

Putting the Treaty Fight Up to the People

A new referee is now judging the peace treaty fight. It is "yea common people," the fight having been brought out into the open by President Wilson and countered by the treaty opponents. Putting the treaty up to the people, in a swing around the states, the president is being met half way by Republican leaders, Senators Borah and Hiram Johnson. The engagement is expected to last over a period of three weeks to a month, more than 50 of the principal cities of the United States being selected as battleground. The map shows the general itinerary with stops to be selected as the trip progresses.

HE DID NOT WORK IN OVER A YEAR.

Munson Gains 18 Pounds Taking Tanlac--Is Well and Strong Again.

"I have gained eighteen pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac, and never felt better in my life than I do now," said Alek Munson, who, before his health failed, was a valued employe of the Foundation Ship Building Co., and lives at 1134 Michigan Avenue, Portland, Ore., the other day. "When I began taking Tanlac," he continued, "I hadn't been able to hit a lick of work for over a year, and I had been suffering terribly from stomach trouble for about four years. It seemed to me that I had made every possible effort to overcome this trouble, but my condition gradually grew worse, and about a year ago I reached the point where I had to give up my work altogether. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and for two or three hours after meals I would be all bloated up with gas, and would have the worst cramping pains in the pit of my stomach a man ever had. Then this gas would often get up into my chest and make my heart palpitate something awful, and it would be almost impossible for me to get a good breath. I also suffered from constipation and often had splitting headaches. I was very nervous all the time, and never got a good night's sleep. These troubles just continued to pull me down until I got so weak and run down that when I went to walk my legs would just give right down under me. "The money I had spent for medicines and treatments might just as well have been thrown in the Columbia River so far as the good I got from it, but I thought I would keep on trying, and that is why I gave Tanlac a trial when it came along. Well, sir, before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac, I could see that I had struck it right at last, and I was right, too, for Tanlac certainly did just what they said it would do, and I am now a well strong man again. My stomach troubles have all disappeared, and I am never bothered with gas forming, and I don't have those awful cramping spells any more. I have such a fine appetite that I can hardly get enough to eat, and everything I eat agrees with me all right. I have regained all my lost weight and strength, and am now getting ready to go back to work. Now, that is what Tanlac has done for me, and I think that is saying a whole lot for this wonderful medicine." Tanlac is sold in Burns by Reed Bros., and in Crane by Vale Trading Co. Adv.

GOOD ROADS (Contributed)

Two months ago the directors and policies committee of the Commercial club held a special meeting for the purpose of discussing good roads and road-bond issue. At the next regular meeting the policies committee submitted a report recommending action looking toward bonding the county for permanent road construction, and a committee was appointed to ascertain proper location and probable cost of such roads to connect the different towns and localities of the county, together with a committee of legal talent to prepare petitions for a bond election. Later the club elected and sent delegates to attend the Park-to-Park highway meeting at Yellowstone Park. Here the good road ends—and mud everywhere.

The most important element, the beginning of progress and the greatest foundation of a country's civilization is a system of good roads. Roads are the arteries by means of which business and the circulation of the social body are carried on. Where they are clogged the march of business and civilization is retarded.

Romans were the pioneers in road construction; the Appian Way reaches 350 miles from Rome and has borne the military and commercial traffic of the empire for 2000 years without injury. One hundred years ago Great Britain claimed that it stood at the head of the world's civilization because no other country was so well provided with good roads. The example set by Rome and Great Britain has been followed and continued by other European countries.

Good roads is the boon and blessing to mankind and civilization. Millions of dollars have been wasted in repairing and maintaining poor roads. The interest on bonds, sufficient to hard-surface every mile of main road in Harney county, would not equal the annual cost or waste in the maintenance of our present road system.

Let the good work go on. Deliberate before you begin, but not too long, and then execute with vigor.

