Mary Pickford in Two Shows Next Week

Mary Pickford has done a military picture—"Johanna Enlists"—for Artcraft, and used in it her own beloved boys of the 143rd Field Artillery, of which she is godmother. Could anything be finer? And Mary, you know, is Colonel of the 143rd—Honorary Colonel Mary Pickford!

The picture comes to the Liberty theatre tomorrow and if you miss it, we are told, you will miss a veritable treat. There is humor, pathos and the daintiest of love stories in the film, which William D. Taylor directed and Charles Rosher photographed.

Mary Pickford's next appearance in an Artcraft picture will be an adaptation by Frances Marion of "Amarilly of Clothes Line Alley," from the novel by Belle K. Maniates. This is said to be the funniest photoplay in which "America's Sweetheart" has ever appeared, but while the story consists principally of amusing incidents it is full of simple, homely philosophy and endeavors to show that people from the environments of Clothes Line Alley can never mix happily with the upper stratum of society.

The famous star's last appearance on the screen before "Johanna Enlists" was in a dual role in "Stella Marie" in which she scored a sensational triumph. "Amarilly of Clothes Line Alley," which will be the attraction at the Liberty theatre next Saturday, night is expected to duplicate this success, as the scenario is by the same author, and the production was directed by Marshall Neilan, the same combination responsible for "Stella Marie."

Persons who never have seen an oil well in operation will appreciate this feature of "His Mother's Boy," the new Thomas H. Ince photoplay starring Charles Ray, which will be seen at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday. The fortunes of a Texas oil company play an important part in this new Paramount picture, and afford an interesting and novel background for the story.

Charles Ray never has had a better chance to display his marked talents as a screen star than in "His Mother's Boy." The role is that of a young man brought up in a small New England town. His dead father had recommended the purchase of stock in an oil company to some of his friends. The venture meets disaster, with the result that the stockholders blame the dead man for the financial misfortune.

Charles Ray, as the son of the man whose reputation is maligned, declares he will make good every loss sustained by his father's friends, and in the effort to live up to his promise he goes to Texas, works in the oil fields, and incidentally discovers why the oil company in which his father's friends are interested has met with failure.

Victor L. Schertzinger, who has been associated with Ray in all of his Thomas H. Ince's star's recent screen successes, directed the production of "His Mother's Boy," which is a picture of Rupert Hughes' story "When Life is Marked Down."

Haines Hospital Bought by Charles A. King

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. King bought the Haines hospital this week and have taken possession. This institution is one of the modern equipped hospitals of the interior country with excellent facilities for caring for patients. It has one of the best equipped surgeries in the entire country. Under the new management this hospital promises to become very popular as Mrs. King's past experience in the line of taking care of sick people has been such as to gain her many friends. A graduate nurse is to be kept constantly in the house.

Burns lodge feels highly honored at this preference, for this the first year the Grand Lodge has given it any such recognition. Mr. Faulkner, who is Master of the local lodge, was a member of another most important committee at the recent communication of the Grand Lodge.

It means a smashing blow to Old High Cost of Living and an opportunity no person or family can afford to miss. STOP AND THINK WHAT THIS SALE MEANS TO YOU, coming as it does, right in the face of the news spread broadcast that shoes are going higher and higher in price every day, and it is common talk that shoes will be from $2 to $8 higher in the next few months, so you should appreciate the great importance of this sale and buy shoes for the whole family, not only for present use, but for months or even years to come.
