AN OPPORTUNITY TO CASH IN

Harney county should take advantage of securing additional funds and working with the National Forest in getting a hard surface road between this section and the John Day highway. Grant county is using $15,000 of its road bonds to build a road from the John Day highway to Bear valley and in so doing has received an additional $50,000 from the Forest development fund making a total of $75,000 available for the work.

Should Harney county raise $50,000 for such purpose it could secure twice that amount, at least, from the Forest development fund and have $150,000 available for the work.

Such an act would not add taxes under the plan possible, as this money would be simply borrowing from future gross receipts from the National Forest. At present this fund amounts to approximately $7,000 each year and with the cutting of timber within three years it would amount to approximately $25,000.

By taking advantage of this opportunity Harney county not only has a connection with the scenic John Day highway but adds materially to the convenience of its own citizens in the way of an outlet and making an attractive route for north and south travel. This county has much in common with Grant and with the timber development this intercourse and business relation will increase. The proposed road improvement is needed. The plan outlined gives the work added attractiveness as it can be done with no additional tax being placed upon the present taxable property. The added taxable property in the railroad, the consequent development that will follow the operation of the mill enterprises and general impetus given to agricultural development will be a thing that will demand such a move on our part.

our neighbors. We are approaching a greater activity and change in our condition than most of us realize. The only way to meet these conditions is to be prepared. It takes energy, foresight and good judgment in handling the problems before us.

The Burns Times-Herald recently chided the Oregonian for going to press with one issue without Mayor Baker's name or picture on the front page. The Oregonian explained very lucidly that Mr. Baker was such a ubiquitous gentleman that they could not keep his name and picture out of print. All of which said explanation was very satisfactory until we ask "How does the Portland Journal successfully keep Mr. Baker's picture off the front page?" Which question makes the Oregonian's explanation sound like just plain average, common, everyday editorial bunk.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

What McNary's Done.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—During the past seven years, since Senator McNary entered the United States Senate, Oregon has received $9,593,000 of government funds for the development of the agricultural industry of the state through irrigation and reclamation and for the development of its vast water power resources. This is almost three times as much as Oregon received during the previous eight years.

For the eight year period prior to 1917, when Senator McNary took his seat in the Senate, the total amount received by Oregon for irrigation and reclamation was $3,862,226.

Upon the acre for acre irrigable basis Oregon has received $25 per acre more in reclamation appropriations from the government than Idaho received; $19 more per acre than Washington received and $14 more than California has received during the same period.

Furthermore Senator McNary has introduced a bill in the present session of Congress carrying an authorization of $350,000,000 for the reclamation of lands by irrigation, drainage or dike. This bill also makes provision for the improvement and settlement of cutover lands, of which there are hundreds of thousands of acres in Oregon. The bill is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation, of which Senator McNary is chairman, and will be reported out favorably within a short time.

Commissioner D. W. Davis, of the Bureau of Reclamation, after citing the record of amounts received by Oregon through the efforts of Senator McNary, says:

"These totals do not include any amount appropriated in general terms for miscellaneous investigations or secondary projects, a considerable amount of which has been allotted and spent in Oregon."

Oregon is fortunate in having a capable representative of the type of Senator McNary at the head of the Irrigation and Reclamation committee in the U. S. Senate in that all matters pertaining to the development of the state's latent resources—the reclamation of arid, swamp and cut-over lands—which directly affects the interests of every section of the state, have to pass through and receive the approval of this committee in order to receive the consideration of the Senate, which is the court of last resort in matters of national legislation.

SUPPRESSED DESIRE

Members of the Junior class of the Harney County High gave a one act comedy yesterday afternoon entitled "Suppressed Desires" that was well presented. There were but three characters represented, Misses Belda Schwartz, Frances Hibbard and John Mothershead, taking the parts. These young people showed a most intelligent conception of the parts and it was so true to life these days that it should be given to a larger audience. Harney County High has some exceptional talent that would be a credit to any institution of learning. The writer considered it a privilege to witness this little playlet and recommends that it be made the nucleus for an entertainment given in a public place at some date in the near future.

In this connection it might be added that the children of this city gave one of the most attractive entertainments ever witnessed in Burns on last Friday evening at the Masonic hall when the Masonic Orders gave the children of Masons an evening of pleasure. However, it should have been put the other way round, as it was really the children that entertained the elders. In this entertainment several of high school age were featured and several of the grade school as well. The numbers were well staged and highly pleasing.

Burns has some remarkable young people and children that are its best asset. Older people, especially parents, should give them as much of their time as possible and encourage them in their work toward making men and women of such type as will be a credit to Burns. Why should we throw our young people so much on their own resources in their social activities when by supervision of the older heads it would be so easy to direct their efforts and minds toward worthwhile things rather than frivolous nothings that do not build up character? A greater interest in the young people would mean much to this community in these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Anderson were in town this week from their ranch home out in the valley. Although it is not a great distance out to the ranch this was Mrs. Anderson's first visit to town in three years.
