

SCENE OF BILLIE BURKE'S NEW FILM

Shores of Lake Placid Form Back ground of "The Make-Believe Wife."

Beautiful Lake Placid, in the Adirondacks Mountains in New York, was the background for many of the most charming scenes pictured in "The Makebelieve Wife," Billie Burke's new Paramount photoplay, which will be shown at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday. This is a rollicking photocomedy in which Miss Burke displays her talents as a comedienne to the best possible advant-

In the story Miss Burke portrays the role of a young society woman who is engaged to a lawyer. She is hostess to a house party at her home in the Adirondacks when she and a young athletic society man stray off into the mountains together and are lost. They are seeking their bearings when a storm comes up and they are obliged to spend the night in a eabin which the providentially dis

> Astronomers at Harvard university tell us that about 200,000 years ago a small star collided with a dark nebula, the friction causing a great conflagration, or flareup. This IIIumination, according to the astronomers, has been traveling through space toward us at the rate of 186, 000 miles a second, and is just beginning to be noted through the most powerful telescope. Now what are you going to do about it?
