The Ladies Library Club met at the home of Mrs. A. K. Richardson, Saturday November 27. Mrs. Richardson together with Mrs. Donegan McConnell, C. Dalton and Purington acted as hostesses to about 25 members of the club. An interesting program on France was presented, those taking part being Mrs. Chester Dalton, vocal solo, Mrs. Donegan a paper on the life of Empress Eugenie, Miss June Dalton vocal solo and Mrs. McConnell a paper on Current History of France

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Leon Brown, Saturday November 27th. The topic will be Mexico which will give opportunity for interesting and novel ideas.

Farm Management, O. A. C.--What does it cost to produce an acre of alfalfa? Data collected from 62 farmers in Malheur county show that the cost was $6, and whole cost including interest on the investment and the work, $18. The cost of growing was $3 more than the hay was sold for. This shows that while the farmer was not losing money he was not making a fair interest on the investment.

Wise and Otherwise

The fellow who toots his own horn has a job to his liking.

We, however, never laugh at some people's jokes. But that is not our fault.

Hang onto your nickels, fellows. Prices are sliding down, and there may come a time when they will be of use in making small change.

Now that the people have spoken their minds politically, let's hope they get down to work commercially. We need action--not oratory.

It's no trouble at all to earn a hundred per cent on an investment in this town. Just bite off a subscription to this sheet and the deed is done.

We often wonder what will really happen when the world comes to an end, but we are so averse to being fussed up that we have decided not to await the outcome.

And why shouldn't our American women be the most beautiful on earth? They pay $750,000,000 a year for rouge, lipsticks and perfume.

The league of nations is, or it isn't just as you look at it. But to those of us who have been reading the pros and the cons it seems to be both.

No, we have no humor to dispense on the subject of high prices this week. It evaporates every time we pay a bill.

This world is full of people who know how to run the other fellow's business, but are never able to make a success of their own.

The man who takes an interest in the welfare of his community soon finds that other people take an equal interest in him.
