One trouble with the light plant just now is that it has not been coming on early enough in the evening to get any revenue from the business houses outside of one drug store as the other business houses that use his service close at 5 o'clock.

Several concerns in town have their independent light plants and there will be more installed if relief is not given and better service rendered.

The proposition of asking aid from congress for certain industries, we believe they need it but is one class of business more deserving than another?

RARE COMBINATION CAUSES MUCH LAUGHTER

Charlie Chaplin, Marie Dressler, Mabel Normand, Chester Conklin and Mack Swain, All Featured in "Tillie's Punctured Romance."

A masterpiece of comedy has been revived! "Tillie's Punctured Romance," Mack Sennett's super-comedy, will be shown at the Liberty Theatre on Monday Dec. 27.

Marie Dressler plays opposite Charlie Chaplin, and the two constitute a rare team of fun makers. Chaplin outdoes Chaplin—that's all there is to it!

Mabel Normand is the third principal in the large cast. She has the role of the unsuccessful rival for Charlie's hand; that is, she is unsuccessful for a short but exceedingly lively period ending in the hurried and bedraggled Tillie resigning her claim to the fickle bridegroom.

The picture is finely staged. The interiors of the mansion wherein Tillie and her husband entertain society are elaborate and luxurious. The bit of snow above the clouds makes an impressive contrast with the sunshine-flooded vegetation of the lower country.

"Tillie's Punctured Romance" is a side-splitting comedy with a million laughs—and an appeal for every man, woman and child.

If you don't progress with your husband, another woman will.

Do you step out when your husband does or are you too lazy.

TO BE SHOWN IN THIS CITY SHORTLY

House Peters in the New Equity Picture "Silk Husbands And Calico Wives."

"Silk Husbands and Calico Wives" Equity Pictures' Special production starring House Peters which is to be shown at the Liberty Theatre Dec. 30 and 31 will be highly interesting to local moving picture devotees for a number of reasons.

The picture is based on Monte M. Katzerjohn's popular novel of American life, a thoroughly and intensely modern story dealing with both country and city. No finer or truer to life picture have ever appeared on the screen—it is intensely absorbing and timely with a beautiful love story running through it.

Mr. House Peters, returns to the screen after an absence of eighteen months on the farther side of the continent where he appeared in American made pictures. Mr. Peters has long been an idol of the film loving public, and his virile, red-blooded type of character portrayals, and his magnificent successes in "The Girl of the Golden West" and "The Great Divide" are still regarded as among the very best portrayals in screen history.

Harry Garson has surrounded the star with a cast of admirable distinction. Vincent Serrano, who played the role of the Yogi in "Eyes of Youth" will be seen in a prominent part. Sam Sothern, also seen in the "Eyes of Youth" will be seen in a prominent character. In addition Eve Novak, Mildred Reardon Edward M. Kimball and Ruth Sinclair rounds out the cast.

If you don't move forward with your husband you will slide backward.

EVEN ONE HOT DISH MAKES LUNCH ENJOYABLE

Where It Is Impractical to Serve a Hot Meal to the Children in Rural School, It Is Usually Possible to Prepare One Hot Dish

In the small rural school with only one teacher, it is still the common custom for the pupils to bring their lunches. The parents of the children oftentimes are wide-awake to how valuable the hot lunch has been found to be in the city schools, but they can not see, under the existing circumstances in their school, how such an innovation can be managed.

Ingenuity Necessary

Experience has proved that the child who has even one hot dish at noon does much better, mentally and physically, than the one who has only cold food, especially in winter weather. The country child has quite as much right to the benefits of the practice as has the city child. Usually when there is a concerted long cooking.

The recipes for the dishes cooked for lunch may be given to the girls in school, discussed, in class and tried at home. The special dish for the day, which in winter is usually hot and in summer more often cold, can be prepared and served at noon by the girls in turn, working in groups. It will often be necessary to serve the food to the children at their seats—a practice which is especially objectionable if the school house is clean and well ventilated, the desks carefully cleaned before meals, and the building thoroughly aired to keep out flies, which are always dangerous around food, since they can convey to it the bacteria diseases.

Clean Hands: Essential

will to provide something of the sort, a way is found.

The situation, however, will require a teacher of ingenuity and of enthusiasm for her work. The simplest equipment includes a large kettle suitable to be used on the stove which heats the schoolhouse, measuring cup and spoons, paring knife, mixing spoon, dish pans, and towels.

It is seldom desirable to prepare more than one dish a day in a school, and this should, for the sake of variety, differ from day to day. The others can be brought from home. The choice of the dish to be cooked should be determined partly by what it is possible to do the way of cooking at the school, partly by what purchased or home grown food is available, and what the school garden or neighbor fields or woods afford, and partly by what the teacher has learned from experience is needed to go to the foods brought from home. The noonday meal as a whole will be appetizing and will provide needed nutrients as they are understood.

Clean hands should always be insisted upon, as well as clean spoons, dishes, etc., and individual drink cups. Furthermore, children should be taught not to drink out of other's cups or glasses or to use another's spoons or forks.

HOW ABOUT THE DAIRY COW?

This week some of our stockmen are disposing of fat cows for from $40 to $45. They are selling because of having too many to winter, even if the price should be higher next spring. They are restricted as to the number they can place on the forest range and therefore will save by disposing of them now at the above prices.

The stockmen of this vicinity have never had a very good word for the dairy breed but right now the lowly Jersey, Juernsey and Holstein will bring in actual dollars to their owners in two months what they are selling their fat beef cows for. The cream shipped out of this place during each season tells a story. The silo is coming and the more intensive farming of the smaller acreage and the real money and standby of the small farm is going to be the cream check each month. Bear this in mind.

We have a big beef country, but there is also a place for the dairy cow and the sooner we get busy the sooner we are going to be more prosperous.
