J. W. Buchanan was in town the first of the week.

A. H. Hollis, one of the prosperous ranchers of the Andrews country, was among our visitors during the week.

Two operations are reported from the King hospital during this week, one on Wednesday, when Mrs. Mildred McCormack was operated on, and another on Thursday when Mrs. Chas. Dunten underwent an operation. Dr. Smith was the physician. Both patients are reported recovering nicely.

W. S. McDonald, a brother of Mrs. B. F. Smith, arrived here from Portland on Thursday night. He drove Dr. Smith's car in from the metropolis, leaving there Wednesday, which indicates he's some speed fiend. Dr. Smith is sporting around quite lively since the arrival of this equipment, the car having been completely overhauled and repainted a color that makes it rather "loud", but he says he'll not charge extra for calls because of that.

Principal Sutton of the public school reports a larger enrollment at the school than last year, which indicates that we have not suffered from the long vacation made necessary by the influenza epidemic. Burns is an established school center and our schools are second to none. Residences are scarce, but several are being erected for rent which will aid in the supply. Already we have lost some desirable people by not having suitable houses for them.

Mrs. Jennie Brown has been visiting with old time friends in this city during the past week and looking after business affairs. Mrs. Brown and her son Waldon are now residing in Oakland, California, where the young man is in business. Mrs. Brown had some business affairs to settle up in the Drewsey country where she was formerly in the mercantile business, and came on over to pay her friends in Burns a visit before returning to her California home.

I. Weinstein, the Lawen merchant, arrived home Monday evening from a trip to Portland where he went in the interest of his community in an effort to have the highway changed to run directly through Lawen. Mr. Weinstein informed a representative of this paper that his mercantile establishment was preparing to start a fight against the high cost of living by laying in a big stock of goods. Watch these columns next week for some startling store news from that institution.

Died—Friday morning, October 3, Mrs. Mary Lamkin, aged 76 years. Mrs. Lamkin was the beloved mother of Mrs. Fred Denstedt, and had been making her home with her daughter for the past several months, coming here from her eastern home. Mrs. Lamkin had not been particularly ill, and her death came as a sudden shock to her family. The funeral service was conducted this morning by Rev. J. F. Mobley of the Baptist church, at the cemetery. Deceased is survived by one son and another daughter, who reside in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Farson left Tuesday for their home in Payette, after spending the entire summer here with their daughter, Mrs. Obil Shattuck, at the experiment station. Mr. Farson is not as young as he used to be, but manages to keep pretty active. During the war he was not of an age where he would be accepted in any active service, so he and Mrs. Farson "shut up shop" at their home and went to Portland where he applied for a place in the shipyards. He is an experienced carpenter, and was a valuable man at the shipyards. He expects to devote the winter to work at his trade, as he has been employed to assist in taking down and moving a big sawmill.
