"THE OLD CREAM CAN"

Here is competition for Walt Mason today. Not let us hasten to say because of any attempt on our part to harness the muse but because R. M. Smith found something in the old home-town paper, the Wellsville (Mo.) Star, that makes a point in a clever way and brought it in for publication. It tells the story of the cream can and what it brings to the farm, we think it worth running thru.

It follows:
"I hear the cream cans rattling; Dad's coming back from town and I know that he is smiling for now he seldom wears a frown. The cream can is our life now. We pay as we go; it has given Old Man Credit his final knockout blow. The cows are in the pasture, the milk pan's in the spring, alfalfa in the barn loft; that is why we all can sing. We used to have one pay day in the fall of the year, and if our wheat crop failed us, it left us blue and drear. And now we have a pay day each sixth day after noon; the cream can never fails us; we love its rattling tune. No merchant ever duns us for our bill we cannot pay, for we pay cash for everything, the good old cream can way. The cream can with its rattle has made a different home; instead of always borrowing we now have things to lend. We set a better table and have more clothes to wear, enjoy a few luxuries; once all was plain and bare. And Dad has lost that worried look that stalked him day by day; he looks a great deal younger since the cream can came to stay. And when another baby comes we add another cow, and look around and trade a bit; annex another sow. The pigs and calves all fatten fine upon the skimmed milk, and grow and thrive in fat good health with coats as fine as silk. The proceeds from the stock and crop now go into the bank; the cream can has paid off our bills; we have the can to thank. If you are in a bad, bad fix, in debt and dread and blue, just get a big old cream can and a real good cow or two."

OBITUARY

Joseph Vivian Byerley was born at Burns, Oregon October tenth, eighteen hundred ninety-two. His childhood was spent in Burns and vicinity, and since that time he has resided in Otis Valley near Drewsey, Oregon.
He passed away May tenth, nineteen hundred twenty-four at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. N. Stallard, near Drewsey, at the age of thirty-one years and seven months. He leaves to mourn his departure, his mother, Mrs. L. N. Stallard; one sister, Mrs. Velfa Richardson, both of Drewsey; his father, M. A. Byerley, of Newport, Oregon; a grandfather, J. T. Barnes; a grandmother, Mrs. Emile F. Byerley; five aunts, one uncle and a number of cousins.

He was laid to rest in the cemetery at Drewsey, May eleventh, 1924.
B. W. SHAVER, Minister.

The above tells the story of a young life that was one of suffering and care for several years. The young man was a member of a pioneer family and the sympathy of the many acquaintances goes out to them. The mother faithfully cared for him during his illness and showed her deep devotion in the trials and discouragements.

NATHAN BROWN GRADUATES IN JUNE

Oregon Agricultural College, May 13, Nathan Brown, son of Ben Brown of Burns and a graduate of the Harney County High School, is a candidate for graduation from the school of mines on June 9.

Mr. Brown has been active in his work while in O. A. C. making a very creditable average in his school work. He is a member of Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, the Federated engineers, and he Masonic club. He is also president of the Miners' club.

During the war Mr. Brown spent nine months in the officers training school at O. A. C. Since that time he has taken an active part in military work, attaining the rank of captain and adjutant in the infantry unit of the R. O. T. C.

Mr. Brown is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon national social fraternity.

GIVE BRIDGE PARTY

(Baker Democrat)
The first of a series of bridge parties was given yesterday by Mrs.

George Elliott, Mrs. Oliver McCord, Mrs. Sylvester Hughes, and Mrs. Eric Swanson at the home of Mrs. Swanson on Second street. Spring blossoms and beautiful plants formed the scheme of decorations.
Honors went to Mrs. Paul Pollman and Mrs. G. G. Gordon. Delicious refreshments were served.
Mrs. Swanson was formerly Alice Hamilton.

FARM POINTERS

(From Department of Industrial Journalism Oregon Agricultural College.)
No easy treatment has been developed for the control of wild morning-glory. No spray or chemical has worked successfully in the dry land districts that can be had at a reasonable cost. Salt will kill them but it also ruins the land and the cost is prohibitive. The clean fallow method is the only successful and practical one known at the Oregon station. This method when carried out to prevent all leaf growth above ground is effective. It is expensive but more economical than any other yet developed.

Weeds in the fence rows and along the edges of the fields in Oregon are to be regarded as objectionable. Recent investigations by the experiment station has shown that weeds often act as agencies for the spread of virus diseases such as potato or tomato mosaic of branches. The weeds harbor the disease as well as the insects which are responsible for the spread of the disease. Weeds in the fence corners also serve as a shelter for rodent and insect pests as well as a seed supply for the adjoining fields.

Feeding garbage to hogs is a practical means of pork production when properly managed. The garbage is collected often and is free from injurious articles such as tin cans and glass. Raw garbage is a much more desirable feed than cooked garbage because it gives the hogs a better chance to reject the unpalatable food. Immunizing against cholera is recommended by the Oregon station, since raw meat scraps may contain these germs.

Stockmen are beginning to contract hay for next winter, figuring that their crops this summer will be much less than usual. Hay in the Bonanza section has been contracted at $10, and a number of tons at New Pine Creek have also been bought at this price. Some of the West Side farmers are holding last year's crop at $15. It is understood that there is much old hay left in Merrill Butte valley and also in the Powell Butte country, and sheepmen will, no doubt, buy their hay where they can get the most for their money—Lakeview Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mustard left Thursday for Quinn River ranch of the Pacific Live Stock Co. where they will be employed on the ranch.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to the many friends in Drewsey and Burns for their kind assistance and sympathy during the recent bereavement of the loss of our son and brother.
MRS. L. N. STALLARD,
MRS. VELFA RICHARDSON.
