Cletrac
TANK-TYPE
TRACTOR

Wheels on a track—the
Cletrac way—take less power

The Cletrac Keeps Going Wet, boggy and slippery ground stops work animals and most power units—but not the Cletrac.

This sturdy tank-type tractor hauls heavy loads over boggy, rough or hilly ground in any weather. Its broad metal tracks prevent "miring" and "bogging."

Dependable—the Cletrac tackles the stiffest job on a moment's notice and works steadily all year 'round. It's on top of every job right through the year from plowing and listing in spring to sawing wood and clearing roads in winter. Develops 12 H. P. at the drawbar and 20 H. P. on the belt.

The all-purpose Cletrac does more work than four to eight horses—saves their care and feed bills, too—and a boy can run it.

Come in and look this tractor over. See for yourself its sturdy construction. Let us show you what it will do for you on your own farm or ranch.

WHAT IS A DUB?
SEE "THE DUB" AND GET A LINE ON HIM

Wallace Reid Proves That The So-Called Dub Often Is Every Inch a Man

What is a Dub? In the parlance of the submerged tenth it is a man who succeeds in muddling everything with which he comes in contact and who is unable to do anything right. It also suggests one who does his work carelessly or indifferently—you hear of people "dubbing along" at some given task. Probably the best synonym for dub is what is commonly known as "a poor fish."

Anyway, if you want to find what a dub is really like, see "The Dub," the picture in which Wallace Reid will appear at the Liberty Theatre next Wednesday. Oddly enough, in the end, the star proves that he isn't a dub after all and the story rounds out into a decidedly interesting series of complications with a surprising finish.

And there is love in it. No dub could fail to get mixed up in a love affair. In fact, some people say that to be a dub one must be in love; others say that if you are not in love you are a dub. Anyway you put it, the subject is interesting.

James Cruze directed the picture with William Horwitz as his assistant. Nina Byron is the leading woman and the cast includes many favorites of the Lasky stock organization. Will M. Ritchey wrote the scenario from a magazine story by Edgar Franklin.

HIGH LIVING COST PROBLEM IS SOLVED

Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven Prove It In "Teasing The Soil"

It has been solved at last—the high cost of living problem! Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven show the way out in their new delightful Paramount mirth-provoker, "Teasing the Soil" which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre next Wednesday. But their solution of the problem is one that may not be utilized by many young married couples.

They trade their pretty city home for a farm with cows and chickens and move out to live off the fat of the land. But they find it a tough proposition to get the "fat" out of the land. They "tease the soil" all right, but the soil teases them worse and they come to find out that they are "the goats."

This two reel spasm of mirth was directed by Charles J. Parrott, from the story by Keene Thompson.

Will trade for typewriter, or sell cheap, one Cornish Organ, in first class condition. Also have other furniture. Inquire Phone 2090, or P. O. Box 286, Burns, Oregon.

Speak gently of the frailties of others and perhaps they will be less critical of you.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE
Burns, Oregon, September 2, 1920
NOTICE is hereby given that George J. Billings, of Burns, Oregon, who, on October 5, 1915, made Homestead Entry, No. 08379, for Lots 2, 3, SE 1/4 NW 1/4, NE 1/4 SW 1/4, Section 18, Township 21 S., Range 20 E. Willamette Meridian, has filed notice of intention to make Final three-year Proof, to establish claim to the land above described, before Register and Receiver, at Burns, Oregon, on the 5th day of October, 1920.

Claimant names as witnesses:
Carl Kobi, Clyde Mulkey, Melbie Parker, and Carlie Parker, all of Burns, Oregon.

V. G. COZAD, Register.

WANTED—Could use man and wife on ranch for general work and cook. Good wages. Applicants with children not desired. Mrs. Cassie Smyth, Diamond, Oregon. 9-18.

When a proposition is carried by the slender margin of one vote, every fellow who supported it considers that he was the leading factor.

