

TAKE IT, OR LEAVE IT

You can get low down on most guys by subtracting the size of the shoes they wear from the size of their hat. When a guy begins to look for additional storage for his brains its a sure sign that the bone has started to grow in. The only excuse anyone ever had for a swell head has been removed by an act of congress. Any guy can talk about himself—a wise one looks for a subject of more possibilities. After all you know that stale fruit smells loudest—you don't buy autos because they rattle. The world is full of human phonographs looking for other peoples records to talk on. If you put across something worth while you don't need to do the talking—the fellow that never puts anything across is too busy listening to his own voice anyway. If the world and this town is to be a better place to live in we've got to grab some of the jobs we're trying to pass on to the other fellow. The trouble with the most of us is that we don't help the general average of our town—we boast ourselves and knock our neighbors—and are generally wrong both ways. There isn't anything radically wrong with this town—its a good deal better than most of us could rebuild it—the trouble is with you and I. What we need to do is to give the world a little demonstration in co-operation, fellowship and human understanding—it isn't whats in near beer that makes it unpopular—its the one or two things left out.

All the funny guys are not on the "two a day" by a long site—there wouldn't be any of us left for an audience if they were.

Dead leaves fall because they were intended to bring nourishment to the tree—but failed. When a fellow or a town begins to dig its own grave he or they shouldn't kick just because someone else prepares a headstone for it. We are perfectly willing to give the undertaker all that belongs to him—Do you?

There are a lot of fellows in every town that are ready for the undertaker—only they don't know it. Nobody in this town gets any cheap advertising in this article—if you feel the need of it tell the secretary of the commercial club.

Lots of fellows right in Burns think and say "Oh let so and so do it"—the result is all that you could expect—and then some.

A lot of fellows in this burg think that when they are asked to do something for the town they are doing the rest of us a personal favor—forget it—they ain't no sich animal. Whatever you do is done for the good of Burns or not at all.

A lot of fellows when they read this will either laugh and say "don't that hit so and so" while others will grow red in the face and begin to scutum and wonder who the son of a gun is that would dare insult them—which class are you in? Read it over again.

The two big political parties are repeating history. The pot and the kettle are again engaged in the time honored occupation of calling each other black.

Just to remind you-

BUYING Oregon-made goods is largely a matter of habit.

Before you buy anything, think for a moment—Isn't that article you need supplied by an Oregon manufacturer?

Then ask your merchant for the Oregon made article.

He will be glad to fill your needs with Oregon goods, because he knows that every time he sells an Oregon product, he helps Oregon, and everybody who lives in Oregon. He knows, too, that Oregon Products are the finest in the land. Tourists from all over the world marvel at the wonderful flavor of our fruit, vegetables, nuts and cheese. Our manufactured products are sold from Maine to California.

Wheels on a track—the Cletrac way—take less power

More Speed—More Wheat

Hour after hour the tireless Cletrac plows steadily on, turning an acre an hour—twenty-four hours a day if need be. And fast plowing pulverizes the soil, keeps the moisture in the ground and increases your crop yield.

Discing stubble or cultivating fallow are easy jobs for the Cletrac, too. It rides lightly over the top of plowed ground hauling heavy loads of discs and other fitting tools without packing the soil. It makes short work of seed-bed preparation and gets the crop in on time.

The small powerful Cletrac replaces four to eight horses—is economical and easy to operate. It is the tractor you need. Come in and look this tractor over. See for yourself its sturdy construction. Let us show you what it will do for you on your own farm.
