THRIFT

On all hands we are bombarded with the exhortation to be thrifty, to save. And, as a matter of fact, we have had presented to us many of the most practical reasons for not saving. It becomes increasingly evident that there is much to be said in favor of blowing in all of our money—while we can buy something with it.

If conditions continue along their present course a man will soon be unable to buy a pair of trousers at the price which now purchases a suit of clothes. And the same price, five years ago, would have bought a suit of clothes plus an overcoat.

It seems more practical, therefore, to stock up in clothes and everything else for the next five or six years.

But unfortunately fashions change, and if we are at all fastidious the extra dozen suits which we buy now will be out of date in a year or two. Still, if we do not worry over the vagaries of fashion we might endure that disadvantage.

But groceries will not keep quite so long. We must resign ourselves to eating as much as we can consume, and paying the increased prices which probably will be levied every few months.

We have no right to blame the grocer or the tailor. They charge more because they have to pay more. The dollar is the culprit. It has depreciated.

If you were a saving kind of person five years ago you put your money in to buy a few bonds. Or perhaps you the bank. Perhaps you saved enough merely kept money on deposit. You felt that if you did this for a few years you would have quite a tidy sum at the end of that time.

Instead of this, each dollar that you laboriously earned and saved is now worth sixty-five cents. If you have saved $1,000, you have really only $650. If you saved $5,000 you have $3,250 left. You have lost the rest, just as though you had dropped it in the sea. The dollar is to blame. It has shrunk.

It is the duty of the government, by some economic measure, to stabilize the dollar. Otherwise, people will quit saving. They will naturally want to spend all of their money now, before it shrinks into nothing.

Every time prices take a jump, the dollar takes a slump. Soon it will reach the bottom of the greased acid, and then—revolution, anarchy, disintegration. Another Mexico.

A nation that has lost its habit of thrift is headed for swift economic disaster.

LITTLE FISH-WORMS

One time there was a fish-worm and he bored a hole through a great earthen dam. A little drop of water found the hole and wiggled through. Other drops found it too and followed. After a while that wonderful dam crumbled and fell and a wild flood swept over a beautiful valley—it left death and ruin and desolation in its path.

I don't remember the name of that little fish-worm but I think it was called "Don't Care!"

Anyhow, there a lot of tiny, twisty, wormies, boring, boring all the time and every little worm is named "Don't Care."

A lynch-pin not fastened in the driver of a mogul engine—the train in the ditch and people killed. "Don't Care" did it.

Mamma's big glass bowl in Susie's hands, little "Don't Care" worm wigglin' around—smash! "Dish are broke!"

Daddy throws cigarette in pile of trash—

Terrific fire down town, or tempest of flame over the mountain side burning trees—splendid trees—it took God and Nature hundreds of years to build—"Don't Care" worms. Same everywhere—

Dime, quarter, dollar, spent for this, for that, for nothing—squandered—"Don't Care!" After while: Poverty, cold, hunger! Worst little worms in whole big world—"spend-thrift" fish-worms.

Be lots better to buy War Stamps—little "Do Cares" and always have good strong dam between great flood, "Need," and beautiful valley of Plenty. Try'em. Watch little fish-worms.

COMMERCIAL CLUB NOTES

In readiness to give whatever assistance they could in the matter of furnishing information to the prospective investors. This would mean much to our city and give the country an outlet for a manufactured product that has a market all over the world. When one realizes that the only body of timber of any consequence that can be profitably shipped to the eastern market is located adjoining Burns, it is worth considering. The timber from points west of the Cascades must be hauled over a range of mountains, while this can be started with a "downhill pull" right from the stump and continue on this grade until the Rocky Mountains are reached.

Altogether the meeting last night was one that has added interest to the club and was the means of bringing about a closer feeling among the members. Just so long as matters of interest can be brought out, live topics to discuss and problems that mean something to the community to take up, there will be no lagging of interest in the organization and a lively bunch will be on hand to take part. Keep the club alive with such matters and we are going to be a better community and accomplish results.

Geo. Marsden was over from his Bear Creek ranch yesterday on business. He reports things rather dry in his section as regards range but he will have some very good crops on his place.

Everything for Everybody

Anything for Anybody

BUY IT FROM US IT PAYS

This is a general store and we are supposed to sell everything, and we live up to the general supposition.

You can buy anything you want here, from hardware to groceries, from needles to a good smoke.

It pays to buy from us, because we sell for cash, and an enormous amount of goods, and we can therefore sell at a closer margin of profit.

You CAN'T lose, and you WILL gain. Now doesn't this line of argument appeal straight to your good common sense?

LIPMAN, WOLFE and COMPANY'S big store at Portland is making a strong bid for the piano business of this community. The great department store of Lipman-Wolfe & Co. Portland, is out after the piano business of Oregon.

Just now they are having a big July sale on new and second hand pianos which has stirred the piano circles of the metropolis. They are even bidding for the business of the country districts and make this startling

BONA FIDE OFFER

- 1st. We will save any one $100 in the purchase of an upright piano, a player-piano or a baby grand.
- 2nd. We will have our expert choose for any one a piano that we positively guarantee, box it, and pay the freight to destination covering a radius of 100 miles from Portland.
- 3rd. We will pay the railroad fare both ways of any one in Oregon or Washington who will go to Portland and choose a piano on our sales floors.

PIANOS WE CARRY

Our lines consist of the most renowned standard makes of America. Our leader is the KNABE. We also represent the celebrated Francis Bacon pianos, in baby grands, players and uprights. One of our most popular lines is the five well-known pianos of the "House of Baldwin," which includes the Baldwin, Ellington, Hamilton, Howard and Monarch. Then we are agents for the Hazelton Bros., and the famous Autopiano. The Autopiano is probably the most popular and durable player-piano in the world. Already, more than 43 million dollars worth have been sold to music-loving people of the globe.

OUR USED PIANOS

One may nearly always find a good bargain in a second hand piano in our piano exchange department. This month we are holding our semi-annual clean up sale of these instruments. The prices are remarkably low.
