

How To Live

Worry less and Work more
 Ride less and Walk more
 Frown less and Smile more
 Drink less and Breathe more
 Eat less and Chew more
 Preach less and Do more
 Spend less and Save more

The "Save" came last but that doesn't indicate it is the least important.

SAVING doesn't mean saving money alone.

We can and should save in many ways.

They are all worth while, but the Saving of Money is of great importance. It is the Visible Proof of our Ability to Save.

The man who Cannot Save is Beaten from the beginning.

Success is not in him.

WE can help YOU save by keeping your Savings in the bank and paying you interest thereon, at 4 per cent compounded twice each year.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Harry Clondenen was among our visitors from out of town Thursday.

George Buchanan was down from his station home Thursday looking after some business affairs.

John Witzell was up from his home near Malheur lake Wednesday. He said it was hot enough for haying but not very comfortable.

R. T. Huguet and Bert Richardson arrived home last week from a fishing expedition which took them to the Deschutes and to trout streams in the Cascade mountains. They were gone for a couple of weeks or more and report excellent luck and a good time.

Mrs. J. Shelley Saurman arrived here from Salem in the Bend Stage Wednesday night and will spend several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holland. Mrs. Saurman reports Dr. Saurman as enjoying fine health and is quite busy looking after his practice in Salem.

Merle Bennett, who resides in the John Day country, was here during the week for a short visit with his brother, Ellis, of the Burns Garage, and his sister Mrs. Mollie Parker, who resides up the river a short distance. Merle was a student of the Harney county high school at one time and has many old time acquaintances in this vicinity who were glad to meet him.

Rev. John H. Wicherson of the Presbyterian church, spent a portion of this week at Crane.

C. H. Lloyd was a visitor at the Bell A Ranch during this week. Mr. Lloyd resides at Salt Lake.

Mrs. George Maraden and her little daughter have been guests at the farm home of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Griffith for several days.

Miss Sara A. Howell, community nurse, has been absent visiting at several places out of town during the past week.

Frank Flater, one of the pioneer ranchers of the Malheur canyon, was a business visitor to our city during the week. Mr. Flater owns over 3,000 acres of land in this county and down the canyon in Malheur but is getting to an age where he would like to quit active operation of so large a plant and is therefore contemplating the sale of the property and retiring.

A. Barron, who has had charge of the shoe repairing department at the J. C. Welcome & Son harness shop for the past several months, has resigned his place and gone to Idaho where he joins his family. His daughter, Mrs. May Eggleston, and her family, together with Mr. Barron's wife, went to our sister state several weeks ago and they have purchased a home in Payette. Later a tance, Ray Barron, went over and now his family have followed him, so they insisted on the father coming too. Mr. Welcome has not found any one to take Mr. Barron's place in the shop.

M. S. Hall was in town this week.

O. O. Jetley was in town this week.

Dr. H. Denman was up from Crane yesterday on business.

A shower of rain would not come amiss to clear things up a little.

Born—July 29, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young, a daughter.

Lester Williams was over from Silver Creek during the week visiting his family.

The weather has been exceedingly hot but the alfalfa is growing fine and the grain is ripening.

Mrs. I. S. Geer arrived home last evening. She has been attending summer school at Mouth.

Wm. Renwick, stockman and storekeeper at Pollyfarm, was registered at a local hotel last night.

C. A. Perrenaud was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Burki during the week.

Virgil Shields was over from his home on Silver creek during the week in company with his cousin, Miss Tillie Cheney.

Loid Crandall arrived here this week from Corvallis where he recently disposed of his real estate interests. He is looking over this section with a view of locating here. Mrs. Crandall, who was formerly Miss Chespa King, and her baby are still in Corvallis.

Gordon V. Hall was making proof on his land yesterday. He was assisted by Emmett Johnson and Walter Kilsinger, both of Suxent. Mr. Hall is now located over in Idaho where he has charge of a Shorthorn herd of cattle which his uncle owns.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Tickner of the Baptist church, took their departure Wednesday evening for an outing trip to be absent some three weeks. They went over near Vale where they will visit a son during the vacation. There will be no services in the Baptist church until Rev. Tickner's return.

