WAYSIDE OBSERVATIONS

Ely L. E. McDaniels—County Agent

Harney County Livestock and Agricultural Fair—Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2.

Premium list now on the press. Will be ready for distribution this week.

Harney County business men with customary liberality are offsetting small amount of cash available for premiums by donations of special premiums.

Some big worth while premiums for individual and community exhibits of farm products are being offered. Save your grain and grass samples now.

All bundles of grain and grasses should be 4 inches in diameter—cut just before ripening, wrap in newspaper and hang head down in shade.

The County Nurse says the babies are Harney Counties best crop and is offering cash prizes for best babies—two classes—A blue ribbon goes to the winner in each class.

The County Agent is betting there will be more pure bred livestock shown than babies. How about it?

So much for the fair now. This office is in receipt of inquiries regarding hay and pasture for sale. If interested write and give number of bays and kind of hay and acreage of pasture with rock bottom cash price.

NEWS ABOUT OREGON INDUSTRIES

The Albany chamber of commerce is endeavoring to secure from the oil companies a sufficient supply of distillate to run agricultural machinery on the farms of this section of the state.

Government experts in Washington have reported that flax grown in the Willamette valley compares favorably with that produced anywhere in Europe.

The Armstrong Brothers Manufacturing Company of Chicago, which specializes in high grade mechanics' tools, has just acquired a second tract of land on Young's Bay. The site now owned by this company has a water frontage of 6200 feet, is 800 feet deep and contains about 250 acres. The purpose to which the site will be put has not been announced.

The ice famine which prevailed at Bend for a week was ended by the arrival of a 100-pound drum of ammonia. Artificial ice could not be manufactured because of a shortage of ammonia and the population was placed on "ice rations."

The Sant vaporizing manifold, a Portland man's invention, which enables Ford cars to use either gasoline, distillate, kerosene or all three as fuel, is being manufactured by the Vaughn Motor Works and distributed on a commercial scale.

Officials of the Long-Bell Timber Company, which a few months ago purchased about two billion feet of timber in the Cowlitz river basin, are conferring in Portland after inspecting various mill sites, and an announcement as to where and when cutting of this vast amount of timber will be started is expected shortly.

The Portland Rug Company has been forced by trade demands to increase its capacity for the third time. A new rug-making machine, said to be the only one of its kind west of Chicago, is being installed.

A new set of machinery is being installed in the plant of the Alco Wood Products Company at Albany. This company, whose principal occupation is making silos, started with four men and now employs 20.

Purchasing agents from all parts of the Northwest are making reservations in Portland to stock up with Oregon-made goods during Buyers' Week, August 9 to 14.

Built of Oregon timber, laden with a full cargo of Oregon lumber, and owned and managed in Portland, the six-masted schooner Oregon Fir will put to sea for Australia in a few days, following her sister ship the

DO YOU 'MEMBER

The day Fat and you found the big tramp dog (the one that you made the harness for)? 'Member how he followed you home from the woods where you'd been fishin'? You tried to chase him away two or three times and he'd only run back a little way and stand and look at you. And finally you let him come up to you and he was all mud and smelled like he'd been havin' a tussel with a skunk. And Fat said: "Come on, what you say we keep him." 'Member how he jumped all over you after you decided to take him home? Seemed as though he understood all about it. And just about the time you got near the house Fat says, "Do you 'pose yer mother'll let you keep him?" And just about then you heard Ma's familiar voice: "No, I should say not; don't you dare bring that filthy creature another inch nearer this house!" BLUNK—and all the joy of life flew, and even the dog's ears dropped, and you looked at Fat and Fat looked at you. And then began the plea for the dog. 'Member how you promised Ma that you'd never let him in the house and you'd earn all the money to feed him and about fifty other promises, and after a while she says, "Well, go on, but take him somewhere and give him a bath; that awful smell will be all over your clothes." Oh! boy—'member how you felt then? And the dog begun waggin' his tail and you went back of the house and gave him a scrubbin'.

Oregon Pine, which is already on the high seas. These two schooners, which were purchased from the shipping board as hulls and completed by Grant Smith & Co., are the only deep-sea vessels owned in this state.

