VALLEY VIEW HOSPITAL

Miss I. M. Hill, in charge of the Valley View hospital, informs this paper that another graduate nurse has been added to the staff and has particular charge of the surgery. The new addition is Miss Kemmerlin, of Portland.

Miss Hill reports the hospital has been quite well filled with patients now for some time and she has just gotten a "breathing spell" since the arrival of Miss Kemmerlin.

Chas. Kuhl underwent a major operation on last Sunday and is now convalescing satisfactorily.

Mrs. B. F. Smith, the wife of Dr. Smith, who underwent an operation the previous week, is also improving nicely. Mrs. Smith has always taken an active interest in the sick folk at the hospital during her several years of work with her husband, and her own confinement in the institution as a patient reverses the order of things and now her friends have to visit her. The good reports of her recovery is welcome news to her many friends.

Mrs. R. E. Drake, another patient, is also reported recovering nicely from a major operation performed last week.

Miss Hill has been in active charge of the Valley View hospital for several weeks and has become better acquainted with this vicinity. She is well pleased with the hospital which she pronounced as one of the best appointed she has ever associated with.

TRUCK BACKS THROUGH PLATE GLASS

One of the Weinstein store delivery trucks was left in reverse gear in front of the grocery department store the other morning and when the driver cranked it the truck started backward at a rapid rate and with such force that it climbed the walk and backed into the plate glass front with the result that one of the large plate glass windows was broken. The car was stopped by striking a steel upright post and prevented further damage.

"THE GUILTY ONE" COMING

"The Guilty One," a Paramount picture featuring Agnes Ayres, comes to the Liberty Theatre tonight. The story is a picturization of the legitimate success of the same name, a mystery-drama with more than the usual line of thrills, comedy touches, pathos, etc. Joseph Henabery directed the production. Edward Burns plays opposite Miss Ayres in the leading role. Cyril Ring, Crawford Kent, Clarence Burton and Stanley Taylor play in support.

THE LADIES LIBRARY CLUB

(Contributed)

The Ladies Library Club met at the home of Mrs. G. N. Jameson on Saturday, Nov. 29th.

After a short business meeting the following program was rendered on Modern Writers:

Mrs. Eunice Thompson read a current event on "The Good Old Days" and Now, in which Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, comes to the defense of the modern youngster.

A song by Misses Arlene Jameson and June Thompson. We are Merry Zingarellas was much enjoyed and heartily encored.

One of the most interesting papers of the year was written and read by Mrs. J. J. Donegan on Criticism of Modern Writers. Giving Folstoy and Anatole France as the two most distinguished men of letters of the nineteenth century.

Mrs. Wm. Farre sang the beautiful song Fallen Leaves, the appreciation core, she responded with Come Mr. Dream Maker.

Mrs. G. N. Jameson read a piece on Creative Art of America and a short biography of Emerson Hough closing with a poem, a satire on the Farmer's Wife Having No Occupation.

Refreshments and a social hour closed the meeting.

Hostesses with Mrs. Jameson were Mrs. C. C. Page, Mrs. Wm. Farre, Mrs. J. J. Donegan, Mrs. Eunice Thompson and Mrs. Rodney Cozad.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Page on Dec. 13th.

SENATE RECEIVES APPOINTMENT FOR CONFIRMATION

The appointment of James J. Donegan as register as well as receiver of the U. S. land office at Burns was a vacation appointment and necessitated it being submitted to the U. S. Senate for confirmation. This formality has been made to the extent of submitting his name according to a telegram from Senator McNary received by Mr. Donegan on last Tuesday. Senator McNary added the comment that he should receive information of confirmation within a few days.

Dave Jones and Pat Linehan were over from their Silver creek ranch home during the week.

Carroll Cecil was in town this week but didn't give the manager of this great religious weekly a chance to interview him. Whether this was studied or he has become somewhat exclusive we are not able to say but will vouch for his good behavior at any rate.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hacker took their departure last Monday for Yuba City, California where he has a contract. Mr. Hacker was a busy contractor in Burns during the past season and announced on his departure that he was returning early in the spring prepared to remain permanently in this field as he is sure of much work in his line during the coming years.

KING OF WILD HORSES DOES THRILLING STUNTS

In all the years of his wild, care-free, outlaw life, the beautiful, powerful Black had never known defeat among his own, or capture by man. He was of a breed that knew not bit nor bridle—a king among his kind—the vast plains for his kingdom, a herd of mares for his subjects, a high cliff for his throne, from which he kept eternal vigilance.

Many men had seen the Black and chased him, but none had ever caught him because, if some persevered long enough to drive him into a tight corner, he had one last trick—there was a gap that no other horse had ever leaped without plunging to death!

The Black is the beautiful, wild stallion whose story of love and fidelity is told in "The King of Wild Horses," a Pathepicture produced by Hal Roach, that it is said, brings to the screen something entirely unique in screen drama, and at the same time thrilling.

The horse, untamed and powerful, really a king among his kind, performs many daring stunts. Without a rider on his back he leaps across a broad chasm; he fights off a white stallion who tries to steal his herd; he rushes into the fiery furnace of a forest fire; he dives from a high cliff into a swirling whirlpool; he races like the wind leaving other horses far behind his dust. A magnificent, noble creature.

"The King of Wild Horses," will be the attraction at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Edno Murphy, Leon Bary, Charles Parrott, Pat Hortigan and Sidney De Grey play the leading roles. Fred Jackman directed.
