

Wise and Otherwise

One of our excellent citizens is sorely puzzled these days. He wants to scare up a laugh and has forgotten how to go about it.

No matter how the election goes in November, there will still be two hundred million people left who are willing to work or be worked. We'll get along.

You've got to hand it to some of our political spellbinders in at least one respect. They can make other people believe a line of bunk they wouldn't even dream of believing

There's a very charming lady in this community who once, when slightly peeved, declared that there is never anything in this sheet worth reading. Some of these days we are going to run a nice, genteel, complimentary notice about herself. And then—but it's a woman's prerogative to change her mind without notice.

Time was when most any kind of a foreign nobleman could pick up an American heiress merely by indicating his willingness to accept her along with her "dough." Now, however, handsome chauffeurs are much more popular than ordinary dukes, princes and counts.

Washington dispatches tell us that the coal situation is becoming serious. Our own common sense tells us that the lack of coal is becoming more than serious—it will soon be a freezing calamity.

Paris, they tell us, is full of American men and women who are blowing money to the winds in a wild orgy of fashionable debauchery. If they would only blow themselves along with their money the rest of us would feel cleaner and less contaminated by their absence.

With the advent of suffrage the henpecked husband should breathe a profound sigh of relief. Women will be too busy setting the intricate problems of state to waste time on the minor affairs of life.

A reader wants to know the difference between a politician and a statesman. Well, we don't exactly know, but we imagine that the present day politician is a descendant of the old time statesman, now extinct. We might go a little further and el-update a little more clearly, and state that the slimy green worm that devours our cabbages is the offspring of one of the most beautiful of all winged creatures—the multi-colored butterfly.

We had screwed our courage up to the point of buying a Lizzie, when Henry queered the game by reducing the price before we could turn the trick. But now, rather than be called a cheap one, we'll have to fall back on a Packard. Darn Henry!

When an irate citizen gets on his high horse and orders his paper stopped he rushes right over and borrows his neighbor's copy to see what we have to say about it. They just can't get along without a little editorial sunshine even when they are reveling in virtuous clouds of disapproval for the enormities of the meek and gentle editor. All of which is some complimentary to you ed, but rather rought on the neighbor.

BURNS GARAGE BURNS, OREGON

"Capital and Industry—Keep Out!"

WOULD YOU, AS A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN OF OREGON, PLACE SUCH A SIGN ON THE BORDERS OF THE STATE?

That is exactly what you will help to do if you do nothing to prevent the passage of measure No. 314 and 315 on the November ballot entitled, "Constitutional Amendment Fixing Legal Rate of Interest in Oregon."

This measure proposes to limit the rate of interest in Oregon to 5 per cent. You can, by law, fix the rate of interest in Oregon, but you cannot, by law, force the loaning of money in this state, when a much higher rate can be secured elsewhere. The passage of this measure would force the withdrawal of the millions of foreign capital which is today loaned on factories, business and real estate in the state and send your local money owners outside of the state to better investments.

Passage of this measure would mean foreclosure of thousands of mortgages; would result in financial paralysis, and would mean widespread unemployment.

You, no doubt, understand the viciousness of this measure, but have you talked to your neighbors and friends about it? We urge you to do everything you can to defeat this measure. Oregon's reputation as a sound state for investments requires that this measure be overwhelmingly defeated.
