

ILL LUCK

—Never sees the sun come up; wears out the seat of his trousers; is more anxious to get all he earns than to earn more than he gets.

—Is careless with his credit, stalls off the grocer, makes excuses to the butcher.

—Rides in an auto when he should walk; cannot deny himself or his family the luxuries they ask; buys everything "$1 down and $1 a minute."

—Is never prepared and ready, cannot come to a decision and hesitates when opportunity knocks.

—Never takes counsel with his banker, makes foolish investments; is an easy prey to the stock promoter.

—Cannot save, has no bank account, is always in trouble and dies penniless.

"If a man knows not how to save as he goes, keeps his nose to the grindstone."
