

LUCK

LUCK—rises early to catch that morning train; is busy at the forge, bench or desk; is persistent; wastes no time; is not easily discouraged.

LUCK—fastens the door before the horse is stolen; keeps that scalding water out of baby's reach; has forethought; is prepared for opportunities; has plans and executes them.

LUCK—denies himself that auto until he can afford to buy and maintain it; avoids luxury; pays cash, respects himself and is respected.

LUCK—laughs at misfortune; has all the good positions; draws all the big salaries; spends less than he earns—has a SAVINGS ACCOUNT and is financially independent!

Plates were laid for twenty-five and it proved a very delightful affair with congenial company. The guests had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Olson sing with Mrs. Samuel Harris as accompanist.

Wouldn't it be better to have some work to do with a big lot of outside money put in circulation, even if it did add a little to taxes than to go through the entire season in idleness and no money to pay the lesser tax?

There are roads we might build with a big help from outside sources in the way of finances if we would take advantage of the opportunity.

People should remember that the local Chautauqua committee and guarantors have the advantage of season tickets sold in advance of the opening only. Help out in financing this big undertaking. It is worth the effort as Chautauqua brings to us the better things that tend to improve social conditions and create an interest in higher morals.

Mrs. A. E. Murphy and her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Williams, arrived here from Seattle last Saturday and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Smith, the latter being daughter and sister respectively.
