

"BIG BILL" HART A DEAD SHOT
Remarkable Exhibition of Marksmanship During the Filming of His New Aircraft Photoplay, "Breed of Men"

William S. Hart, star supreme in Western dramas, whose latest picture, "Breed of Men," will be seen at the Liberty theatre on Sunday, 11 has the reputation of being a dead shot with the revolver, or any sort of firearm. But he surprised himself recently during the filming of that production in California.

The scene was the interior of a rude shack where Seena Owen, his leading woman, and her little brother were desperately resisting eviction by the Sheriff, played by Mr. Hart. In rushing the shack, a revolver bullet penetrates the door and lands in the shoulder of the other only innocent practice after years of schooling in the arts of the range could so perfect a man in the work.

Besides all this, however, the famous Aircraft star finds time to read and even write scenarios for himself, and to supervise much of the actual work, as well as to direct his films, which are produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

Mr. Hart is an indefatigable worker. He is seemingly tireless and amidst the great amount of detail resultant from his production activities he has found opportunity to serve the Government in the Liberty Loan campaigns and to raise large sums for the cause of humanity.

A lover of animals, children and nature, he keeps himself mentally in good shape by his freedom from the lesser anxieties of life. His aim is to make pictures that are human and which reflect the great life of the West that is fading before the encroachments of modern civilization.

in "Breed of Men"

He quickly returns the fire, not realizing that the girl and child are within. One of the shots is supposed to strike the former in the hand and the other to break her gunstock.

Mr. Hart was directing himself and so ordered "Sheriff Bill" to stand about ten feet away and fire two shots at the door of the cabin, as close to each other as possible.

Of course, there was no one behind the door. Then the doughty Sheriff fired once. Then he fired a second time.

The whole crew of actors, cow-punchers, studio hands and others left out a yell of amazement.

"You missed the whole door that second shot," someone cried.

"Impossible," said the star. They investigated. There was only one hole in the door sure enough, but inside were two bullets almost overlapping. He had fired the second bullet directly through the first hole.

"I couldn't do that again in a thousand years," was the comment of the star as he pocketed the six-shooter.

It is a known fact that there are few players for the screen who are more indefatigable in keeping themselves in trim for their work than Mr. Hart. He rides, ropes and shoots whenever he has time and opportunity. Thus he is always in the best of physical condition and his prowess with the implements and weapons of the frontier and the cow country is never lessened.

Anybody who has seen Bill Hart leap from a window on a horse's back and lunge away at breakneck pace, or rope a man while dashing by at full speed, or do a trick with a gun like that alluded to, must realize that

"WOMAN'S WEAPONS" IS ETHEL CLAYTON'S LATENT PHOTOPLAY
Life in Bohemian Quarter Is Admirably Pictured in Production

The various "bohemian" quarters, so-called, of the larger cities, notably that included within the precincts of Washington Sq., New York, are productive of many men and women who assume a license in all matters of life that is denied the more retiring element of society, or at least is not given as much publicity. For the artificial bohemian loves to pose, to have his name and his deeds alike blazoned before the world. He must be dining and wineing and generally talking that he finds work almost crowded out. Yet he never wearies of telling what he is going to do. And he dearly loves the ideas of the soul mating, affinity seeking type. He is, in short, and unadulterated fraud.

A woman of this type is the dangerous influence which enters the life of the Nicholas Elliot's in "Woman's Weapons." Paramount's newest picture, starring beautiful Ethel Clayton, which will be shown at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday. The role is played with skill by Vera Doris.

Miss Clayton is an admirable opposite to this outre figure. She bests the new type of vampire by use of woman's weapons—those best known to the sex. In other words, she disgusts her temporarily infatuated husband with the poseur and wins him back again. Beulah Marie Dix wrote the story and it was directed by Robert G. Vignola with consummate skill.

"MISSOURIAN"

J. H. Anderson from the Calamity section who was a Burns visitor last Thursday reports splendid crop prospects in his section, and to back up his assertion brought in some splendid samples of Red, Alaska and sweet clover, wheat, Bromo grass and vetch, which he left at the office, of the county agent.

A number of farmers who have seen these samples and also a sample of 3 foot barley not yet headed grown on T. Garrett's ranch, have been loud in their protestations that they "had better stuff at home."

To all these Mr. Anderson desires to say that he is from Missouri and is willing to be shown at the fair this fall.

Since Mr. Anderson is the holder of one of the James Hill cups for the greatest variety of grains and grasses grown on one farm he has the right to ask to be "shown."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

There were several teachers in to take the examination for certificates during the week but we failed to get the names before Supt. Clark left town this morning.

Just as we go to press we learn the recent hard rains have delayed the circus that was billed for exhibition in Burns this afternoon. We needed the rain and can stand the delay of the circus—so come on rain.

Mrs. S. M. Brown and her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Leining, together with the latter's little daughter, arrived the fore part of this week and are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mace, being mother and sister to the hostess. The Browns formerly resided in this city and are favorably remembered by a wide circle of friends.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Buerki, Mrs. L. H. Holland, and Miss Marjorie Byrd took their departure this morning bound for Portland and other points. Dr. Buerki has business in the metropolis and Salem and Mrs. Holland will visit with her daughter, Mrs. Saurman, there. Marjorie will visit friends in Portland and possibly Dallas. The party are expected to return next Saturday of Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Best were over from their Silver creek home Tuesday doing some shopping and attending to other business.

J. R. Weaver is greeting his many old time friends in this city during the week.

W. H. Robertson and wife came over from their home near Drewsey on Sunday to take in the last of the Chautauqua and visit with relatives and friends. Their daughter, Miss Arlie and her friend, Miss Helen Broyle, who had been here for several days visiting with relatives, went home with them. Mrs. D. E. Robertson, the mother remained with Mrs. Eunice Thompson and Leona.

All people of normal intelligence have the power to think and reason. A few practice it. Words that are the result of analytical thought possess the force and power which drives the human activity of the world. Those that are babbled thoughtlessly and without reason fall upon fertile soil and are magnified into mountains of iniquity that reach even to the gates of eternity. Think twice and speak once. It is the better way.

Heaven and hell are a long way apart, but some people try to straddle through life with a foothold in each place.

Every community has its spirit. With some it is one of honor and integrity and progressive intellectuality. With others the spirit of greed, gouge, repression and retrogression predominates. The first attains its aim in life, while the latter aims no higher than that which it attains. We of this community have our choice. We can progress with the march of time, or we can procrastinate while time marches by. This is an age when men do things, or they do nothing. There is no middle of the road course. The man who has the will to grasp his opportunities also has the power to make them. That is what we should do.

Have you a child of school age? Then give a thought to our public schools. Let the principal and the teachers understand that they are in your mind and that you are appreciative of the good work they are doing in training your child to meet the intellectual problems of life. If you plant a rose bush and it flourishes and blooms your neighbors see it and appreciate its fragrance and beauty. The instructors of our children are of infinitely more importance than the choicest flower that ever bloomed. Let us give them the recognition and the attention and encouragement that is their due. Their lives will be sweeter and their work better, and in after years your child will be the beneficiary of your thoughtfulness and attention and their faithfulness to duty.

H. C. Short, one of our ex-service boys of 157th Aero squadron, reports that he has just received an offer from the National Aeroplane factory of from $2100 to $2300 per year to go back east and work in the construction and rigging department of the factory. Mr. Short made a splendid record while in the service, he having enlisted with the Aerial Squadron, and was later transferred to the 157th. This offer was doubtless based on that record.

The young man referred to in this clipping is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Short of this city.
