Direct Marketing Plan Proving Successful In Face of Jumpy Market. How It Is Done.

Especially for The Times-Herald
By Robert Fuller
Through Autocaster Service

S. Paul, Minn., December 30—Wheat growers of the United States, both organized and unorganized, are watching with keenest interest the wheat marketing in Canada. Up there, between 50 and 65 per cent of the growers have risked their future hopes in a pool of their grain, in the effort to bring into their own pockets some of the millions of dollars in annual profit on wheat.

If Canadian wheat growers can solve the marketing problem of their three to four hundred million dollar crop each year, then American wheat growers will be convinced that the plan is practical and can be applied to their own billion dollar harvest.

Briefly, with wheat prices sticking close around the $1.50 mark, it might be said that the Canadian growers' plan is receiving the acid test. However, those well informed on the subject insist that the growers are sticking to their guns and that they have come through 1924 with flying colors and are more firmly entrenched to carry on with the 1925 yield.

Bankers Are Financing the Growers' Organization

First of all the Canadian wheat growers and bankers are working hand in hand. The province banker realizes that the farmer's welfare is his welfare, and he has made and is making it his business to see that the wheat growing farmer is financed.

The first year, which was in 1923, the Canadian Bankers Association financed the wheat growers organization with approximately $15,000,000 at 6 1/2 per cent. This year, the bankers raised the ante to $25,000,000 at 6 per cent.

The association was organized and is conducted as follows: First of all, one cent a bushel is deducted from the grower's price, this going to a reserve fund. At this stage of the fight, another 2 cents a bushel is deducted for the purpose of building grain storage quarters and elevators.

This year the association has paid $1 per bushel on delivery. At the end of the season all funds received for wheat in excess of that price will be divided pro rata. The number of Canadian wheat growers pooling their grain this year has been reported between sixty-five and ninety thousand.

As a result of this wheat pooling by growers, Canadian bankers report that more than fifty per cent of the farmers will be able to meet their interest payments on mortgages this year, a condition that has not existed since shortly after the war.

Binding Contract with Growers Prevents Bolt

The farmers' contract with the organization is binding to the extreme, made so to prevent the timid from rushing to an independent market when prices break sharply, as happened once since November 1, when the Winnipeg high for hard wheat adjusted to Chicago quotations.

If the wheat grower bolts and delivers to independent buyers he must pay a fine of 25 cents per bu. and is subject to suit by the association. The cost of joining is $3, this going to the general expense fund.

The marketing or selling agency of organization is of course of first importance. The year just closing has been a very jumpy one in wheat. The organization has a good sales agency, small it is admitted, but efficient. A margin of 15 cents is set at all times between the cash payment to growers and the market price.

Growers Claim Market Has Been Stabilized

These organized Canadian wheat growers are convinced that if their pooling proves successful by the time all of the 1924 crop has been disposed of, that the movement will have done more to stabilize wheat prices and restore prosperity to the wheat areas than all of the loan plans and political efforts ever dreamed of.

It is but a short step from the wheat fields and grain markets of Canada to those of the United States. Success there, such as is indicated, is sure to be followed here, because—even though there is a great difference in the number of wheat growers there and in the United States, the Canadian movement has been on a large enough scale to prove the plan feasible with any number. Especially with positive proof of success ahead to hold American membership in line and true to the organization pledge.
