890 he moved to Butte, Montana, where on February 18, 1902, he was married to Charlotia Hogan, daughter of Col. Andrew Hogan, of Nevada, Mo. After their marriage they came to Vancouver, Washington where he was engaged in farming. In 1909 Mr. Huffman went to Burns, in Eastern Oregon, where the family lived about 2 1/2 years, coming from there in 1911 to Dallas, where they have resided since.

Early in August of this year Mr. Huffman was stricken with heart trouble, and although he received the best of medical care his case seemed not to respond to treatment and he failed rapidly until death relieved him of his sufferings.

ELEPHANT SHOES NEW ZOO STYLE

Now we know why leather is so scarce and shoe prices so high. They are making shoes for elephants. It has been learned that elephants suffer from cold feet during the winter months here. So Lena of the New York zoo has been fitted out in new "brogans" for the cold months—and two "maids" to lace 'em up.

Those left to mourn his departure are his wife and three children; Agnes and Andrew, twins, and Catherine, aged 7. Besides these he leaves four brothers: Charles B. of Butte, Mont.; Victor, of Bisbee, Ariz.; Sylvester S. and Otto, of Yacolt, Washington.

Funeral services were held for Mr. Huffman December 7, at the Christian church, Rev. Howard McConnell in charge. At the grave the Smithfield local No. 133, F. E. and C. U. of A., conducted the service. Mr. Huffman being a member of that organization.

He was always a kind and loving father, always devoted to his family, and a man loved by all who knew him.
