LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Wm. Seseña was in town Wednesday from Narrows.

Mrs. Thos. VanZandt, who has been at the Fireweed hospital for the past few weeks following the arrival of a baby girl on Dec. 17, is soon to return to her home.

Ad Gustavo, of Bend, and Joe Prime, of Canada, are scheduled to meet each other tonight in Tonawana in a wrestling match. Gustavo bears the title of Champion of Argentine, and against this, Prime claims to have downed some of the best men in the Northwest. His latest conquest was Chet Camp, known as the pride of Boise, at Vale, winning in two straight falls. A couple of fast boxing preliminaries will precede the wrestling match. A jitney dance will follow the events.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Horton have been in this city for a few days calling upon old time acquaintances and looking after some business affairs. Mr. Horton has disposed of his mercantile interests at Diamond to Claud Smyth who has taken charge. For the present the Hortons will make their home in Boise where Mrs. Horton and the children have been residing for the past few years. Mr. Horton has not fully decided what he will do in the future.

Mrs. Cassie Smyth and Mrs. Fred Smyth were over from their Diamond home the fore part of this week, taking in the sights and calling upon relatives and friends.

Burns lodge, No. 97, A. F. & A. M., held its first meeting of the year with its newly installed officers. One candidate was received for the first degree. The next meeting is on Monday, January 19.

Burns Chapter of the Eastern Star meets Monday night in the Masonic room. This will be the first meeting held under the direction of the new officers. A social time usually follows the Star meetings, as many of the young folks like to dance.

Mrs. May V. Eggleston is leaving this week for the convention of Oregon Life insurance agents at Portland, on the 15th and 16th. Mrs. Eggleston is starting early, as she wishes to spend some time on the way looking after her business interests. She expects to be gone a couple of weeks.

Misses Helen Anderson, Hazel Fresse, and Margaret Whealdon returned Monday from holiday trips to Portland. The young ladies are instructors in the High school, and resumed their classes Tuesday morning. They report an excellent outing, well worth the inconvenience of Eastern Oregon winter travelling. In their absence Monday, Rev. Harold Humbert took some of the classes, and delivered two lectures to the students.

Steve Seaward was in town this week on business.

L. M. Hamilton was registered at a local hotel during the latter part of the week.

Prestley Smyth and his nephew, Claude Smyth, were over from Diamond Wednesday looking after some business affairs.

Born—Sunday, January 4, 1920, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, a son. Mother and child are doing well at the Fireweed hospital.

Harry C. Smith of the Burns Garage has been confined to his home for a few days this week suffering from an attack of neuralgia. He is improving at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smyth were over from their home at Diamond for a few days this week visiting with friends and attending to some business.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dalton on next Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 15 at which time there will be an important business session of the society. Members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Johnston, of Tingley, Iowa, are here on a visit to his sister, Mrs. J. E. Slemore. They arrived on New Year's day and expect to go from here to Southern California where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

George Marsden was here for a short time the fore part of the week looking after some of his stock that are wintering in this vicinity. He left Tuesday night for Crane where he took the train the following morning for Idaho where he has more stock wintering.

Harry Danley returned the fore part of this week from a pleasure trip to outside points. He visited in Portland and Tacoma while away and told a representative of this paper that he enjoyed the mild weather while over on the coast. Mrs. Danley remained at Tacoma until the weather moderates before coming home.

Mrs. Eugenia Rembold arrived home Tuesday night from a sojourn of several months in California. Mrs. Rembold is here to look after some business affairs and to visit with relatives and friends. She is looking well and her many friends are pleased to welcome her. The lady is not going to remain but a few weeks since she has disposed of her home here. She will return to California.

Secy. Burt Jones of the Burns commercial club arrived home Tuesday night from a visit to Portland where he went to attend the meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce and to be with his family during the holidays. Mr. Jones was successful in securing favorable recognition of our plea for better mail service and has the support of the state body in an effort to secure a daily between this place and Bend.

If we are to have a stock show in connection with the convention of the Oregon State Cattle and Horse Raisers Association, our local stockmen should be preparing for it right now. If we are to show our stock let's have it in show condition.

Wm. Haight, who looks after H. A. Allen's business in Portland, came up the first of this week to meet with Mr. Allen, who is in charge of the highway construction for the Pacific Bridge Co., to discuss business affairs. Mr. Haight will be here for a couple of weeks.

Sunday was moving day for some of our citizens. Fred Williams moved his family and household goods to the Grover Jameson residence on the acreage tracts toward the river and Grover Jameson moved into the Rembold residence which he recently bought. The boys would take a load from Fred's to the Jameson house and load up with Jameson household goods on the return trip. Mr. I. S. Geer, who had occupied the Rembold residence, had moved before to the Cecil residence near the court house.

John McLean, one of the old time ranchers and stock men of the Andrews section, was in town this week looking for some spring seed wheat. Mr. McLean has been a resident of that part of the county for many years and from time to time has practically made up his mind to close out his affairs in this county and move away, but he always comes back. Now he has no intention of doing other than make some money in this country and has some 500 acres of fine land in the Wild Horse section where he is farming and raising stock. He is putting his agricultural land into alfalfa as rapidly as conditions will warrant.

What do you think of a stock show during the week of the Horse and Cattle Raisers Association convention? We have the stock but are we going to have it in show shape?

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buchanan came over from the ranch following the accident in which their son Roy was quite painfully hurt on the highway work and visited him for a few days.

Fred Lunaburg, of Lunaburg, Dalton & Co., took his departure this week for Southern California where he will visit for a time. During his absence Morris Schwartz will assist in the store.

J. W. McCulloch of the firm of McCulloch & Duncan, lawyers, left for Ontario Wednesday evening after a short time spent here with Capt. Bob in getting the irrigation district affairs properly before the court.

C. W. Lewis was slightly indisposed Thursday night and unable to attend his duties in the N. Brown & Son store yesterday. His wife reported that it was caused from too much to eat. Nothing like that happens at our house.

Charley Wilson was up from his Dog Mountain ranch the other day. By the way isn't there some other way we can designate that section? Dog Mountain is all right but "the oil regions" would be a better sounding cognomen.

A. F. Rogers, who formerly worked for L. L. Nooncheater in the furniture store here, was over from Ontario during the week buying furs. He is now engaged in that line of business and besides himself has four other solicitors in the field securing furs and pelts.

The coming of the big stock men of the entire country to our city during May is one of the events to look forward to. There will be representatives from all the stock interests of the entire United States in our city during that session. Let's show 'em we're a stock country and that we welcome that kind of "fellars."

E. N. Nelson was in from his ranch near Dog Mountain Thursday. He brought up a badger skin which he disposed of but said he was not in the business of trapping badgers for this particular one and her family had disposed of many of the sage rats on his ranch during the past several weeks, but the animal insisted in getting in the traps he had out for coyotes and as this was the third offense and he had broken three of her legs he couldn't very well let her go as she could not possibly make a living, therefore he "tanned her jacket for her."
