

HOUDINI SERIAL ENDS

Fifteenth Chapter Next to Be Shown Here

The fifteen weeks' run of the Houdini serial, "The Master Mystery" at the Liberty Theatre, will be concluded tonight with the showing of the Fifteenth and final episode.

Of chief interest in this episode will be the unraveling of the skein of mystery which has run through the fifteen chapters of the serial. Who is the Automaton? Who is Zita? These are some of the questions to be answered, and the solution given will cause surprise.

Houdini will, of course, be seen in new feats of self liberation. The serial would not end properly without a final demonstration of skill by this unique entertainer.

Altogether, the Fifteenth Episode is one that those who have followed the serial are not likely to miss.

There will also be a five reel feature in addition to the serial.

of the local branch of the Salvation Army, he found that their presence enhanced the quality of the scenes immensely.

It became necessary to shoot some intimate scenes with the principals on another set and the Army members were left on the rostrum while the extras sat in their chairs. Then the leader of the organization suggested that regulation services be held. The band struck up one of the familiar old Hymns, and speeches followed.

In "Fires of Faith," which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre Sunday, March 21, there are several scenes in which Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, appears. The story which was written by Charles E. Whittaker, is a most dramatic one. It was directed by Edward Jose with happy results.

The principal roles are in the capable hands of Catherine Calvert, one of the most beautiful and accomplished of screen actresses. Eugene O'Brien, a prominent leading man well known to Paramount audiences, Ruby de Rome, a charming player, Theodore Roberts the "grand old man of the screen," Herbert Standing, a gifted character actor, Helen Dunbar, Edythe Chapman, Charles Ogle, Clarence Geldart, James O'Neill, Pat Moore, Robert Anderson, Wowbray Berkeley, Fred Huntley and Lucille Ward.

There is one sure method of saving money. Don't spend it.

If the former crown prince gets short of cash he might secure a booking in the American movies. It takes all sorts of people to make up a reel.

And still, there must be something fundamentally wrong with our system of compensation. None of us are ever paid according to our own ideas as to our worth.

RESULTS OBTAINED WITH IRRIGATED CROPS AT THE HARNEY BRANCH EXPERIMENT STATION, YEAR 1919.

OBI SHATTUCK, Superintendent.

The following results were obtained at the Harney County Branch Experiment Station during the season 1919. Where the crop has been grown two or more years the average yields will also be given. Some of the results are very good while others are only fair, due to the poor quality of the land upon which they were grown.

A Paramount Artcraft Special LIBERTY THEATRE SUNDAY

"Reckoning," the new Paramount photoplay starring Pauline Fredrick, which will be displayed at the Liberty Theatre next Wednesday. This is said to be one of the best motion pictures in which Miss Fredrick has been seen in many months.

In the story, which is based upon the celebrated play of "Prince Zilah" written by Jules Claretie, the famous French author and playwright, Marsa the role played by Miss Fredrick, is annoyed by a former lover, and to put an end to his persecution after she is betrothed to Prince Zilah, she turns her wolfhounds loose in her garden when the man comes one night to coerce her. The man is roughly handled by the dogs and the scene is said to be exceedingly thrilling.

The scenes were photographed under the direction of Emile Chautard, one of the best known directors in the country, at a magnificent country estate at Glen Cove, Long Island. Many thoroughbred horses and dogs are employed in the development of the story, the latter having been supplied from the famous Susan kennels at Ft. Montgomery, N. Y., widely known for the blue ribbon animals they have produced.

Miss Fredrick plays two roles in this picture, and will appear in a number of scenes in her dual capacity, through the use of multiple exposures. In the first part of the picture she plays the part of her mother, who has a child that later is the principal character of Marsa, which she interprets. She is finely supported by adequate players.

There will also be a Drew Comedy Wednesday evening.

Two of the largest commercial houses in the United States some years ago adopted for their policy the slogan, "The customer is right," and have held squarely to it.

In every case, unless the customer was plainly endeavoring to put over a crooked deal, his view of a controversy was taken as right. These houses announce a loss of less than one-half of one per cent as a result.

To old customers of ours, it is useless for us to announce that this has always been our policy in business.

To prospective customers, the only thing we ask is that if they have a complaint they bring it direct to us, with the full knowledge that correction in each case will be promptly and cheerfully made, regardless of any loss that may result to us.

A pleased customer leaving this store means still other new customers coming to us later. You can reason it out yourself.

The above is again our policy for the year 1920.