CAPITAL SET STUDY EUROPEAN BEAUTY

Washington has been forced to sit up and take notice of European beauty brought back to America by our boys who wed white overseas. Mrs. Robert Allen Byer III formerly Miss Olga Parodi of Gibraltar, is the young bride of Lieut. Byer of the U. S. destroyer service, who has been home on leave in Washington and Annapolis.

NEW WONDER WRAP IN PARIS CALLS HER LEGS "MOST BEAUTIFUL"

One of the newest wraps for the coming winter as shown in advance displays in the case-coat of Kolinski fur. This model has the big shoulder cape which is a virtual coat—the long wide scarf pieces hanging from front, rear and sides. Note how the skirt shows through to the waist.

New York theater goers are questioning this young lady's claim—or to be specific—Paris' judgment in regard to young women's lower extremities. Miss Mistingett has just arrived in New York with "the most beautiful legs in Paris" insured for $100,000, it is said. This charming Parisian is conceded to be one of the most popular French stage favorites.

Local and Personal :

Chappo Burmudis was a business visitor to our city during the week.

Elder D. Quier and his wife were visitors to the city the first part of the week.

Col. C. E. S. Wood accompanied William Hanley in for a short visit last week, going on out to Portland later. This is the first visit Col. Wood had made to this section for some time.

T. B. Hill was in town for a short time Tuesday, but not long enough for the writer to get a chance to find out what yarn he had to tell about some neighbor. He generally has something good to tell, either about some friend or his crops.

Mrs. Thomas Potter and her son Nelson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Logan during this week. Mrs. Potter now resides in Scotts Valley, California. She formerly resided in this section, "Potter swamp" having received its name from Tom Potter. They are favorably remembered by pioneer people who are glad to welcome them among us.

J. W. Davies was a business visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dibble were over from their Silver Creek home Tuesday.

This office received its first visit from the newest member of its family Thursday afternoon. Miss Dorothy Evelyn Swain, if you please, was the welcome caller.

W. D. Huffman was a business visitor to our city during the week. Mr. Huffman reports an excellent crop on his Wild Horse valley farm this season, including fruit.

James Brantor and Ed Moore have gone to Ontario to take in the fair and will go from there to Pendleton to take in the Round-Up. That's the kind of show those boys like.

Assessor John Caldwell left Monday morning for Portland, where he went to attend a convention of the assessors and other county officers of the state. The Times-Herald is informed there is a desire on the part of these officers to settle upon a uniform valuation of live stock throughout the state as a basis of assessment.

Everything for Everybody Anything for Anybody

BUY IT FROM US IT PAYS

This is a general store and we are supposed to sell everything, and we live up to the general supposition.

You can buy anything you want here, from hardware to groceries, from needles to a good smoke.

It pays to buy from us, because we sell for cash, and an enormous amount of goods, and we can therefore sell at a closer margin of profit.

You CAN'T lose, and you WILL gain. Now doesn't this line of argument appeal straight to your good common sense?

W. F. McKinney Leaves Burns for Pendleton

W. C. McKinney and Fred Clingan took their departure Monday for Pendleton, making the trip in Will's car. Mrs. McKinney and the boys will remain in this city for a short time before going over, being guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. W. Gowan. Mr. Clingan will join his family in Pendleton for a month or two, and return here this winter to engage in the fur business. A telephone call from Canyon City gave the information the gentlemen had arrived there in five hours after leaving Burns, in spite of some very bad roads.

YOU CAN CAN CORN

To can corn boil the prepared ears from 5 to 5 minutes—10 for old corn—and plunge into cold water to set the corn milk. Shave with sharp knife the kernels from the cobs, cutting from tip toward base. Pack lightly in sterilized jars to one inch of top, and add one teaspoon salt to each quart—same amount of sugar may be used. Cover corn with boiling water in which ears were boiled, put on rubber and top—not sealed tight—and sterilize in water bath for two hours. Too long blanching or too old corn gives product dark color. Standing too long in cold water or in jars after water is added, or cooking over a slow fire, makes the product soggy. By following these directions and avoiding the mistakes you can prepare a wholesome, tasty product, say the O. A. C. home economic specialists.