To keep down the price of gloves in spite of the high cost of leather, the Simmons Glove Manufacturing Company of this city has started utilizing all the little scraps of leather that were formerly thrown away. Under a new manufacturing method just adopted, these tiny scraps are made into satisfactory and serviceable leather facings for canvas gloves.

Portland has been selected by the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company as its distributing point for the entire Northwest. Sulphur is to be brought in motorships from the Gulf of Mexico and distributed from there by rail. Rail and water terminal facilities provided there are given by officials of the company as the reason for their selection of this port, and are declared to be superior to the facilities of any other port on the Pacific.

The new Labor Temple and the $3,000,000 plant of Montgomery Ward & Co., now under construction in Portland, will be monuments to the quality of Oregon-made building material. Both structures are being built principally of concrete brick manufactured there from Oregon raw material.

The White Pine Lumber Company's new mill on Swan Lake, Klamath Falls, will soon begin operation.

It will have a daily capacity of 50,000 feet, working one shift.

Though the strawberry crop in Hood River is only about 60 percent of last year's in volume, it is expected that the higher prices being paid this year will bring a greater total return for the crop than ever before.

If Oregon merchants would see to it that 25 percent of their stock was made in Oregon, there would not be enough workmen in the state to make the products. The result would be more workmen, bigger payrolls and more business for everybody in the state, especially the merchants.

More Hood River apples will be exported than sold in the domestic market this year, in the opinion of the Hood River agent of a London fruit company. The English apple crop, he says, is only about 25 percent of normal, which condition will force the export market to high levels.

The Bushner Lumber Company of North Bend, has started construction of a smokestack 110 feet high with a diameter of 10 feet at the top.

Work has started on a three-story fruit packing plant at Myrtle Creek for the Oregon Growers' Association.

Probably the largest leather belt in the world is one made by the Davis-Scott Belting Company of Portland and now in use in the mill of the Weed Lumber Company, at Weed, Cal. The belt is 250 feet long, 86 inches wide and sold for about $12,000. This one belt formerly covered the bodies of 693 husky steers.

The Portland Rubber Mills, one of Oregon's infant industries, has heretofore been obliged to engage in a jobbing business in order to keep going, and has sold a quantity of miscellaneous rubber goods from the "outside." Now the company has announced that henceforth it will sell nothing but its own product.

The high price of sugar is resulting in a brisk demand for canning purposes of a syrup manufactured by Conner & Co. of Portland. The syrup costs less than sugar and is declared to be equally efficacious for preserving fruits for future reference.

A Word to Sheepmen

provided, that it has a maturity of not more than three months from the date of rediscut, or purchase.

This is but another instance of what organization and cooperation can and will do for the farmer and stockmen of the nation.

Every sheepman in Harney County has benefited to the extent of hundreds if not thousands of dollars by the work of the wool association working with the National Farm Bureau in this one instance alone.

This being true, it should be the aim of each and every sheepman in the county to get behind the organization of the Harney County Livestock Association on September 25th and also assist by every means in their power in the organization of the community and county Farm Bureaus.

Sentiment Exists In Business

In the rush of the busy business day the good principle of courtesy is easily overlooked.

Sometimes a business institution appears to be a cold machine instead of an organization of warm-hearted, human, regular fellows most business people really are.

Every courtesy, every order, no matter how large or small, is worthy an expression of appreciation.

Our wish is that this may extend our sincere thanks for the business you entrust to us and to make you feel that we are always at your service.

RANGE HORSE MARKET

Campbell & Reid & Western Sales Stables Co.
 St. Louis National Stock Yards, Ill.

25,128 Head Sold in 1919

To Ranchmen who have Range Horses and Mules to ship, we wish to say that our market will offer the best outlet this season of any market in the country.

Our facilities for handling Range Horses are the best and most extensive to be found anywhere. The very large number sold by us last year is conclusive evidence that we have the buyers. Ship us any kind, but be careful and not ship anything but ones that are fat.

MR. L. C. GALLUP, of Omaha, Nebraska, is now connected with this company, he having realized that our market offers the best opportunities in the United States for range business and that it was to his interest and that of his shippers to transfer his business here.

Below are the dates of our Special Sales for the coming season. Consign your horses and mules to Campbell & Reid & Western Sales Stables Co. Arrange your shipment to start 12 days before advertised auction.
