

WHEN HUSBAND
COMMITS CRIME
MUST WIFE PAY?

Interesting Problem Raised In Pauline Frederick's Film,
"Paid In Full"

When a man steal money from his employer and begs his wife to square matters and at any cost prevent his prosecution for crime, what is the price the suffering wife must pay? This is one of the delicate questions answered in a most interesting manner in Pauline Frederick's new Paramount photoplay, "Paid In Full," which will be shown at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday.

Joe Brooks is a shiftless clerk who keeps his wife in poverty in a modest flat. He blames everybody but himself because he does not get ahead and one day he steals a large sum of money from his employer, a savage old ship chandler. When the theft is discovered Brooks begs his wife to square matters with the old man who agrees to grant Brooks immunity from punishment providing the wife pays the price.

Mrs. Brooks is secretly loved by Jimmy Smith, a breezy Westerner and used to satisfy the public taste. The stalls were made of mahogany with marble columns. Carved walls and stained glass windows complete the elaborate set.

Miss Ferguson plays the part of a society woman in "The Marriage Price," who becomes impoverished and seeks to make her own living with more or less success. There is a pretty love story and the situations are quite dramatic. Wyndham Standing is the leading man. The picture was adapted by Eve Unsell and the director was Emile Chautard.

"Prices, we are told, are coming down every day. Probably go up again during the night."

Our latest operatic stars are a twinkling success. You can't tell whether they are singing or having a fit of hysterics.

Motorists are playing in hard luck. They are forced to pay exorbitant prices for gas, and get no rebate for the stink.

"Prices, we are told, are still coming down. With the use of smoked glasses they should soon be in sight."

when he hears of the incident he offers to repay the old man the sum stolen from him and when he refuses, he threatens to kill him if he takes advantage of the suffering wife. Then he hands her a letter exonerating Brooks and after she has given this to her husband, she leaves him. Brooks then shoots himself and the widow finds happiness in Smith's love.

The supporting cast is excellent. Robert Cain is Brooks, Wyndham Standing is Smith and Frank Losee is Captain Williams. Others in the cast are Jane Farrell and Vera Heresford.

No Expense Spared To Make The Staging of "The Marriage Price" Artistic

The most gorgeous sets that have ever been used in a society motion picture play were used in Elsie Ferguson's new Artercraft picture, "The Marriage Price" which will be shown at the Liberty theatre Sunday, Oct. 11. The drawing room is a replica of Frank Gould's drawing room on that millionaire's Lakewood estate. The furniture was made especially for the set and the paintings, tapestries, rugs, and bric-a-brac worth a small fortune.

The bedroom set is done in orchid colored enamel with a narrow line of insert green wood. The wall lights are covered with shades of orchid silk and the bed set, dresser fittings and rugs contrast strikingly with the color scheme. Several interior decorators visited the Famous Players Lasky studios to look at the sets which they had heard were the most beautiful pieces of artistic work that have yet been shown in the studios. Copies of rooms in the Plaza and St. Regis Hotels of New York are shown perfectly in this picture.

Another remarkable set is the racing stable, copied from Frank Gould's stable at Lakewood. Real marble floors were laid in the studio, instead of the painted cloths which

"Is Grandest on Earth" She Says

Mrs. Daley Gains 17 Pounds
Taking Tanlac—Thought
Case Was Helpless

"They said I couldn't live more than six months longer, but I'm still here and feeling fine," said Mrs. Mary Daley, of 530 Oak St., San Francisco, Cal.

"I have actually gained seventeen pounds since I began taking Tanlac," she continues, "and to look at me one wouldn't think that for several months I was unable to do my housework. I suffered from gastritis all the time, would bloat terribly and always felt miserable. I had no appetite and felt nauseated all the time. I was so nervous the least little noise would startle me and it was almost impossible to get a good night's sleep. I had night sweats and was so run down and weak that the slightest exertion would almost exhaust me completely. I lost weight dreadfully and was told that I could not live six months at the rate I was then going down hill.

"Nothing helped me until I began taking Tanlac and I honestly believe it is the finest medicine in the world, for it has made me just like a new person. My appetite is splendid and I never have the slightest indigestion any more and I never enjoyed such fine and refreshing sleep in my life as I do now. My house has eight rooms and I do all the work with ease. Tanlac has been a God-send to me and I would be selfish not to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Burns, by Reed and in Crane by Crane Mercantile Co.
