

DELIGHTFUL STORY OF LOVE AND WAR IS "SECRET SERVICE"

Famous Gillette Stage Success Finely Pictorialized and Admirably Cast

A delicate and delightful love story set in the days of the "Secret Service," scenarized by Beulah Marie Dix, directed by Hugh Ford and released as a Paramount Arcraft special picture. It will be seen at the Liberty theatre tomorrow and will repay a visit to the showhouse, because it remains one of the most striking dramas ever written and in screen form should duplicate the success of its stage career. Major Robert Warwick is cast for the role made famous by the author.

The love element is characterized by that charming chivalry and beauty of the old South. There never has been a period in the history of America when men were more chivalrous or women more delicately charming; nor a place, perhaps, where these qualities were more in evidence than in the states below the Mason-Dixon line.

Wanda Hawley is Edith Varney, with whom Lewis Dumont, as Captain "Thorne," falls in love. The entire cast is wonderfully well selected.

For suspense, the story of this play cannot be excelled. William C. Dietz is a recognized master of stage technique and the mechanics of the stage, but he has also a real literary skill.

PAULINE FREDERICK HAS NEW PHOTOPLAY WITH STRONG ROLES

Famous Paramount Actress Seen in Dual Parts, Her Mother and Herself, in Powerful New Starring Vehicle.

There are few more talented actresses in the silent drama than Pauline Frederick, long distinguished for her artistic characterizations in the numerous Sardou roles, notably "La Tosca," which was displayed here some time ago with great success. Miss Frederick's newest starring vehicle is "Her Final Reckoning," a photoplay based upon the celebrated play and novel of "Prince Zilah," by Jules Claretie, and it will be shown at the Liberty Theatre next Wednesday.

In this splendid picture, Miss Frederick plays two parts, that of her mother and herself. The story has to do with Marsa, a Russian gypsy girl, who is stolen by a Russian nobleman. She has a daughter whom she names Marsa, and at her death the girl goes to Paris after she has been wronged by a dissipated nobleman. Later she meets Prince Zilah and they fall in love with each other. Just before the date set for their wedding, her old lover appears and when he seeks to force her to

RISKED LOSS OF HER SWEETHEART'S LOVE BY DARING AVOWAL

Would You Do as Heroine Did in "The Career of Katherine Bush" Picture?

If you were an ambitious young woman and a Duke were to fall in love with you, would you jeopardize your chances of marrying him, by disclosing to him a secret which might transform his love for you into hatred? That is what the heroine of "The Career of Katherine Bush," the new Paramount-Arcraft Special picture starring Catherine Calvert, which will be displayed at the Liberty Theatre Sunday Feb. 1, next, did, and strangely enough her confidence served to increase rather than diminish the desire of her noble sweetheart to make her his bride. Here was the situation in a nutshell. Katherine Bush began life as a typist in a money lender's office where she met Lord Algy, a young nobleman who paid her marked attentions. She associates with him in order to learn the ways of men, and when he seeks to marry her, she turns him down, because she hadn't as yet carved out her career. She hears the Duke of Mordryn speak in Parliament and instantly falls in love with him.

She contrives to meet the Duke and he believes her to be a society woman instead of the companion to the Duke's hostess which she actually was. She disillusion him, but he loves her all the more. Then she tells him of her escapades with Lord Algy, risking her happiness by doing so. The Duke takes her into his arms with a smile of forgiveness and both are happy.

The picture has been splendidly directed by R. William Neill. The screen adaptation was made by Kathryn Stuart with signal success. The supporting company, headed by such players as John Goldsworthy, Fred Burton and Craufurd Kent, is exceptionally capable.

glum and not from Germany, as is often supposed.

Parmesan is the name given to the very hard cheese of Italy, which, however, in its own country is called Grana. Many of these foreign-named cheeses, however, are now made in this country, and the demand for those is growing among the natives as well as the foreign-born population.

Smallest Race of Bees.

In some of the East Indian islands and on the mainland of Hindustan, are to be found the smallest race of honey bees in the world. These dwarf honey collectors are known to entomologists as apis florea. Their honeycombs are no larger than a child's hand, and the cells are about the size of a small pinhead. This honey is excellent, as is

START ARRESTS AS ALCOHOL POISONS

Federal authorities are centering all energies now in an attempt to run down and catch all "wood alcohol" dopers all over the nation. Adolph Panerelli of New York city, wine dealer has been arrested. "I'm glad they got me. I'll tell all I know," he said when officers got him. Deaths from poisoning from having drunk wood alcohol in bootleg whisky have been reported from all sections of the country.

HE'S PEPPY WORKER IN AMERICAN LEGION

Charles F. Sheridan, 28 years old, a natural-born executive, is one of the live wires of the American Legion. He is assistant national adjutant. Aside from establishing the national headquarters of the organization at Indianapolis, he is also the legion's war risk insurance director.

AMERICAN LEGION DUES FOR 1920 NOW PAYABLE

National Body Expenses Are Paid by Ex-Service Men's Weekly.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the local American Legion Post, it was decided that the state and national bodies are requiring annual dues to be paid in advance. Owing to our isolated position, accurate data has not been obtained. It is evident, however, from communications received, that both state and national organizations are sorely in need of funds.

The local executive committee, therefore, has directed that each member of Harney County Post be notified that his dues for 1920 are now due and payable. The local and state dues amount to two dollars, and the national finances are derived from subscriptions to the American Legion weekly, costing one dollar a year. Since the entire expenses of the national body are paid by the weekly, it is obvious that every Legion member in the country should subscribe. This applies to all except the very few who paid both application fee and dues and were elected at the January meeting, and these must also pay the dollar for the American Legion week.

Membership cards can not be received from the state body until state dues for every member are paid. To assist in relieving the local finances, the Post is giving a postponed dance on St. Valentine's day, Saturday, February 14th.

return to their old relationship, she sees her savage dogs upon him and he is all but mangled to death.

Of course, he turns up again and there comes a duel in which he is slain. Marsa becomes ill, and Prince Zilah follows her to the sanitarium where she is under treatment. He has learned the dreadful secret of his marriage, but his love for Marsa does not waver and both find happiness in their mutual affection. There are many interesting scenes developed by the story, which hold the interest to the final picture. Miss Frederick is supported by capable players, including John Millern, Bob Cahn, Warren Cooke, Joseph Smiley, Earl Kane and others.

Sir Douglas Haig says the British won the war; General Pershing insists the Americans won it, and now Douglas Mac is to the front claiming that he killed the kaiser by the use of divine inspiration. "Me and God" are great!

GOOD CHEESE SPLENDID FOOD

Excellent Reasons Why Its Popularity is Growing in All Parts of the Country.

All good cheeses are pure, healthful foods, the high flavors being due to natural ripening processes.

Cheeses figure most attractively on the printed club or church menu. As they are generally named for the town or district from which they come they give an interesting foreign suggestion. American cheese is the name used for that form of the English cheddar generally liked in this country. Brie, Camembert, Coulommier, Neufchatel and Roquefort are French cheeses from different parts of France, and differing in some cases very much in flavor and appearance. Edam and Gouda cheese are of Holland origin. Gruyere, the cheese of many holes, is from Switzerland, and the strongly-smelling Limburger comes from Bel-
