

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE.

That's where the moral hazard comes in.

And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Lenora Smith left Wednesday morning for an extended stay in Portland.

Born—Monday, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otley, at the Firewood hospital, a son.

Mrs. Gertrude Musick returned from Portland Monday, where she had been buying new goods for the Schwartz store. Among the new goods she bought were skured Georgette crepe, and ready made kimonas, two lines the store has not carried heretofore.

The little Grover Hudspeath baby, out at Riley, was reported quite ill the early part of the week, through the carelessness of some tourists who left a bottle containing gasoline within its reach. The child drank some of the fluid before observed, and a telephone call was made to Burns for first aid.

Mrs. Will Cummins was a guest of relatives and friends in this city for a few days this week, having come over from her present home in Jordan Valley. Mrs. Cummins states they are located in a fine stock country and that their stock are doing well. She gave out further information to the effect that Chauncy Cummins and his son Frank had recently met with an auto accident in which the machine was turned over and Mr. Cummins was slightly injured, but not dangerously. He is recovering at his home in Boise where the family now make headquarters.

Wm. Bennett was down from his Silves Valley home the first of the week.

Henry Hudson discovered Broadway, but it took advertising a la Cohau to make it pay. In other words, the greatest gold mine isn't worth a cent till you work it. Advertising at the open sesame to prosperity.

Mr. Smith, manager of the Burns Garage, and local agent for the Delco lighting plant, announces the purchase of five additional plants for fall delivery. Mr. A. H. Conger, District sales manager for Oregon representing the Delco-Light products, was in the city last week, and informed Mr. Smith of the advisability of buying the plants at this time, as deliveries may be uncertain for the next two years. Three of the plants just purchased will arrive in sixty days, and the others in ninety days.

J. N. Jensen was in to see us the other day. He has recently bought a small improved farm over near Caldwell and is making preparations to move over there with his family. He has sold his business in Crane but still has property in this county, but decided he wanted to get out and try his hand on an irrigated place with a fine stand of alfalfa and on the interurban rail line. Mr. Jensen was up in this vicinity looking for some dairy cows which goes well with his alfalfa farm.

Ladies should remember that the Foster Cloak & Suit Company salesman will be at the Schwartz store about October 1st. He will display his line of coats, suits, and dresses for three days. Watch for further announcements.

J. E. Loggan Returns

J. E. Loggan and family and Rad Houser arrived home last Saturday from an extended auto tour of the western part of this state. They were absent some time from home and report having had a very interesting and profitable time going from place to place of interest and observing the general advancement of things in general, as they had visited some of the places in former years. Mr. Loggan, like all others who have been away from home lately, is of the opinion that this section does not appreciate the advantages of the tourist travel. He thinks we should take an active interest in stimulating auto travel through this part of the country and offer them every inducement to come this way.

Mr. Loggan has resumed his position with the Burns Garage and it is needless to say was much pleased to learn that Mr. Smith of that concern had recently purchased an additional block just back of the garage to devote to a camping grounds for tourists, as it is right in line of his ideas of stimulating that mode of travel and an inducement to them to come this way. Better roads, more numerous road signs and accommodations will bring tourist travel according to his way of thinking.

Thornburg-McFadden

A quiet home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Thornburg on last Sunday evening when their eldest daughter, Laura, became the bride of Harold McFadden. Rev. B. S. Hughes of the Presbyterian church officiated and used the beautiful and impressive ring service. It was witnessed by the immediate family of the bride and a few relatives.

The bride has been a resident of this city all her life, and has many friends among the younger set. She attended school here and thus became a part of the school life where she was a general favorite. Mr. McFadden is a resident of Terrebonne, in Deschutes county, where he is engaged in farming. The young man had been engaged with the Wray auto stage during the past season as one of its drivers, but has resigned this position to remain on the farm. He is a promising young man with excellent prospects. The young couple left Monday morning for their new home at Terrebonne, taking with them their good wishes of many relatives.

The bride received many nice and useful gifts from relatives and friends.

A nice big general rain visited this section during the last few days.

Born—Thursday, Sept. 4, to Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Griffith, a son. The mother has been seriously ill but is much better.

W. G. Howell and W. C. Gleeson are up from the Swan Lake oil well. Neither have given out anything for publication as to how things are going down there.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland H. Fry met with a painful accident one night the latter part of last week while she and her mother were out auto driving with some friends. A loose horse seemed to have become confused by the lights, and as the car passed the animal whirled in such a manner that his head struck against one of the supports of the top. The little girl had her hand resting on the outside of this support and was struck by such force as to cause a deep wound. Drs. Saurman and Brunet found it required several stitches to bring the edges together. The patient is recovering nicely, and her wound is healing satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hinton and their little daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Rannels and Rex Clark, came over from Crook county last Saturday. The ladies are sisters to School Supt. Frances Clark and came over primarily to bring her son Rex to enter high school and to make her a short visit. They started on their return trip Sunday, however, as Mr. Hinton had to get back to meet the threshers. Rex Clark had been over in that section ever since the schools closed here because of "flu" last year, he having attended the Crook county high during his absence.

A large red cow branded XL on left hip, no dew-laps or earmark is impounded in the city pound. Owner may have same by complying with the usual requirements.—T. J. McDonald, City Marshal.

TO THE PUBLIC

I am remodeling my home for a hospital. Will have clean, light and airy rooms, and patients under my care will receive the best attention. Will have a first class sanitary surgery in connection, with the latest models of equipment. Am working with Drs. Saurman and Brunet, who will be assisted by a graduate surgical nurse. Will appreciate all favors shown me, and will try to give value received.
