

Some people are veritable geniuses making life disagreeable for others, and they find the pastime so boring they never think of taking rest in their sails.

"The Oregon merchants, manufacturers and farmers will do their part for the consumer, will only ask for the Oregon Made goods. They are only waiting for the chance to prove that Oregon can produce just as good products as any State in the Union."

LINCOLN PROGRAM AT LIBRARY CLUB

The Ladies Library club was entertained by Mrs. Frances Clark and Mrs. Farre at the former's home on Feb. 25, 1920. The meeting was well attended and was one of the most profitable meetings of the year. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Farre on March 20, 1920.

The following program was given in a most delightful way:

The Lincoln Play—Drinkwater, Vocal solo—Mrs. Farre, Discussion of Author—Mrs. Donagan, Reading—Mrs. Faulkner, Criticisms of the Play—Mrs. Farre, Reading of the Lincoln Play—Mrs. Faulkner, vocal solo—Mrs. Chester Dutton, Lincoln Play as presented by the Baker Stock Co.—Mrs. Frances Clark.

Taming a Candidate

Old politicians chew on wisdom past and are like an old maid with one foot in the grave who fancies she is much better than "Sweet Marie" with the glow in her cheeks that sets half the town afire. In youth and beauty wisdom is but rare, and it's only fair that the old politicians should impart some of the tricks that Sweet Marie (first time candidate) never knew anything at all about and always did.

It is, therefore, suggested as good form and fair, that the Burns Comical Club invite all candidates for office, and the public, to a gridiron smoker for the smiles and wisdom of all ages.

Be good sports and accept, those that don't want to take physic can be company for those that do take it, and if anyone falls asleep, he, she or they will not be awakened by snoring for there will be plenty of sticks for everybody to take a jump over.

All candidates will be told about a beautiful spot up Salt River, that familiar place where grass grows green over the graves of forlorn hopes after a primary election, and also made acquainted with an experienced pilot who will conduct him there safely.

The comical club will fix a platform for you, a common one all can stand on and for, which will save both the Old politicians and sweet Marie's much worry and material; it will be for efficiency and economy, yet allow those elected in November to go down to Salem next Legislature and ask for a raise in salary, and also provide for a nice clean campaign with plenty of invisible mud. There will be a big noise and when all is over you will feel like a profl after reading a booze editorial in the late news.

Voter and member of Burns Comical Club.

ENJOYED LEAP YEAR PARTY

(Contributed)

A Leap year Party was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Edwards last Saturday night, Feb. 28th. Their home is about three miles out in the country and this made the party more enjoyable on account of the trip out.

Among those present were Ralph Hankins, Jean Monroe, George Hughes, Pearl Hankins, Ruth Larsen and Stella Hughes.

Refreshments were served at 1 o'clock and then the dancing was resumed.

Everyone enjoyed themselves immensely and felt their good time was largely due to their host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

If it is clean, sanitary and inviting, he carries the good word afar. But if it is dingy, and ill kept, he carries the bad record to even greater distances.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

S. M. Bolton was over from Crane Thursday.

W. T. Vandervoer was in town from his Pine Creek ranch during the week.

Dr. Smyth performed an operation on Lloyd Seaward at the King hospital the first of this week for hernia. The patient is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Seaward of Diamond.

Nathan Brown was among those from a distance to attend the ball given by the American Legion last Saturday night. Nathan is now in charge of the Narrows Mercantile Co. store and says he is having a good time working while Joe Morris is away on a vacation trip.

Died—The infant son of Harry Gouldin died on Tuesday. The little one was handicapped from birth, his twin sister having died just following birth and the mother died from influenza a few days afterward. While it is a sad bereavement for the father and other relatives, it is well to bear in mind the frailty of the little fellow and his hard chance. The body was interred in the Burns cemetery.

Geo. S. Sizemore has announced his candidacy for district attorney in this issue of the paper. Mr. Sizemore holds that office at present and was appointed to the same office a few years ago by Gov. West. He has been a practicing attorney of this city for many years and is well known to the voters of Harney county. George will not likely have any opposition in his own party in the primaries therefore his nomination is conceded.

DIED—Telegraphic information was received here Tuesday morning from Portland announcing that the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mahon had died there Monday night. Mrs. Mahon and the little one left here Sunday morning by way of Bend, going to Portland for special attention to little Irene. She had been ailing for some time and the mother had been at the Fireweed hospital in this city for a time with her and finally the local physician recommended she be taken to a specialist. The little girl was a little over a year old. The bereaved relatives have the deep sympathy of the people of this community.

The announcement of P. J. Gallagher as a candidate for representative in this district in the legislature, appears in this issue. Mr. Gallagher was a live wire in the last legislature and the special session recently held. He is an active man and takes a deep interest in whatever work he undertakes. Among the legislation he was instrumental in securing was the guaranty of interest on irrigation and drainage bonds. This is of vast importance to this part of the state and is already in operation. Local people will appreciate this law more fully when the irrigation districts of this county are ready for bonding. Mr. Gallagher pledges his best efforts for the district should he be successful at the election.
