

TIME RED CROSS FACES HUGE TASKS

War Task Not Finished—Public Health Problems Must Be Solved By Red Cross

The American Red Cross, according to a statement just issued from Washington, D. C., believes that its first duty is to finish its war task, one hundred per cent. The Red Cross must continue to carry on even more effectively than in the past, its established system of National and International relief, in mitigating the suffering caused by famine, fire, floods, and great national calamities. It must also render every necessary service to the Army and Navy, and must continue the work undertaken prior to the war in the field of nursing and First Aid.

The responsibilities of the Red Cross are greatly increased as a result of the lessons taught by the war, the statement continues. Higher standards of responsibility have been set to prevent needless suffering and loss of life. The Red Cross, with its traditions and its established organization, will aid in maintaining these standards by co-operating with all recognized agencies engaged in conserving human life and happiness. Activities already authorized include the encouragement and support of Public Health Nursing, educational classes in dietetics, home care of the sick, and First Aid, the extension of Red Cross Home Service, an increased Junior program, and co-operation in developing community health centers.

War time developments have given every community in the United States a recognized and organized center of Red Cross activity through which the people of that community may, if they wish, serve themselves, with all the advantages of national leadership, national standards, national and international contacts. It rests with the people of every community to determine for themselves just how fully they have need of a movement which under the associated Red Cross Societies is to express the effort of the peoples of the world to free themselves from needless death and suffering through neighborly cooperation and service.

You're in mighty good company when you belong to the Red Cross.

So long as there's sickness, suffering, disaster, the Red Cross must stand by!

The H. C. of L. hasn't hit Red Cross memberships. They're still a dollar.

If nine million youngsters believe in the Red Cross, it must have the right idea.

Points of interest in news pictures of the day are varied.

At Union, N. J., C. H. Ingersoll, manufacturer, and Thomas A. Edison, famous inventor, are "pouring" concrete houses, the total cost about $2000, which is believed will help relieve the house shortage all over the nation. They can be completed in less than one month's time.

The woman and two children are waiting at Roosevelt field, N. Y., for return of "their daddy," Lieut. Maynard, the "flying parson," who led in the first half of the great airplane derby across the continent.

The two men represent a "dream come true." It is a literal "Capital and Labor" talking it over. It is Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and John D. Rockefeller Jr., as they were snapped at Washington outside the "Round Table Conference" session—on the steps of the Pan-American building. They were in earnest discussion.

ARMY HORSE DOES NAVY ACT FOR 19 DAYS

Yank, U. S. army horse, proved he was a some submarine. In loading him on an army transport at New York, Sept. 11, he slipped from the gangplank and was thought drowned. Nineteen days later, workmen found him under the pier, with water at high tide making it almost impossible for him to breathe. The horse while a "saggy" and thirsty seemed none the worse.

COW TESTING WORK ACTIVE

In addition to testing 2737 cows for milk production in August the six associations bought two pure bred bulls, built two silos and "fired" four slacker cows off to the butchers, says E. L. Westover, federal and O. A. C. specialist in charge. The best milker gave 1779 pounds milk, the two best fat yielders 76.14 pounds fat each. The whole number tested averaged 697.52 pounds milk with 30.44 pounds fat.

A man's life — among men!

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and afloat that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no molluscoids.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Shore leave to see land sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.

TURN BACK CLOCK TOMORROW MORNING

To follow the law strictly it will be necessary that you get up at 2 a. m. tomorrow morning and set your clock back one hour. That's the law. But there isn't any penalty if you wait until you get up or even stop the clock for an hour tonight before you go to bed. Just suit your own convenience in that respect. From this time on there will be no further "monkeying" with the time unless a new law is enacted, as congress turned down the president's proposition to change the time each season as during the war period.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to the many neighbors and friends who gave us such generous aid and extended their sympathy during the late illness and death of our father.
