The suggestion of the policies committee of the Commercial Club in its recommendation to the club to advocate the bonding of the county in sufficient sum to put all the main roads in a first class condition is one that opens a question that should be given consideration by the people of the entire county. There has been some complaint as to road plans in the recent past, as it did not cover a larger portion of the country. If we are to make permanent roads in Harney county it must necessarily require a big expenditure. The Times-Herald has pointed out in the past that a bond issue would not raise the taxes and at the same time it would give a sufficient sum to justify the undertaking of road building on a scale that would be of vast benefit to the entire county. As it is we do not have sufficient money to build any permanent road therefore if we are to keep up with our more industrious neighbors and get the most out of the money we have to pay, we should get in line and bond the county in sufficient sums to do the work.

OTTINGER READY TO HELP

A. Ottinger, proprietor of the Farmers Exchange, is here from his home in San Francisco. He makes occasional pilgrimages to this place and always finds a hearty welcome for he is a man who is ready to go forward when he sees the opportunity. Mr. Ottinger told a representative of this paper this morning that he was desirous of enlarging his business in this city but really considers it best to defer until such time as things are progressing more favorably. He stated he was ready at any time to put up his share of any fund that would bring about development and that he considers the first thing in that line will be the irrigation system.

Mr. Ottinger informs this paper that he and his associates have recently purchased another freight steamer to ply between San Francisco and Portland and hope to soon have two fast passenger boats on the same run.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

M. Weinstein, son of I. Weinstein of Lawen, was in the hospital at this place for a few days but has returned home improved in health.

J. P. Merritt, of Vernon, Utah, is here on a visit with relatives. He is the son of Jerry Merritt, one of our pioneer ranchers and a brother to Mrs. Robt. Baker.

Marlin Gallagher, a brother of P. J. Gallagher, is in town. Marlin was a resident of this city several years ago, having located here at the time his brother was practicing law but later departed for Canada where he is now engaged in business. Mr. Gallagher married Miss Elie Crowley of this city.

Albert Swain and family arrived home last evening from Ashland where they had been for several weeks. While in southern Oregon they visited with Mrs. Swain's parents and family. They are glad to be back in this section even though it seems dry, but state that it is no worse than other parts of the country in that respect and that it is even hotter down there.

RANGE HORSE AUCTION

At South Omaha, Neb., Shipping Date, August 4

Horses brought fair prices at the last sale. It is advisable to sell now rather than hold and feed expensive hay this winter.

Ship from Crane, Ore. Aug 4. Smith Crane, Burns, Oregon.

FAIR SALES OF RANGE HORSES

The Times-Herald received a telegram from Smith Crane on Wednesday in which he reported fair prices on the range horses consigned to the Omaha auction sales last week. Mr. Crane stated in his telegram that the next shipment of range horses from this county would be on August 4. Stock men should have their horses ready for that date.

Phil G. Smith had a number of horses in the sales just closed and told the writer that he was entirely satisfied with the prices he received, although they were not high. He had some little stuff, some old animals and also some that were very wild. Mr. Smith will ship more horses if he can gather them and advise his neighbors to do the same.

A HAPPY REUNION

Out of town guests at the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Geary are Mr. Thomas Jacobs, of Sturgess, Mich., Miss Mary Jacobs, of Chicago, and Mrs. Weston F. Shields, of Nyssa, Oregon.

Mr. Jacobs is a brother of Mrs. Marie Kelly and these two are enjoying happy childhood days stopping occasionally to take a turn about the room when some lively music "struck up."

Miss Jacobs, a niece of Mrs. Kelly's is assistant principal in the Chicago schools, and is improving her vacation by becoming "Westernized."

Mrs. Shields is greeting friends here while her husband is attending Synod at Eugene.

BOND COUNTY FOR HO. D BUILDING

authorities, are being built for all time, as were the ancient thoroughfares of Rome, that are standing today as they stood two thousand years ago.

If we fail to secure the proper location of these National Highways and the proper and advantageous connections leading thereto, we shall never be able to regain what we have lost. There will be no "altering or vacating" these roads after they are once established.

We shall never have another opportunity of matching a dollar of our own money with a dollar and a half of "outside" money toward the permanent improvements of Harney County. What we lose now will be "forever lost" in the true sense of the word.

We believe immediate action should be taken in this matter. We suggest that a committee of three be appointed by the President of this Club to act in conjunction with the Board of Directors, in securing definite data as to the road work that should be done in each district of the county, and in aiding in the preparations necessary for holding an election to decide this matter at the earliest possible date.
