DEVELOPMENT.

The Mississippi valley is the most fertile in the world, and the system of natural waterways which it contains is unique. If it had been otherwise we would probably have developed the valley's natural advantages more completely. We would have felt the need of supplementing nature's generosity by constructing navigable canals and providing artificial irrigation. It is only when men feel handicapped that they make the most of what they have.

By using their rivers and connecting them with waterways 400,000,000 Chinese have managed to do without railroads. By canal systems the Europeans have made the very most of the Rhine, Danube, Rhone and Loire. We were more blessed by nature than they, and for that very reason we did not feel so great an impulse to enhance by our own efforts the affluence of opportunity and resource which we found waiting for us.

This is not a plea to the citizens of Burns to light lanterns and prattle about with microscopes looking for a chance to change or enlarge something in this locality. But it is a fact that the very opulence of stupendous natural resource often acts as a soporific, rather than as a tonic. And at this time, when work for disbanded armies is vital not only to our prosperity, but to the stability of civic institutions, we have less excuse than ever for permitting anywhere a rock to remain a rock, if it can be made into a garden.

GREAT IMITATOR AT CHAUTAUQUA

Tom Corwine Comes With Remarkable Sound Imitations.

Tom Corwine refutes the old saying, "Nothing new under the sun." He is a humorist and polyphonist or imitator of sounds—unquestionably the greatest on the American platform.

He can crow like a whole flock of roosters, stage a dog fight and imitate so many things that he will keep you in constant wonderment and in a continuous roar of laughter. The sawing of wood, popping of corks, imitating locomotive whistles—all these are child's play to him.

Fine of the agricultural college, in charge of official tests for the various breed associations.

Will SOMETHING Happen to make you rich?

A rich uncle may die and leave you a roll, but few rich uncles have this habit.

If you get rich, the chances are you will first have to save enough money in order to make an investment that will pay.

There are plenty of investments for the man with a little ready cash.

But it is up to you to save cash. The best policy is to deposit a portion of your salary.

A Bank is better than a hole in your pocket through which your money can slip away.

Mr. House Fly, who thought he was getting by with something while the nation was busy with Frits idea germs—had already found out that 1919 is going to be a tough year in the U. S. A. This is the time to start swatting—and remember—it's for babies' welfare mostly.

Why the Essex Motor Car will be the sensation for the coming season

Every part and every detail of the Essex construction is of proved worth. It was designed and built by some of the foremost engineers of America, the same men whose genius produced the Super-Six. Many points of superiority in the Super-six which have proved themselves in years of service, have been incorporated into the Essex. The engine, only twenty-nine inches long, cast in one block with detachable head, readily develops more than fifty horsepower. Long life is assured by the ample proportions of the counterbalanced crank shaft, supported by three large bearings.
