

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Albert Oakerman was over from his Silver creek home yesterday.

G. W. Clevenger left yesterday morning for Portland to personally select some of the stock for the new furniture store he and associates are going to open in this city soon.

The concrete roadway to accommodate the new service station just erected by Earl Hagey on the corner across from the Tonawama building, is being put in.

Phil Smith arrived home the fore part of this week from taking a shipment of beef to the Portland market. On his return Mr. Smith went over into Idaho and bought a lot of Short Horn bulls and also some dairy cows.

Jay Gould, deputy post master, is sick and away from his duties. With both he and Post Master Locher out of the office it is working the force in charge at a disadvantage. Darrell Howser and W. W. Gould are giving aid to Mrs. Locher in her dilemma.

The entertainment following the regular session of the Eastern Star last Monday night was one of the most enjoyable of the series, it being the custom to give an entertainment once each month. Preparations are under way for a gathering of the children of Eastern Stars and Masons some time next month when the little ones will furnish the diversion.

Mrs. Mary L. Blott has decided to enter the race for county clerk at the primary election and her announcement appears in this issue. Mrs. Blott is a very competent woman who would do her full duty as a county officer. She has resided in this city for several years and has shown her ability as a business woman of a dependable character. Mrs. Blott pledges her undivided time to the office should she be elected. She has many friends who will give her support.

Readers of the Oregonian missed one of the (almost) daily features last Tuesday. Mayor Baker's picture didn't appear on any of the pages, at least of the edition that came out this way. It might have been included in a later edition of that date. Of course there was a nice piece about the mayor addressing the ladies at a dinner and gave us ideas of what a United States senator should be, and then again had him talk over the radio on Thursday night, so all in all it has not entirely neglected his candidacy for the senatorial toga.

"Fourth of July is the day which Burns will celebrate for opening the new railroad from Crane," says W. Barnes, who has arrived from Arney county. "There are now 12 miles of steel rails at Crane and May 1 the work of laying the rails will start. The 39 miles of rails should be laid in not to exceed 49 days. The railroad company has selected its depot site and the site for the sawmill has been selected. When the railroad is completed from Crane the equipment for the sawmill can be brought in and equipment for building the railroad beyond Burns into Bear valley will be assembled."—Oregonian.

Charles W. Ellis, state senator for Arney, Grant and Malheur counties, arrived at the Imperial yesterday. Senator Ellis is interested in the programme for developing eastern central Oregon and came here for the hearing today. Burns, which 50 years has waited rail connection with the outside world, will see this dream realized within the next four months. Several of the arguments to be made at the hearing center on the proposition of having a road pass through Burns to the north and to the south, and Burns is being to become a railroad center. Senator Ellis, who has served two terms in the legislature and one special session of legislature, is a candidate for reelection.—Oregonian.

"We want," explained P. H. Hall, mayor of Prineville, Or., "a railroad from Oregon from Burns to Prineville. Such a road will tap more than 600,000 acres of pine timber and 50,000 acres of irrigable land. A chamber of commerce of our region is strongly urging such a development and has adopted a set of resolutions in which the facts are stated. These resolutions will be submitted to the hearing held by the examiner of the interstate commerce commission in Portland this week." Since the Prineville man arrived in Portland there has been a foot of six inches of snow in his town and he is sending a message he received from home. The snow was gratefully received, for there has been little snow all winter and the snow is needed.—Oregonian.

duction program, the Ford Motor Company on Wednesday, March 12, reached the highest mark in its history when its domestic assembly plants produced a total of 7,456 cars and trucks.

This record-breaking figure does not include the daily output of 500 cars and trucks for export, not the production of the Manchester, England, and Ford of Canada plants which manufacture most of their own products.

The new production record is of special significance as it indicates the enormous demand being made throughout the country for Ford cars and trucks and the company's endeavor to bring its output up to the point where it will attempt to fill all requirements as to avoid repetition of the shortage which existed last spring when thousands of persons were disappointed in not being able to secure delivery of cars.

CARL W. WELKER DIES IN INDIANA

Carl W. Welker, well known theatrical man of this section for several years, who was formerly connected with Indianapolis, died at Indianapolis, Ind., on March 15th, according to a letter received by the manager of this paper on last Saturday morning from his brother, F. E. Welker, of New Castle, Pa.

Carl has been doing well in recent years and was making good. The writer had letters from him at intervals ever since he left this section, going first to Hawaii Islands to enter government police work but remaining there but a short time when he returned to the United States. He was well known in this section where he was active in theatrical work and also as a piano player.

The following is a clipping from a New Castle paper enclosed with the letter sent by his brother:

F. E. Welker of Harbor road received word last night of the death of his brother, Carl W. Welker, aged 46 years at his home in Indianapolis, Ind. He has been ill for some time with valvular heart trouble and his death occurred about 6:30 o'clock.

The deceased was well known in New Castle and for a time several years ago was chief inspector of the state highway department in this district. He was born and raised in Pittsburgh. At the time of the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he was a member of the 18th Pennsylvania regiment, Company G. He went to Columbus, O. at the inception of the war and enlisted in the 17th U. S. I. Co. He went to the Philippines with the regiment and served throughout the entire insurrection, being under fire on many occasions. Returning to the United States after his service there he re-enlisted in the United States coast artillery and was located at Fresno, Calif., for several years.

After completing his service in the army he went to Oregon where he was a member of the Forest Rangers. Coming out he served as chief inspector of the state highway department in this district for some time then went to North Carolina where he was chief inspector of the highway department. In road building. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the Independent Pipe Concrete company at Indianapolis.

He was married five years ago in New Castle to Laura Michaels and his widow and one son Carl Jr., survive. Also by a daughter, Catherine Welker, of Burns by a former wife.

He is survived by two brothers and one sister, William of Los Angeles, Cal., F. E. of this city and Mrs. Elvina Enz of Pittsburgh.

The remains will arrive at the home of his brother on the Harbor road probably some time today when funeral arrangements will be completed and announced.
