While some crops are seriously hurt there are good prospects for wild hay, at least better than last season. Water is scarce and is becoming more appreciated but some rain would help right now.

whole community must get behind it.

"Getting behind Chautauqua" means giving it moral support and financial support. The committee here has guaranteed the sale of $1650 worth of season tickets and if this amount is not realized the committee must make up the deficit. But we do not want a deficit and hence it behooves all to get busy and insure the meeting of the guarantee. Every one can then enjoy the program to much better advantage.

The daily program will consist of three parts. The childrens play hour session at 9:30 a. m. each day, the afternoon session starting at 2:15 promptly, and the evening session at 8:15 promptly.

The business houses have arranged to close their stores during the afternoon performance from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. This will enable everybody to attend Chautauqua and we believe the general public will be glad to adjust itself to the arrangements as made.

Let each and every person now feel that it is his or her duty to get behind this enterprise and make the first Chautauqua at Burns a big success. It is a worthy institution and is deserving of all the boosting you can give it.

Everybody is coming to the Chautauqua next week and get some of the best entertainment ever offered the people of Harney county. This brings the very best talent to our own home and give us a real treat that none can afford to miss.

Mrs. Ralph Grant and her son arrived here yesterday from their home at Fields, having driven 100 miles with a team to attend the Chautauqua. This shows the right spirit and places Mrs. Grant in the honor roll of appreciating such an entertainment.

Supt. and Mrs. Shattuck came in from the Experiment Station yesterday afternoon and handed a package to the office force. The boss asked if it was for the home or the office and was informed it was for him to do as he pleased. Curiosity is one of the failings of a newspaper man so the package was opened. It proved to be some of the most delicious cherries and red raspberries which Mrs. Shattuck's mother, Mrs. Farson, had brought back from her old home in Payette, where she had been on a visit. The Shattucks have a welcome at this shop any old time they are about and we'll always remember that treat with pleasure.

A. A. Collins and his little family took their departure today on their return to California where Gus has been offered a flattering position with an established firm. Gus wanted to resume his business relation in this city as before his volunteering for service with Uncle Sam in the war but found conditions were not just right. He told the newspaper man yesterday evening that he had faith in Harney Valley and was going to hold to that faith, but until we had things a little further developed and improved he considered it best to take the California position offerer him for the present. Gus stated that he did not regret his war experience as it gave him much in his line that he would not have gotten otherwise. He was sent to Columbia University in New York where he was one of 35 out of several thousand to make good a technical examination. He was then transferred to Detroit where he helped make Liberty engines for the air service. Later he was ordered to San Diego where he was placed as an instructor during the remainder of the time he was in the service.

No! No! DON'T throw away that old suit! Bring it to our shop first. If we can't make a good looking, new appearing suit out of it by CLEANING DYEING AND PRESSING it, then indeed you may throw it away with a clear conscience. You have no idea how much good there still remains in that discarded suit. We have reclaimed so many that we hate to see yours thrown away till it really is useless.

prove a real success in Burns. Chautauqua is distinctive in that it appeals to everybody. As Theo. Roosevelt said, "The Chautauqua is the most American thing in America, in that it appeals to all, whether young or old rich or poor."

The tent and equipment will arrive in Crane tonight and will be erected Monday.

The site for the big tent has been changed to the lot in front of the C. A. Sweeney residence where it is the judgment of Director Allen and the committee the program may be more fully enjoyed because of the possibility of closing the approaches to the tent from traffic, thus eliminating the noise that would disturb if it were located in the business part of town. That location is central and the grass plot quite an advantage.

The program is a strong one and will be sure to please. The music, entertainers and lectures have all been selected with care and the program has been built to give a balanced entertainment for the entire six days.

The people of this county should bear in mind that a Chautauqua is distinctly a community affair and that in order for it to be a real success the
