

OTTINGER IS APPOINTED CHIEF TRAFFIC DIRECTOR

A letter from San Francisco to Nate Franklin of the Farmers Exchange states that A. Ottinger has recently been appointed chief traffic director on one of the big steam ship lines on the Pacific. Mr. Ottinger is a man of action and this added responsibility will not set heavy on his shoulders, otherwise he wouldn't have taken the job.

Mr. Ottinger writes also that he has some of his close friends ready to "put into the pot" for the further investigation of the oil prospects at Dog Mountain just as soon as the matter may be taken up without friction.

FORGET, AND ACT

The election is over and the majority has indicated its choice.

Now, as good citizens, let us forget the animosities of the campaign and devote every ounce of our energy to restoring the country to a basis of safe and steady prosperity.

There is no longer room among us for the unscrupulous profiteer and the profligate squanderer.

The brains of the country must assert themselves, and common sense must replace the rule of vanity and waste.

A country can only maintain its greatness when its rulers and its people are in harmonious accord.

We, as citizens, have our duty to perform, as well as those whom we have selected to govern us.

Let us elevate our citizenship by a proper discharge of that duty.

Squibs and Joshes.

Of course dead men tell no tales. Live ones need no aid from the dead in this pleasing occupation.

A friendly dog wags its tail, but a man is not necessarily a friend because he wags his tongue.

Want to know what your neighbor thinks of you? Just sit down and analyze your own conduct for the past year. That will tell the story.

Some people are never able to see the beam in their own eyes. But that probably is due to the fact that it is so large it obscures the sight.

Occasionally we hear some pilgrim remark that he always believes in taking a second sober thought. His first ones, no doubt, are woody.

An old man with a young wife is often like a kid with a toy balloon. He's happy until it blows away.

We always wish our friends a merry Christmas in time to get a few in return before it is too late. Here's yours.

HEADING US OFF.

England is importing raw materials from the United States and is selling finished products in Europe at prices below those of this country, thus building up a solid foundation for the future trade of that section of the world.

This fact alone shows the imperative necessity for a readjustment of price conditions in all of our lines of manufactures and trade.

High prices and empty stomachs are not a condition to be grately desired.
