

EASTERN OREGON OFFERS FINE DAIRYING FIELDS

Irrigated Alfalfa Districts Said by Specialist to Be About Right For Big Industry

Eastern Oregon irrigated districts offer splendid opportunities for successful dairying," says E. B. Pitts, U. S. and O. A. C. dairy field specialist. "The climate is favorable, and an abundance of the right kind of feed is produced.

Alfalfa Cheapest and Best
"The dairy cow for maximum profitable production must have a liberal amount of protein. One of the cheapest and best sources is alfalfa hay. Experienced dairymen everywhere recognize its value and feed large amounts of it even in places far distant from point of production.

"This adds expenses of handling, baling, freight and commission or selling costs to the cost of hay where it is grown. Even with these added costs it is still the cheapest feed they can buy, and the handicap does not force them out of the business.

Cow Changes Hay to Milk
"Dairying is a manufacturing enterprise with the cow converting raw material—hay—into concentrated product—milk. The nearer the plant is to the source of materials supply, the greater the opportunity for profit.

"Alfalfa thrives luxuriantly in the irrigated regions, and corn, or sunflowers in the higher belts, does well and provides succulence of an ideal nature as silage.

"Alfalfa hay and silage make a dairy ration second to none, and with them grain feeding is reduced to a minimum."

STILL FIGHTING FOR FAIRM BABY HEALTH

A woman doctor of national reputation said recently that if the proposed Sheppard Tower Maternity Bill had been solely a medical measure it would not have been worth passing. But, as she said, it was not entirely or even primarily, a medical measure. It proposed to put across a big educational program, with the object of teaching mothers how to care for themselves and their babies in the home, in order that both might keep well, and the family be protected.

The work done under the proposed act would include the provision of public health nurses to watch over and advise women under the strain of pregnancy, and to teach mothers the technique of breast-feeding, or, through actual demonstration, the preparation of milk for the baby. It would have made possible the opening of numerous health centers, such centers, for example, as have succeeded in New York City in reducing the death-rate of mothers under their care to 1 in 99, instead of 1 in 35, the average maternal death-rate for the city.

The mother would have been taught what to look for by way of development in her growing child. She would have been taught how to train her child in the right health habits.

The act, moreover, provided for the cooperation of state universities or land grant colleges in furnishing mothers with simply worded leaflets and bulletins, and other types of popular instruction.

Of course such constructive ideals looking to the health and happiness and strength of mothers and babies of our nation will yet prevail.

SKY FLIGHTS FOR DRY FIGHT, WATKINS' PLAN

Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition candidate for president, will make sky flights to carry on his dry fight in his campaign. From German town, O., home of the candidate, to Ashtabula, O., was the first flight by airplane by Watkins. Only a pilot accompanied the candidate in a privately-owned ship. An extended campaign tour has been planned.

Muscles Felt Tied in Knots

Hudson Says "It is Simply Wonderful What Tanlac Did For Me."

"If anybody had told me that Tanlac could do for me what it has done I would not have believed them," said C. R. Hudson, of Knoxville, Ill. "It freed me from rheumatism after twelve years of awful suffering," he continued, "and my stomach trouble is also gone.

"I was in such bad shape that I could scarcely digest a thing and any solids would give me such cramps in my stomach that I could hardly stand them. Gas would form and affect my heart so had I would get faint and have to lie down. The rheumatism made my legs swell all out of shape and the muscles felt like they were tied in knots. I couldn't straighten my right leg at all and it pained me so I could find no rest. At night it was especially bad and I simply rolled from one side of the bed to the other unable to get any sleep. Not being able to work any more I rented my farm and moved to town. I tried about every sort of medicine I ever heard of but got worse all the time.

"One day I heard some people talking about how much good Tanlac had done them and I decided to try it, and the way it took hold was simply wonderful. I can now eat anything I want my rheumatism is all gone and I sleep like a log every night. I feel as strong and well as I ever did and I am going back to the farm able to do as much work as I did years ago. If anyone wants to know about Tanlac send them to me."

Tanlac is sold in Burns, by Reed and In Crane by Crane Mercantile Co. —Adv.

NOT MONEY ALONE

It isn't big wages in the city alone that takes young men away from the farms. The unending routine of work and the absence of any form of healthy recreation and amusement have more to do with it than anything else.

One of these days farmers will see the wisdom of maintaining a community social center, where young men and women can hold frequent gatherings and enjoy the clean forms of amusement which today are too seldom found in the country districts.

A club house in a farming district for such a purpose would not cost a fortune, but its practical value to the community would be beyond estimate.

CHAMP RUNNER AIMS AT LEONARD CROWN

Joe Ray, American's champion mile runner wants to conquer new worlds. He made the U. S. team and went to Belgium to compete in the Olympic games, but strained a tendon and did not start in the classic. Now he says he is going to enter the ranks of professional boxers—in the light-weight ranks—133 pounds—and after Benny Leonard's crown.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

—Is maintained by the state in order that the young people of Oregon may receive, without cost, the benefits of a liberal education.

The University includes the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, the Graduate School, the School of Physical Education, and the professional Schools of Law, Medicine (at Portland), Architecture, Commerce, Journalism, Education and Music.

High standards of scholarship are made possible by an able faculty, well equipped laboratories and a library of nearly 100,000 volumes.

Supervised athletics are encouraged and every attention given the health and welfare of the students.

With a heightened confidence gained by the recent expression of public support, the University is now entering upon an era of large development and extended usefulness.

MILADY'S CHIN WILL BE COMFY THIS YEAR

Dame Fashion's ruling in fur coats this winter has at least sealed the mouth of mere man. Time was when the low rolling collars of women's fur coats and exposed throats brought forth all sorts of jokes from man's flippant lips. But this model—newest from leading designers in fur wear—elaborates on high choker collar and big cuffs—concealing all milady's face—save the eyes. The coat is of Hudson Seal with squirrel collar, cuffs and trimmings.