Leon M. Brown and family returned home yesterday from a vacation visit to San Francisco. During his stay in the city Mr. Brown had the privilege of attending the national democratic convention where Judge Will R. King was a delegate and the two met in this office yesterday afternoon and discussed it. The convention was a most enthusiastic affair. Mr. Brown and the family were more or less fatigued from their journey but otherwise are in good health.

Dr. J. M. Biggs and wife and daughter, of Odessa, Missouri, and the Misses Lucy and Elizabeth Gendall, of Philadelphia, and Miss Annabel Biggs, daughter of Judge Dalton Biggs, spent several days of this week visiting at the homes of John and Allen Biggs of this city. Dr. Biggs is a brother to the boys and the ladies are cousins. The latter are teachers. The party came west to attend the marriage of Miss Rena Biggs last month at Ontario and came on over to have a visit with relatives in this city.

Harney County Rich In Natural Resources

 look over the garden. Here again was found the same care and attractiveness. Here also was found some fine vegetables including corn, cucumbers, beans, tomatoes, melons, etc.

Camp was made that night just above Alberson post office by the side of a small stream and close to the school house where D. M. McDade taught before coming to Burns to assume his position as principal of the Harney county high school. The following morning we stopped to pay our respects to Hugh Tudor but found he had gone to Chicago with a train load of fat sheep. Mrs. Tudor and the little girl were at home and we had the privilege of drinking our fill from one of the several artesian wells on the ranch. One was bubbling up just outside the kitchen door and the water was fine. A few miles on down we stopped to say hello to Nick Voogly who has a good ranch and a nice flock of sheep. Juniper grade was the next interesting object and the newspaper man was somewhat relieved to find that the Ford "negotiated" the hill without assistance, for it was mighty hot and the thought of pushing a Ford didn't appeal. We stopped at Mrs. Mahon's Anderson Valley ranch but found she was visiting her daughter in Diamond. Harvey Marks is looking after the ranch and was out in the fields helping with the hay. The grain looked fine on this ranch but was not given close inspection. Coming on down the George and Nis Hatt farms were passed. The boys are cutting a good crop and being short handed they were working early and late. The Hatts also have a nice garden.

We decided to go across the country by way of "Coontown" and the Riddle ranch to Diamond to try our hand with the rod on the Kiger. We reached Diamond at noon and after a short visit at the store drove up the gorge for about five miles where camp was made. After luncheon it was so hot we decided to postpone the fishing until later when it was cool. To while away the time the pinochle deck was taken out and McDaniels convinced that he didn't know much about the game. Later we tried the fishing holes. The newspaper man hadn't gone but a short distance from the car when he bumped into one of the finest specimens of rattlesnakes he'd ever come up against. It got away because it was near the brush and he had nothing but a frail fishing rod with which to strike the snake. That spoiled the fishing for him that afternoon and upon returning to camp McDaniels had caught a nice string. It was certainly aggravating to be outdone but it had to be endured. After supper Mac decided since he had been the successful one with the rod that he could trim the newspaper man at pinochle, so he turned on the head lights of the Ford and the cards again brought out but he got "skinned" again. And to add to this victory the newspaper man got up at daylight the following morning and caught a fine string of trout before breakfast. The journey home from there was without incident other than the finding of an excellent road through the Blitzen swamp built entirely upon the property of the Eastern Oregon Live Stock Co. This road is built along the bank of the drainage canal and could be made a unit of the north and south highway through this county. This subject will be given more attention in these columns at some other time.

Noon lunch was had with Mrs. James Henderson at Narrows and the trip up from there consumed just one hour and ten minutes. Mr. McDaniels is an excellent driver but that car is rightly named "Teddy Roosevelt" at is certainly is a "Rough Rider."
