Geo. Cavendish was up from Burns the first of his week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cooper were over from their Silver Creek home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Flier were among our visitors from Crane Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves and their little daughter were up from the ranch over Sunday.

Frank Catterton was a business visitor from Lawen during the week having come up Tuesday.

Proctor Smyth and Steve Seaward were among our visitors from Diamond during the week.

Supt. O. L. Babcock of the Warm Springs Indian Agency, was here on business in connection with the Indian affairs during the week.

C. H. Leonard returned home Monday night from Portland where he had been on business for a short time.

Mrs. Lee Caldwell has gone to Ontario for the winter where her husband is engaged in a barber shop. They will spend the winter there.

I. Goldberg, formerly employed at the Farmers Exchange, has gone to Portland where he will remain for a time. He told a representative of this paper that he would likely return to this city at some future date.

Miss Nora Martin arrived home Thursday evening from Nampa to spend the Thanksgiving vacation. She made the trip in by auto with her brother-in-law, Ben Seaward. The young lady will return to school tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smyth came over from their home at Diamond, Sunday and departed the following day for Portland. They were accompanied from here by Miss Leora Goodlow, who was taken along for a little vacation trip. The party expect to be absent some two weeks.

Mrs. Viola Witham arrived here from Baker last week and this week made proof on the homestead southeast of this city. Mrs. Witham's husband died while on the homestead and later she found it necessary to go out to earn a living. Her son was drafted in the army and she was unable to return to the homestead until he had returned. The young man is now employed in a business house in Baker.

J. C. Foley returned the latter part of last week from Portland where he had been as a witness on the injunction suit brought by the P. L. S. Co. against the Warm Spring Irrigation District because of the reservoir of that project submerging a portion of the company ranch at Warm Springs. During his absence Mr. Foley extended his trip to Seattle where he visited with his daughter, Miss Agnes who is attending school there.

Charley J. Johnson, the pioneer stock man of the Lawen neighborhood, was in town Tuesday looking after some business affairs. Mr. Johnson is enjoying very good health but is somewhat crippled from a hurt caused by a horse bucking him off, otherwise he is active and hearty. He has been a resident of the county for many years and has witnessed changes from year to year, but has come to a time when he feels he should quit active work. He is entitled to it and should take things easier.

Chas. T. Miller was up from the ranch to spend Thanksgiving with the children who are occupying the home here in town and going to school.

C. R. Peterson is in town. Peterson recently shipped some beef steers to Portland and while there he was a witness before the court in the injunction suit to determine the value of the P. L. S. Co. lands involved in the Warm Springs reservoir site.

Mrs. John D. Daly arrived here from her home in Boise last night and is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Eunice Thompson. She expects to remain here for a few days and then visit for a time at Draysey before returning home.

Lester Williams is over from Silver Creek visiting with his wife and little son.

Keep prosperity at home.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Lloyd Johnson spent the week end in town with his family.

D. R. Thorn was among our visitors from Silver Creek during the fore part of this week.

Peter Christensen was in town from his ranch at Lawen on Tuesday, having accompanied Elbert George up.

Mrs. Lucy Beard arrived here recently from her home in Wyoming and expects to spend the winter here with her father, R. J. McKinnon. Her husband is expected to join her in a short time. Mrs. Beard is well known to pioneer people of this county as she formerly resided here.

Cecil Irving was in town Monday on business.

The annual ball of the Mothers club given at Tonawama Thanksgiving night was a repetition of the usual big success. It was largely attended and most thoroughly enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Cassie Smyth has recently returned from a trip to Portland. She drove back in a new Franklin Sedan from the metropolis. She remained in this city for a few days upon her return to visit with friends.

C. W. Lewis was agreeably surprised to have his son Earl call upon him at the N. Brown & Son store the fore part of this week. The young man had come to this vicinity to be an assistant to one of the state engineers in charge of the highway work in this county and Mr. Lewis had not been informed of his coming. Earl was in the service for a time during the war.
