

The United States government is scattered about promiscuously in this country and in Europe. But we seem to be getting on just as well as if we were governed.

The cradle of Bolshevism could not have been furnished with a pacifier.

A man's idea of thoroughly enjoying a holiday is to play golf or go fishing. A woman's is to stay at home and wash her hair.

We must remember that the peace conference has had very little previous experience in making peace treaties.

Germany may not have obtained her place in the sun, but she has certainly gotten a niche in history.

Woman's place may be in the home. But if she had stayed there, what would have become of the Red Cross and the canteen work and the emergency driving?

The government has decreed that discharged soldiers may keep their uniforms. We predict a gay succession of military balls next winter.

Gentle Spring so often comes dancing in with a dash of snowflakes and a cold in her head and a bottle of spring tonic in her pocket.

When the discharged soldiers realize that if they eat as much as they want at the present prices, there will be nothing left for drink, they will probably endorse prohibition.

Are we not proud that our president is capable of writing history and of making it too?

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A long pull and a strong pull, and the Victory loan will be over the top.

The world has not been far-sighted enough yet to catch a glimpse of Peace.

If everybody worked as well and as faithfully as they could there would be no Labor problem.

Congress drew a long breath when the armistice was signed. But it did not realize that the tariff and currency questions were waiting for it just around the corner.

If you should put up a little house 8x12 inches with a door the size of a quarter, and display a sign "FOR WRENT," do you think you would find tenants in it some fine morning?

It is to be hoped that the peace conference will have some consideration for the men who publish atlases, and will come to a speedy decision on the subject of boundaries.

President Wilson is said to be watching affairs in the United States very closely. Let us congratulate the president upon his excellent eyesight.

"Out of the mud" would be a good motto for the new federal highway commission, and would be especially appreciated by all soldiers who recall the muddy mud of France.

A young man is rather proud that he gained forty pounds while in the army. But when he finds he cannot crowd into his civilian suit he was depending on, he is likely to change his point of view.

Remember every fly you see this time of year is a potential ancestor. If it lives until the last of August it will be the progenitor of millions. Swat it immediately, and so swat its million descendants.

A new weekly magazine published in New York is devoted entirely to Russian problems. There are problems enough in Russia at present to keep any number of magazines busy considering them.

We are glad to learn that Elihu Root has expressed himself on the League of Nations. Whether people agree with him or not, his clear common sense is sure to shed light on any subject it touches.

Living anywhere in Europe now must be about as safe and comfortable as residing near the crater of a volcano or sitting on the safety valve of the old Mississippi steam boats.

The Rainbow division is to be accompanied on their trip from Germany to Brest by 150,000 doughnuts the gift of the K. of C. The doughnuts will be good traveling companions, but probably few of them will reach Brest.

It was not surprising that the Germans, as soon as they learned that Marshal Foch had been appointed to confer with them, should concede that the Polish divisions might land in Danzig. They have conferred with Marshal Foch before and know what his conferences are like.

The Chicago Great Western Railroad has adopted French twins, who are coming to this country with the 13th R. R. Engineers. It never occurred to us to picture a railroad as a tender parent, but it will probably be very gentle in taking care of these two pretty little girls, Aline and Denise Chicago-Great-Western-Railroad.

BECAUSE the WOMEN of Oregon do so much of the buying for Oregon homes, the responsibility for this movement for a "Greater Oregon" rests with them in a very large way. The degree of our success will depend on the extent to which Oregon's women WILL use home products.