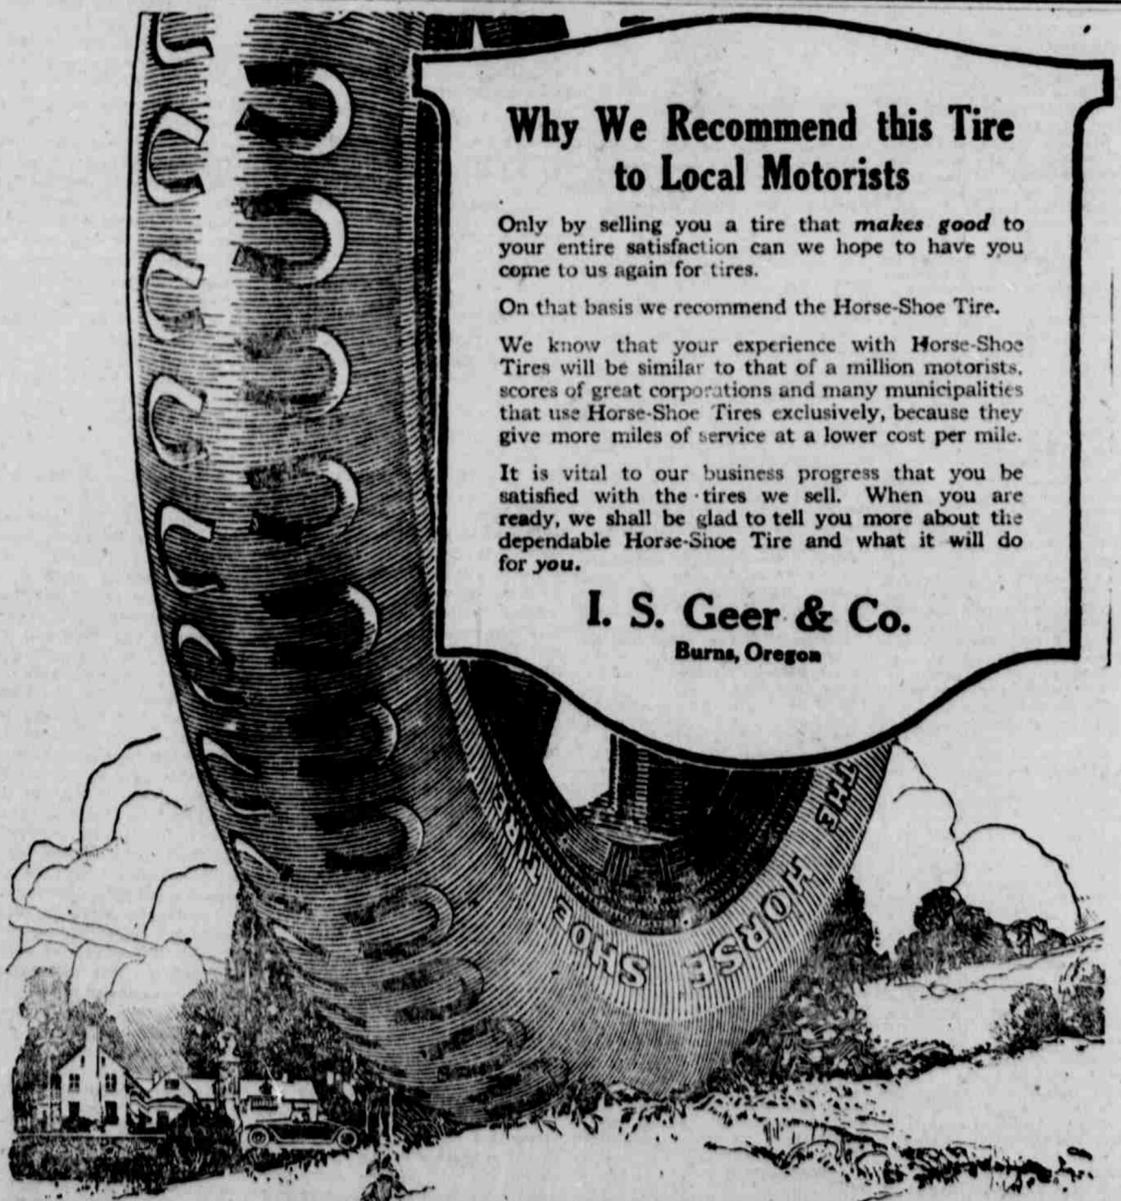

We confidentially look for a heavy increase in the male vote at the November election. No spirited man wants to have his neighbors chuckle ing over the thought that he had to stay at home and mind the kids while his wife did the voting.

There is one crop in this country which never becomes extinct. The defeated candidate of always able to produce an alibi.

We have never before heard of a thief being crazy, but we have serious doubts as to the sanity of the fellow who stole $200 worth of carpenter's tools. He is a misfit in this restful age.

Some people firmly believe that "the Lord will provide." He will, but he won't take it to them.
